Russia Proposes Big 4 Talks

Appeals Court Gives Assist To Mahoney

Circuit Judge Is Instructed To Hear Case

Previously Refused To Consider Ballot Invalidation Move

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—George P. Mahoney got an assist from the Maryland Court of Appeals today in his five-week-old fight to win the Democratic nomination for governor from Dr. H. C. Byrd.

The court directed Circuit Judge William P. Horney in Centreville to hear further arguments in Mahoney's bid to have ballots thrown out which he hopes would give him the combined seven unit votes of Talbot and Queen Annes counties.

Horney previously refused to hear the arguments, upholding a demurrer filed by Byrd and election supervisors of the two counties which held the supervisors acted within their authority. He said in his opinion "there isn't any authority in law for the court to compel the supervisors to withdraw and reject the alleged invalid ballots."

Previous Suit Cited

The Court of Appeals apparently disagreed and cited a previous election suit in its brief decision. The decree was returned three hours after the court finished hearing arguments and did not contain further amplification. A complete opinion is to be returned later.

The action, Mahoney's first legal victory since he took to the courts after the June 28 primary in the effort to defeat Byrd, raised several possibilities.

It could postpone for as much as several weeks the nomination of a candidate by the Democratic state convention, which is waiting for the outcome of lawsuits to formally name its opponent for Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin in November.

More importantly, it could tip the scales of victory to Mahoney if he won his arguments in Centreville to have ballots thrown out, provided these ballots would be enough to give him Queen Annes three unit votes and the four in Talbot. This would offset the 80-72 edge in unit votes held by Byrd.

Mahoney Faces Uphill Fight

Mahoney faces an uphill fight despite claims of one of his spokesmen in Baltimore that this could swing the nomination to the 52-year-old Baltimore paving contractor.

Even if he obtained court authority to have ballots reviewed in Talbot and Queen Annes he would have to have more Byrd votes rejected in both counties than the Mahoney votes, which Byrd attorneys have said they'll also fight to have thrown out.

Mahoney would need both counties to take the nomination. Winning Talbot only would tie him with Byrd in unit votes and the former University of Maryland would get the nomination on the basis of popular votes. Winning Queen Annes would leave Mahoney two unit votes shy.

Gen. Marshall Great Patriot, Ike Declares

President Defends Target Of McCarthy, Woodring Attacks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower today extolled Gen. George C. Marshall as a selfless, brilliant and dedicated patriot who shouldn't have to reap the "worry reward" of attacks on his loyalty and character.

Eisenhower, "almost emotional" by his own description, was replying to the charge originated by former Secretary of War Harry Woodring and circulated by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) that Marshall would "sell out his own grandmother for personal advantage."

"I would like to say," Eisenhower told his news conference, "and I have been saying that ever since I first knew him well, that he to me has typified all that we call—or that we look for—in what we call on American patriot.

"I saw many things he did that were proof, to me at least, of his selflessness. . . .

"Sorry Reward"

"I think it is a sorry reward, at the end of at least 50 years of service to this country, to say that he is not a loyal, fine American, and that he served only in order to advance his own personal ambitions.

"I can't imagine anyone that I have known in my career of whom this is less so than it is in his case."

The White House authorized direct quotation of Eisenhower's tribute during a news conference to the retired Army chief of staff, who served also as secretary of state and secretary of defense.

Woodring's charge, made in a letter last June 23, was put into the Congressional Record last Monday by McCarthy as part of McCarthy's reply to moves of censure against him.

General Accused Of Sellout

One of the things McCarthy's critics want to censure him for is a senate speech June 14, 1951 when the senator accused Marshall of being "steeped in falsehood."

Woodring's letter said that on Marshall's 1945 mission to patch up a peace in China, Marshall acted under orders from the State Department and President Truman even though he was military strategist enough "to know that he was selling out to the Reds."

Slain Suspected Robber Identified As Top Fugitive

SPOKANE, Aug. 4 (AP)—A masked suspected robber who was shot and killed in a gun battle last night was identified by the sheriff's office today as one of the nation's "10 most wanted men."

Carl Zibulka, the sheriff's fingerprint expert, said an examination of the man's prints checked with those of Lloyd Reed Russell, 33, wanted in Michigan for robbery, burglary, assault and unlawful flight to avoid confinement.

Deputies killed him in front of a supermarket last night after he and another masked man, hiding in a car opened fire.

The other man, Norman J. Wyatt, 22, started to fight but was subdued.

McCarthy Probe Committee May Be Named Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) predicted tonight a six-member special committee to investigate charges of unbecoming conduct against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) will be named tomorrow.

Knowland told newsmen he thinks the announcement should be made before the full Senate. Previously he had indicated the names of those chosen might be made public tonight.

Although many senators have said they would decline to serve on the group for various reasons, Knowland said there was "no problem" about naming the personnel.

Nixon To Name Group

Vice President Nixon is to appoint the committee, under terms of a resolution passed Monday by the Senate, but he will act on recommendations of the majority and minority leaders.

The committee is to investigate the varied charges brought against McCarthy by Sens. Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark), Morse (Ind-Ore) and others, and report back before Congress adjourns.

For the three Republican memberships on the special committee, Knowland was said to be working from a list that included Sens. Martin (Pa), Thye (Minn), Millikin (Colo), Bennett (Utah), Crippa (Wyo), Barrett (Wyo), Hickenlooper (Iowa), Carlson (Kan), Case (SD) and Payne (Me).

Demo Prospects Listed

In the efforts of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic Senate leader, to fill the Democratic posts, these senators were said to be under close consideration:

Byrd (Va), George (Ga), Russell (Ga), Stennis (Miss), Hayden (Ariz), Daniel (Tex), Sparkman (Ala), Holland (Fla(, Pastore (RI), Edwin C. Johnson (Colo) and Ervin (NC).

While there was an obvious reluctance among many senators to serve on the special group, both Knowland and Lyndon Johnson reported they had received no turndowns.

Kremlin Calls For European Security Pact

Proposal Is Labeled Move To Block EDC Approval By France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Russia, in a surprise move, today called for a new Big Four foreign ministers meeting to consider Moscow's plan for joining Eastern and Western European nations in a giant security pact.

Top American officials promptly labeled the Soviet proposal as a last minute maneuver aimed at blocking French approval of the six-nation European army project.

Russia's new proposal, they said, represents a warmed-over version of previous offers, notably the one of July 24, already rejected as unacceptable by Britain, France and the United States.

Fall Meeting Proposed

Russian ambassadors in Washington, London and Paris almost simultaneously handed notes to the Big Three foreign offices, formally proposing the new East-West meeting.

American officials said the Soviets proposed the conference convene in September or October.

A Soviet spokesman also reported the note mentioned the possibility of discussing some aspects of the long-deadlocked plans for uniting Eastern and Western zones of Germany.

Secretary of State Dulles foreshadowed quick rejection of the Russian proposal two weeks ago, saying new conferences with Russia would not be profitable unless the Kremlin changes its basic attitude of hostility toward the West.

Western Experts To Meet

Today's move by the Soviet came on the eve of a London meeting of American, British and French experts who have been assigned to reply to the Russian proposal of July 24. That proposal called for conferring on a security system which would embrace all Europe.

The newest version calls for a preliminary meeting by the foreign ministers to prepare the groundwork for a later general European conference.

The Russian plan obviously would force the West to disband the 14-nation North Atlantic pact as well as the European army and Mediterranean defense arrangements.

John Is Granted Political Asylum By East Germany

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—The East German Communist regime announced today it has granted political asylum to former West German security chief Otto John. Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl said John promised to "use all my strength to advocate reunification of Germany and to fight the threatening danger of war."

Grotewohl told the cheering lower house of the East German Parliament that John had written him a letter expressing "sincere thanks" for the sanctuary granted by Red authorities.

Crossed Border July 20

John, 44, headed West Germany's Office for Protection of the Constitution—the West zone's FBI—for nearly four years. He crossed into Soviet-run East Berlin July 20. The East zone radio has since broadcast three statements in which John attacked an alleged resurgence of Nazism and militarism in Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Bonn government.

Grotewohl said John fled east "realizing it would be better to protect the German people from a regime hostile to the people and from war than to be responsible for protecting such a regime."

Gehlen May Succeed John

Grotewohl's announcement came 12 hours after an East German communique claiming mass arrests of American "spies" and agents of the Gehlen organization, an undercover West German intelligence agency financed by the United States.

Former Lt. Gen. Reinhold Gustav Gehlen, head of the Gehlen agency and wartime director of Hitler's intelligence on the Soviet front, has been mentioned in Bonn as likely to become West German security chief.

Poland Protests

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Poland tonight handed a strong protest note to Britain demanding the return of a Polish seaman who sought asylum in this country.

The seaman, Antoni Klimowicz, 24, a stowaway, was removed from the Polish ship Haroslaw Dabrowski last Saturday night by London police.

Part Of Foreign Aid Cut Restored

Conferees Act After Ike Deplores Slash

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower won a $319,040,000 restoration of foreign aid funds in Congress today shortly after telling a news conference the Senate cuts yesterday were so deep they would hurt this country badly.

The President termed the Senate action very unfortunate and added there seems to be a lack of comprehension about what the Kremlin is doing in the world.

Before passing the authorization bill yesterday, the Senate cut the figure to something under $2,700,000,000. This was more than 700 millions below the President's $3,448,000,000 request and more than 600 millions under the figure approved by the House.

Conference committees of the two houses got down to work quickly today composing differences. Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, came out of the first meeting to report an agreement to restore the total to above three billions.

The House voted a $3,368,608,000 authorization. But a Senate committee and the Senate itself chopped this by $638,080,000, slashing all items except 141 millions for technical cooperation.

Wiley said the Senate-House conferees agreed to put back $319,040,000 or exactly half of the total senatorial cuts. However, there remained many unresolved differences between the Senate and House bills.

Asked about the Senate cut of yesterday at his news conference, the President replied emphatically he thought the slash was very unfortunate.

He said the administration had cut the foreign aid program as far as it believed was safe and that the House already had trimmed it about another hundred million. He said he had no objection to the House cut because their guess was as good as his. But the newly voted cut was too deep and would hurt us badly, he added.

No Atom Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Senate-House conferees failed to reach expected agreement tonight on a compromise for disputed patent clauses in a bill opening atomic power to private industry. They will try again tomorrow.

Russians Warned Against Drinking With Strangers

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Anybody in the Soviet Union who is chatty or who accepts a drink from a stranger is bait for foreign spies, Moscow Radio warned Russians today.

Calling for increased vigilance, the broadcast said "foreign intelligence services are endeavoring to use remnants of capitalism in the consciousness of a certain part of the Soviet people."

The broadcast warned:

"Foreign intelligence service agents make a special point of finding people who like to have a drink because, as the saying goes, a drunken person says that which a sober person thinks."

Demos Head Off M'Arthur Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Objections by two Democrats blocked House action today on a resolution "tendering the gratitude of Congress" to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

The bill was among several hundred private bills brought up for consideration under procedure which permits them to be blocked by objections of at least two members. It had been cleared by the House Armed Services Committee.

The objections came from Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa) and Rep. Celler (D-NY) and automatically sent the bill back to the committee.

Eberharter told reporters he objected to consideration of the bill under procedure not permitting debate.

Celler said he was not opposed to the bill but "I don't like a thing of this importance to be brought up without an opportunity for some discussion."

Army Will Send Guided Missile Unit To Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The announced dispatch of an Army guided missile battalion to Europe today foreshadowed a further reinforcement of the American atomic weapons arsenal overseas.

A unit equipped with 10 launchers for "Corporal" guided missiles, the 259th Field Artillery Battalion, is the outfit selected to introduce the Army's faster-than-sound missile to Europe.

Already on the line of defense with the Army in Europe are five battalions containing 30 big atomic cannon. The Air Force has already stationed one squadron of "Matador" medium range pilotless bombers in Europe and a second will be on the way there within a few weeks.

"Honest John" Is Newcomer

The Army has another new missile already in the hands of troops in the United States, the huge "Honest John" heavy bombardment weapon. Units equipped with these big missiles, perfected for use with either atomic or conventional high explosive warheads, are known to be training for near-future deployment overseas.

The "Corporal" missile is propelled by a powerful rocket motor and guided by radar and other electronic devices to its target at a speed several times that of sound. Its range is known to be at least 100 miles and with an atomic warhead it could be used day or night and in all kinds of weather to destroy troop concentrations or key defense points deep behind an enemy's front lines.

"Matador" Has 500-Mile Range

The Air Force's "Matador" has a considerably longer range, about 500 miles. The "Matador" would be used to plaster enemy airfields and middle distant targets.

"Honest John" is a short range missile designed for use against heavy fortifications and strong points or against concentrations of troops near the front line—should any field commander in the atomic age be so careless as to provide such a lucrative target. This heavy bombardment missile is aimed like a conventional artillery gun and once the missile takes off in the desired direction it will be unguided.

British Supersonic Fighter Plane Tested

BOSCOMBE DOWN, England, Aug. 4 (AP) — Britain's first fully supersonic fighter, capable of sustained level flight beyond the speed of sound, made its maiden flight today.

Built by the English Electric Co., makers of the Canberra, Britain's first jet bomber, the new fighter is known as the P1. It is powered by two Armstrong Siddeley Sapphire turbojets.

Russia Complains Again

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Russia has complained to the United States again that American military planes are systematically flying over Soviet merchant ships in the Formosa area in violation of the freedom of the seas, Moscow radio reported tonight.

Diamond Smugglers Stopped By X-Ray

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Four persons were held under federal bail today, after a routine X-ray were concealed in 22 cellophane $200,000 in diamonds into this country.

The diamonds were flown into Idlewild airport Monday. They were concealed in 22 cellophon packets placed in the hollowed out sides of a wooden crate which contained a cut glass pitcher and two glasses of nominal value, and was shipped from Germany.

Blood Transfusions End

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, Aug. 4 (AP)—Blood transfusions ended today for Eddie Philips, 6, who bled for 12 days following a tonsilectomy. The youngster was given blood for 27 days following the operation.

The attending surgeon, while cautious, indicated today that Eddie has a fine chance to recover.

Chevalier Granted U. S. Visa After Turndown

PARIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—French music hall and film star Maurice Chevalier was granted permission to enter the United States today after an apparent change of mind by the State Department.

The U.S. Embassy here would give no reason why Chevalier had been granted a visa after being turned down previously.

The embassy said Chevalier applied for the visa last month and it was granted today. Press officers would give no further comment.

The versatile star is now 65 and has no plans for retirement. A Hollywood movie based on his life—reportedly starring Danny Kaye—was called off because of his visa troubles.

House Passes Immunity Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The House passed overwhelmingly today a bill designed to force reluctant witnesses to testify on national security matters by granting them immunity from prosecution.

But the House bill, approved 293-55, differs sharply from a measure on the same subject passed by the Senate last year, and neither will become law unless the two houses can agree in the few days before adjournment.

Atty. Gen. Brownell has asked for some such law.

The House also passed, by voice vote, a bill to speed up the conviction and punishment of witnesses on contempt charges for failure to answer questions before congressional committees.

This measure, which goes to the Senate, would permit a congressional committee to go to federal court for an order directing the witness to answer. Failure to comply would place the witness in contempt of court and subject him to immediate penalties.

Nudists Evoke No-Clothing Rule To Thwart Preacher

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—About 20 bare-chested nudists stopped a crusading evangelist at the gateway of Sunshine Gardens today and wouldn't let him go any farther unless he obeyed the rules.

To do that he had to take off his clothes. He refused. After considerable scuffling he landed on the ground.

Dr. Braxton B. Sayer, a radio preacher from Fort Smith, Ark., said he wanted to take pictures to expose "the national threat of nudism."

He said he has been broadcasting since Monday over 27 stations in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kentucky and Missouri. Sawyer said he is obtaining information with a movie camera and a tape recorder to help pass an anti-nudism bill in those four states.

Equipped with what he called an invitation to attend the annual convention of the American Sunbathing Assn. at the gardens, Sawyer approached the gate.

But he was told by Elmer J. Adams, proprietor, he still must abide by the rules and 20 male nudists reinforced him. Sawyer said they'd better call the police, if they intended to keep him out. They did.

Two police officers, however, decided they needed help. They called Calhoun County Prosecutor F. Jack Miller.

Sawyer began to take pictures from the gateway. One nudist attempted to block the camera. Sawyer lunged at him. The nudist stepped aside and in the melee, Sawyer landed on the ground.

Later Sawyer still fully clothed, made his way in, took some pictures of clothed nudists, and left. He said he had to keep faith with the people who wanted him to continue his crusade.

Mrs. Annie Lee Moss Again Suspended From Army Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, who swore before Sen. McCarthy's subcommittee that she never had been a Communist, was suspended for a second time today from her job with the Army Signal Corps.

The Army reopened the case, it said, "on the basis of information which was not previously available and which has not been satisfactorily resolved by an investigation." What the information is, the Army didn't specify.

The Negro woman was given 30 days to present her side of the case to a security hearing board.

McCarthy told newsmen he had not heard of Mrs. Moss' new suspension until reporters told him about it.

"This is a good healthy indication they are tightening up security regulations," he said. "Bob Stevens (secretary of the Army) should be complimented on it."

One charge raised by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) in the Senate fight over condemning McCarthy was that the Wisconsin senator, before giving Mrs. Moss a chance to testify before his Senate Investigations subcommittee, strongly implied in public hearings that she "was known to be a member of the Communist party and that if she testified she would perjure herself."

McCarthy brought up Mrs. Moss' name and called her as a witness while holding hearings on what he called Communist coddling in the Army. A woman who worked as an undercover informant for the FBI in the Communist party here testified she knew an Annie Lee Moss as a Communist but failed to identify the Signal Corps worker by sight.

Warship Salvaged

GREENOCK, Scotland, Aug. 4 (AP)—The French destroyer Maille Breze, wrecked by an ammunition explosion in the Firth of Clyde in April, 1940, was raised today from her bed of mud 42 feet under water. She was towed to a sandbank where she will be pumped dry, patched and towed to a junk yard.

Boy, 2½, Fatally Beaten By Couple

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—The beaten body of a 2½-year-old boy, bearing a mass of welts, was found today in a West Side hotel.

Police said the child's mother and her common-law husband admitted beating the child because he misbehaved.

Police said tiny Joseph Mahoney had died either of continuous beatings or malnutrition.

His mother, Margaret Mahoney, 29, and Alfred Bates, 23, were taken to a police station for questioning.

Police quoted neighbors as saying they heard the mother screaming, "I'll teach you a lesson." The couple claimed they only struck the child below the knees with a white belt, police said. But Acting Lieut. Henry Devlin said the child's body was covered with "so many welts he looked like a zebra."

Police were summoned to the Hotel Briarton by the hotel's elevator operator, Seaman Middleton, after Bates had summoned him and showed him the child's body which he claimed to have found in a closet.

U. S. Renews Demands On China In Air Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The United States told Red China today it cannot dodge responsibility to the American government for Americans killed and injured in the shooting down of a British airliner by Communist fighters July 23.

Once more Washington demanded that the Communist regime at Peiping:

1. Punish the persons responsible "for the criminal attack" on the airliner and take measures to prevent any repetition.

2. Arrange compensation for three Americans who were injured in the crash and for the families of three others killed.

"I saw many things he did that were proof, to me at least, of his selflessness. . . .

"Sorry Reward"

"I think it is a sorry reward, at the end of at least 50 years of service to this country, to say that he is not a loyal, fine American, and that he served only in order to advance his own personal ambitions.

"I can't imagine anyone that I have known in my career of whom this is less so than it is in his case."

The White House authorized direct quotation of Eisenhower's tribute during a news conference to the retired Army chief of staff, who served also as secretary of state and secretary of defense.

Woodring's charge, made in a letter last June 23, was put into the Congressional Record last Monday by McCarthy as part of McCarthy's reply to moves of censure against him.

General Accused Of Sellout

One of the things McCarthy's critics want to censure him for is a senate speech June 14, 1951 when the senator accused Marshall of being "steeped in falsehood."

Woodring's letter said that on Marshall's 1945 mission to patch up a peace in China, Marshall acted under orders from the State Department and President Truman even though he was military strategist enough "to know that he was selling out to the Reds."

British Supersonic Fighter Plane Tested

BOSCOMBE DOWN, England, Aug. 4 (AP) — Britain's first fully supersonic fighter, capable of sustained level flight beyond the speed of sound, made its maiden flight today.

Built by the English Electric Co., makers of the Canberra, Britain's first jet bomber, the new fighter is known as the P1. It is powered by two Armstrong Siddeley Sapphire turbojets.

Russia Complains Again

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Russia has complained to the United States again that American military planes are systematically flying over Soviet merchant ships in the Formosa area in violation of the freedom of the seas, Moscow radio reported tonight.

Slain Suspected Robber Identified As Top Fugitive

SPOKANE, Aug. 4 (AP)—A masked suspected robber who was shot and killed in a gun battle last night was identified by the sheriff's office today as one of the nation's "10 most wanted men."

Carl Zibulka, the sheriff's fingerprint expert, said an examination of the man's prints checked with those of Lloyd Reed Russell, 33, wanted in Michigan for robbery, burglary, assault and unlawful flight to avoid confinement.

Deputies killed him in front of a supermarket last night after he and another masked man, hiding in a car opened fire.

The other man, Norman J. Wyatt, 22, started to fight but was subdued.

McCarthy Probe Committee May Be Named Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) predicted tonight a six-member special committee to investigate charges of unbecoming conduct against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) will be named tomorrow.

Knowland told newsmen he thinks the announcement should be made before the full Senate. Previously he had indicated the names of those chosen might be made public tonight.

Although many senators have said they would decline to serve on the group for various reasons, Knowland said there was "no problem" about naming the personnel.

Nixon To Name Group

Vice President Nixon is to appoint the committee, under terms of a resolution passed Monday by the Senate, but he will act on recommendations of the majority and minority leaders.

The committee is to investigate the varied charges brought against McCarthy by Sens. Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark), Morse (Ind-Ore) and others, and report back before Congress adjourns.

For the three Republican memberships on the special committee, Knowland was said to be working from a list that included Sens. Martin (Pa), Thye (Minn), Millikin (Colo), Bennett (Utah), Crippa (Wyo), Barrett (Wyo), Hickenlooper (Iowa), Carlson (Kan), Case (SD) and Payne (Me).

Demo Prospects Listed

In the efforts of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic Senate leader, to fill the Democratic posts, these senators were said to be under close consideration:

Byrd (Va), George (Ga), Russell (Ga), Stennis (Miss), Hayden (Ariz), Daniel (Tex), Sparkman (Ala), Holland (Fla), Pastore (RI), Edwin C. Johnson (Colo) and Ervin (NC).

While there was an obvious reluctance among many senators to serve on the special group, both Knowland and Lyndon Johnson reported they had received no turndowns.

Warship Salvaged

GREENOCK, Scotland, Aug. 4 (AP)—The French destroyer Maille Breze, wrecked by an ammunition explosion in the Firth of Clyde in April, 1940, was raised today from her bed of mud 42 feet under water. She was towed to a sandbank where she will be pumped dry, patched and towed to a junk yard.

Kremlin Calls For European Security Pact

Proposal Is Labeled Move To Block EDC Approval By France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Russia, in a surprise move, today called for a new Big Four foreign ministers meeting to consider Moscow's plan for joining Eastern and Western European nations in a giant security pact.

Top American officials promptly labeled the Soviet proposal as a last minute maneuver aimed at blocking French approval of the six-nation European army project.

Russia's new proposal, they said, represents a warmed-over version of previous offers, notably the one of July 24, already rejected as unacceptable by Britain, France and the United States.

Fall Meeting Proposed

Russian ambassadors in Washington, London and Paris almost simultaneously handed notes to the Big Three foreign offices, formally proposing the new East-West meeting.

American officials said the Soviets proposed the conference convene in September or October.

A Soviet spokesman also reported the note mentioned the possibility of discussing some aspects of the long-deadlocked plans for uniting Eastern and Western zones of Germany.

Secretary of State Dulles foreshadowed quick rejection of the Russian proposal two weeks ago, saying new conferences with Russia would not be profitable unless the Kremlin changes its basic attitude of hostility toward the West.

Western Experts To Meet

Today's move by the Soviet came on the eve of a London meeting of American, British and French experts who have been assigned to reply to the Russian proposal of July 24. That proposal called for conferring on a security system which would embrace all Europe.

The newest version calls for a preliminary meeting by the foreign ministers to prepare the groundwork for a later general European conference.

Boy, 2½, Fatally Beaten By Couple

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—The beaten body of a 2½-year-old boy, bearing a mass of welts, was found today in a West Side hotel.

Police said the child's mother and her common-law husband admitted beating the child because he misbehaved.

Police said tiny Joseph Mahoney had died either of continuous beatings or malnutrition.

His mother, Margaret Mahoney, 29, and Alfred Bates, 23, were taken to a police station for questioning.

Police quoted neighbors as saying they heard the mother screaming, "I'll teach you a lesson." The couple claimed they only struck the child below the knees with a white belt, police said. But Acting Lieut. Henry Devlin said the child's body was covered with "so many welts he looked like a zebra."

Police were summoned to the Hotel Briarton by the hotel's elevator operator, Seaman Middleton, after Bates had summoned him and showed him the child's body which he claimed to have found in a closet.

House Passes Immunity Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The House passed overwhelmingly today a bill designed to force reluctant witnesses to testify on national security matters by granting them immunity from prosecution.

But the House bill, approved 293-55, differs sharply from a measure on the same subject passed by the Senate last year, and neither will become law unless the two houses can agree in the few days before adjournment.

Atty. Gen. Brownell has asked for some such law.

The House also passed, by voice vote, a bill to speed up the conviction and punishment of witnesses on contempt charges for failure to answer questions before congressional committees.

This measure, which goes to the Senate, would permit a congressional committee to go to federal court for an order directing the witness to answer. Failure to comply would place the witness in contempt of court and subject him to immediate penalties.

Poland Protests

LONDON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Poland tonight handed a strong protest note to Britain demanding the return of a Polish seaman who sought asylum in this country.

The seaman, Antoni Klimowicz, 24, a stowaway, was removed from the Polish ship Haroslaw Dabrowski last Saturday night by London police.

No Atom Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Senate-House conferees failed to reach expected agreement tonight on a compromise for disputed patent clauses in a bill opening atomic power to private industry. They will try again tomorrow.

Nudists Evoke No-Clothing Rule To Thwart Preacher

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 4 (AP)—About 20 bare-chested nudists stopped a crusading evangelist at the gateway of Sunshine Gardens today and wouldn't let him go any farther unless he obeyed the rules.

To do that he had to take off his clothes. He refused. After considerable scuffling he landed on the ground.

Dr. Braxton B. Sayer, a radio preacher from Fort Smith, Ark., said he wanted to take pictures to expose "the national threat of nudism."

He said he has been broadcasting since Monday over 27 stations in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kentucky and Missouri. Sawyer said he is obtaining information with a movie camera and a tape recorder to help pass an anti-nudism bill in those four states.

Equipped with what he called an invitation to attend the annual convention of the American Sunbathing Assn. at the gardens, Sawyer approached the gate.

But he was told by Elmer J. Adams, proprietor, he still must abide by the rules and 20 male nudists reinforced him. Sawyer said they'd better call the police, if they intended to keep him out. They did.

Two police officers, however, decided they needed help. They called Calhoun County Prosecutor F. Jack Miller.

Sawyer began to take pictures from the gateway. One nudist attempted to block the camera. Sawyer lunged at him. The nudist stepped aside and in the melee, Sawyer landed on the ground.

Later Sawyer still fully clothed, made his way in, took some pictures of clothed nudists, and left. He said he had to keep faith with the people who wanted him to continue his crusade.

Chevalier Granted U. S. Visa After Turndown

PARIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—French music hall and film star Maurice Chevalier was granted permission to enter the United States today after an apparent change of mind by the State Department.

The U.S. Embassy here would give no reason why Chevalier had been granted a visa after being turned down previously.

The embassy said Chevalier applied for the visa last month and it was granted today. Press officers would give no further comment.

The versatile star is now 65 and has no plans for retirement. A Hollywood movie based on his life—reportedly starring Danny Kaye—was called off because of his visa troubles.

Diamond Smugglers Stopped By X-Ray

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Four persons were held, under federal bail today, after a routine X-ray were concealed in 22 cellophane $200,000 in diamonds into this country.

The diamonds were flown into Idlewild airport Monday. They were concealed in 22 cellophon packets placed in the hollowed out sides of a wooden crate which contained a cut glass pitcher and two glasses of nominal value, and was shipped from Germany.

Blood Transfusions End

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, Aug. 4 (AP)—Blood transfusions ended today for Eddie Philips, 6, who bled for 12 days following a tonsilectomy. The youngster was given blood for 27 days following the operation.

The attending surgeon, while cautious, indicated today that Eddie has a fine chance to recover.

Mrs. Annie Lee Moss Again Suspended From Army Job

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, who swore before Sen. McCarthy's subcommittee that she never had been a Communist, was suspended for a second time today from her job with the Army Signal Corps.

The Army reopened the case, it said, "on the basis of information which was not previously available and which has not been satisfactorily resolved by an investigation." What the information is, the Army didn't specify.

The Negro woman was given 30 days to present her side of the case to a security hearing board.

McCarthy told newsmen he had not heard of Mrs. Moss' new suspension until reporters told him about it.

"This is a good healthy indication they are tightening up security regulations," he said. "Bob Stevens (secretary of the Army) should be complimented on it."

One charge raised by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) in the Senate fight over condemning McCarthy was that the Wisconsin senator, before giving Mrs. Moss a chance to testify before his Senate Investigations subcommittee, strongly implied in public hearings that she "was known to be a member of the Communist party and that if she testified she would perjure herself."

McCarthy brought up Mrs. Moss' name and called her as a witness while holding hearings on what he called Communist coddling in the Army. A woman who worked as an undercover informant for the FBI in the Communist party here testified she knew an Annie Lee Moss as a Communist but failed to identify the Signal Corps worker by sight.

U. S. Renews Demands On China In Air Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The United States told Red China today it cannot dodge responsibility to the American government for Americans killed and injured in the shooting down of a British airliner by Communist fighters July 23.

Once more Washington demanded that the Communist regime at Peiping:

1. Punish the persons responsible "for the criminal attack" on the airliner and take measures to prevent any repetition.

2. Arrange compensation for three Americans who were injured in the crash and for the families of three others killed.

Ike Calls For Less 'Shouting' About U.S. World Leadership

Nation Merely "Trying To Be Good Partner"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for less "shouting" about American leadership in the world because, he said, this country is merely "trying to be a good partner."

Eisenhower told a news conference, too, that America must be "more imaginative" and "less niggardly" in finding ways to combat propaganda, subversion and bribery on which he said Russia is spending billions.

The President described cuts the Senate approved yesterday in the foreign aid program—it voted for a reduction of some 800 million dollars below the 3½ billions Eisenhower asked—as very unfortunate. He said they are too deep and will hurt us badly. Shortly thereafter a Senate-House conference committee moved to restore part of the funds.

Two other major pronouncements came out of the conference:

With fire in his eye and voice, the chief executive declared attacks on Gen. George C. Marshall were a "sorry reward" for 50 years of service to the nation by a man who has typified "all that we look for in what we call an American patriot." The President was commenting on a letter by former Secretary of War Harry Woodring, put into the Congressional Record by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). The letter said Marshall "would sell out his grandmother for personal advantage."

Once again Eisenhower spoke out strongly against admitting Communist China to the United Nations—under present conditions. But by saying we always are ready to see whether a sinner reforms and comes into the fold, he held the door open for eventual entry.

The President said he would be a little bit off his rocker to say he knows what conditions will be five years from now.

Eisenhower wore a vest with his rust colored suit and appeared cool while 140 reporters dripped perspiration on notebooks at the 25 minute conference. But he was obviously hot under the collar, at least, over Marshall's having been injected Monday into the Senate scrap over censuring McCarthy.

His concern was underscored by permission for direct quotation, which usually is forbidden at news conferences.

CAR-BUS CRASH KILLS ONE — A Harrisburg Railways Co. bus lies idle against the completely demolished side of a car after the two collided at Harrisburg, Pa., killing the passenger in the car. The victim, Joseph Ernst, 16, was a passenger in the car driven by Maynard Hoops, 16. No one in the bus was injured.

Other Airlines Hurry To Fill Gap In Air Transport As American Strike Continues

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The nation's largest airline—American—enters its sixth day of strike-imposed idleness tomorrow. The big question at stake—whether its pilots should or should not fly more than eight hours at a time—seemed nowhere near a settlement.

Other airlines hurried to fill the gap in air transport—and to reap the profits. Trains and buses took some of the overflow. But travel space in many quarters was short today, and many travelers were inconvenienced if not actually stranded.

In New York, American Airlines filed in federal court a 1¼ million dollar breach of contract suit against the striking AFL Air Line Pilots Assn.

C. R. Smith, American's president, told a news conference that ALPA "has deliberately and wilfully violated its contract, and the strike has seriously damaged the business and reputation of the company, has endangered the employment and livelihood of the company's employes and will continue to do so."

At Chicago, Clarence N. Sayen, ALPA president, said the filing of the suit would in no way hasten settlement of the dispute.

"American can relieve its self-imposed damages and get out from under its martyrdom of self-generated losses at any time by withdrawing their demand that the pilots forsake a flight limit of 23 years or be discharged," Sayen said. "The pilots have made no demand on the company."

ALPA ordered American's 1,200 pilots out at midnight Friday in protest against certain transcontinental nonstop flights which regularly exceed the traditional eight-hour flight limit.

The pilots also voted to strike against TWA and United Airlines for similar reasons, but did not actually walk out. TWA halted its disputed New York-Los Angeles westbound nonstop flight this week by introducing a stop at Chicago—ostensibly because of the volume of passenger traffic originating there. The TWA plane also changed its crew at Chicago.

United, however, continued to fly New York-Los Angeles nonstop, in more than eight hours. ALPA says it has no intention of striking against United because the American strike already demonstrated its protest and, a United walkout might unnecessarily aggravate the situation.

Airlines operating internationally, on long over-water flights, frequently fly for 12 hours or longer without stopping. Such aircraft carry an extra crew member capable of relieving the pilot and co-pilot.

Last fall, with the introduction of faster and larger super Constellation and DC7 transports, the airlines started their long-dreamed-of service — nonstop coast-to-coast flights in less than eight hours.

Experience soon developed, however, that while the planes could make the eastbound flights in less than eight hours most of the time, they were rarely able to do so on westbound flights, bucking unfavorable winds. Finally the ALPA complained to the Civil Aeronautics Administration. The CAA ordered the airline primarily involved, American, to file more realistic flight schedules. When this was not done, the CAA called the matter to the attention of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board ordered an investigation of the eight-hour flight rule. Meanwhile, however, it obtained from the CAA an opinion that continuation of flights longer than eight hours, pending a ruling, would not endanger flying safety.

The board also took note of a letter from 13 of American's pilots to Sayen, written last March, urging that ALPA refrain from interfering with American's DC7 coast-to-coast nonstop operations.

The pilots said such flights were "not a compromise with safety but one of the easiest and most enjoyable flights ever flown on American airlines."

Last June 14 the CAB voted, 3 to 2, to allow continuation of nonstop transcontinental flights longer than eight hours, pending its study of how long flight crews should be permitted to work without relief. The board said the nonstop flights may even be safer than interrupted flights because fewer landings and takeoffs are involved.

American says its pilots prefer nonstop transcontinental duty. The first pilot on a coast-to-coast DC7 gets $19,000 a year, the copilot $11,000, the flight engineer $7,000.

The pilots work 10 days a month, and are off 20.

The airline has argued the ALPA merely wants to force it to hire more pilots.

Threat Doesn't Worry Welch

WELLFLEET, Mass., Aug. 4 (AP)—Relaxed and smiling, Atty. Joseph N. Welch said today "I'm more interested in not being late for that nice salad my wife has for us" than about an apparent threat to his life.

Welch, whose expressive voice and features became known to millions of televiewers during the Army-McCarthy hearings, told a reporter "I had a fine night's sleep. The police are taking good care of me . . . there's nothing to worry about."

He said he knew the man who Washington, D. C., police said might be on his way here to "get" him and that the man "threatened to shoot me a couple of years ago if his wife died while she was in a hospital."

Asked "are you scared?" Welch grinned, "definitely not."

Wellfleet police meanwhile maintained a 24-hour guard on the cottage in this Cape Cod town where the Welch family has summered for some 15 years.

The guard was set up last night after Washington police phoned Boston police that they had a report a man armed with a pistol might be on his way here to "get" Welch.

Hall To Face Docking In Kan. Governor Race

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 4 (AP)—A shakeup of the Kansas statehouse was assured by yesterday's primary, although a Republican administration is likely to remain in control.

Republican Lt. Gov. Fred Hall—a bitter critic of retiring Gov. Edward F. Arn and the current GOP leadership—and Democrat George Docking won the hotly contested gubernatorial races.

NLRB Reverses Old Rule; Employers May Quiz Help

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board, reversing a long-established rule, decided 3-2 today that an employer may legally question his workers about union affiliation or activities if no implication of reprisal or benefit is involved.

The majority opinion emphasized, however, that the decision does not grant employers any blanket license to interrogate their employes.

"The test is whether, under all the circumstances, the interrogation reasonably tends to restrain or interfere with the employes in the exercise of rights guaranteed by the Taft-Hartley Act," it said.

The majority in the case was composed of Chairman Guy Farmer and members Philip Rodgers and Albert C. Beeson, all appointed by President Eisenhower. The dissenters, both appointed by former President Truman, were members Abe Murdock and Ivar Peterson.

The ruling was made in a case involving the Blue Flash Express, Inc., New Orleans, and Local 270 of the AFL Teamsters Union. The union charged the firm with unfair labor practices for calling in employes and questioning them about union membership.

The board, in dismissing the complaint, said the employer's action followed a demand by the union that it be recognized as bargaining agent for the firm's employes. The firm's general manager questioned employes individually about their union membership, the opinion said, to determine whether the union actually did represent a majority.

House OKs Bill To End "Bootlegging" Of Cars

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—A bill aimed to prevent "bootlegging" of new automobiles by unauthorized dealers was passed today by the House.

This sends it to the Senate where prospects for action are doubtful. The Senate Commerce Committee agreed today to ask the Senate to authorize an investigation of "bootlegging." An inquiry of any length would bar action before Congress adjourns.

The bill eases the anti-trust laws to permit car manufacturers to make and enforce agreements with franchised dealers against disposing of new-model cars to unauthorized dealers for cut-rate sale.

Youngsters Find $500 In Debris Of Old Barn

AUBURN, Ind., Aug. 4 (AP)—An old barn in their back yard was an eyesore, so Mr. and Mrs. Omar Webb had it torn down.

A neighbor boy, Merrill Cline Jr., was helping clear away the debris when he found some currency. His brother, Jerry, and the Webbs' daughter, Linda, gleefully joined the search.

The three uncovered $500 in old bills, most of it wrapped in a 1918 calendar. The Webbs sent the money to Washington to be replaced by new currency.

Golfer Loses Club

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Some people not only lose balls when playing golf—they lose clubs.

An ad in the lost and found column of the Harrisburg Patriot-News said:

"Lost—one number seven iron in high school ball field near high weeds."

Neely And All Six House Members Win In West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. M. M. Neely, 79, Bible quoting power in West Virginia politics for more than 40 years, and all six members of the state's delegation in the House of representatives won renomination in yesterday's primaries.

Six of eight Democratic candidates that Gov. William C. Marland backed for the state Senate went down to defeat.

Most of the interest generated in the quiet campaign was on Marland's attempt to get friends elected to the state Legislature.

Neely, a Democrat seeking his fifth term in the U. S. Senate, polled nearly three times as many votes as his three opponents combined, although he did little campaigning.

Unofficial returns from 2,677 of the 2,825 precincts gave him 158,569 votes, to 33,276 for Sam B. Chilton of Charleston, 13,183 for Homer H. May of St. Mary's, and 9,892 for Roy A. Warden of War.

The Republicans nominated Thomas B. Sweeney, former Wheeling insurance executive, to oppose Neely. It was the third time Sweeney has won a senatorial nomination.

Rep. Will E. Neal, only Republican in the state's six-member delegation, was not opposed in the 4th district. Former Rep. M. G. Burnside snowed under three other candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers had no contest for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd district, but one of the closer races developed on the Republican side there.

With 420 of the 469 precincts counted unofficially, Albert M. Morgan, Monongalia County prosecutor, had a 10,297 to 8,318 edge over Mrs. Davis Elkins, wife of a former U. S. senator.

The other Democratic congressional incumbents—Robert M. Mollohan of the 1st district, Cleveland M. Bailey of the 3rd, Mrs. Elizabeth Key of the 5th and Robert C. Byrd of the 6th—won their primary contests handily.

Rhee Hints He, Ike In Accord

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea said today he thinks President Eisenhower and he have reached "an understanding" but declined to elaborate.

The visiting dignitary spoke hurriedly with newsmen who met his plane on arrival in Chicago from New York. He will spend two days in Chicago on his U. S. tour.

Previously the 79-year-old Rhee called for resumption of the Korean War and the invasion of Red China by two million Asian soldiers, supported by the United States.

"Are you accomplishing what you had hoped?" he was asked.

"I don't know what I had hoped to accomplish," he replied. "But I think we arrived at a good understanding."

"Do you mean you have reached an understanding with President Eisenhower?"

"Yes," Rhee answered.

A news conference had been scheduled for later in the day but was called off at Rhee's request. He gave no reason but said he might see reporters at another time.

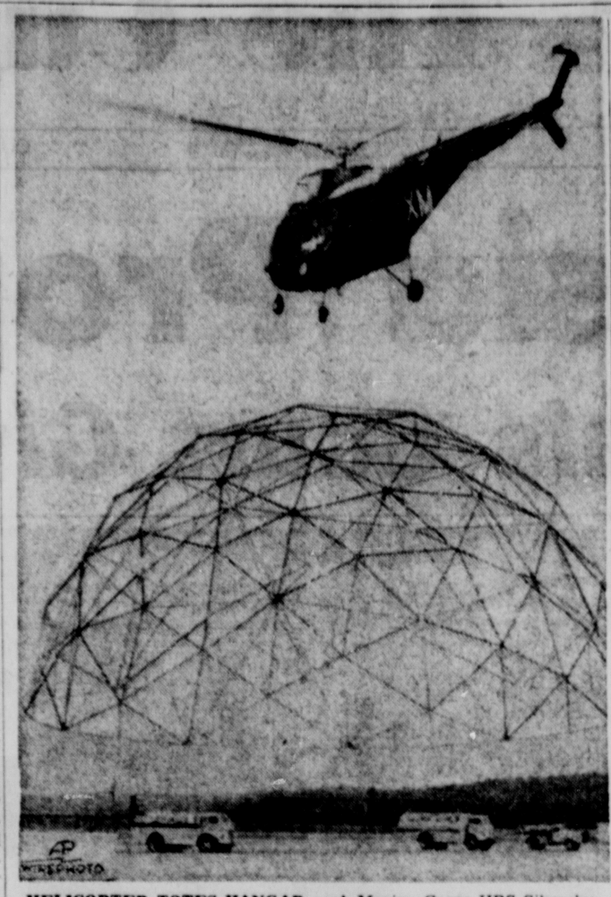
Leonard To Oppose Michigan Governor

DETROIT, Aug. 4 (AP)—Republican Donald S. Leonard, 51-year-old former state and Detroit police commissioner, will oppose Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams' bid for an unprecedented fourth term as chief executive of Michigan.

Leonard, who rose from a state trooper, made good yesterday on his second try for the GOP nomination for governor. Unexpectedly carrying the outstate districts as well as metropolitan Detroit, Leonard outdistanced the nearest of four opponents by more than 50,000 votes. His foes conceded early.

Williams was unopposed on the Democratic slate and the man he endorsed for lieutenant-governor, Philip A. Hart, won by a whopping majority over George S. Fitzgerald, former Democratic national committeeman. The Democrats got 70 per cent of the votes in populous Wayne (Detroit) County.

The glass blowing industry has been in existence for about 6,000 years.



HELICOPTER TOTES HANGAR — A Marine Corps HRS Sikorsky troop-carrying helicopter flies away with a structure which had been its hangar a few minutes earlier, in a demonstration at the Quantico, Va., base yesterday. Col. Henry C. Lane, material chief, said the dome shelters could be flown to needed areas and new locations as required just in this fashion. The structure, with cover zipped off to stop wind action in flight, is 50 feet in diameter, 25 feet tall and weighs 1,200 pounds. The frame is of magnesium. (Marine Corps photo via AP Wirephoto)

U. N. Collective Action Expense Sharing Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—The United States, laying down a plan approved by President Eisenhower, urged U.N. members today to participate in and agree to pay costs of collective action against aggression in the future.

The United States also said in the U.N. Collective Measures Committee that the U.N. should support any regional pact group, such as the proposed Southeast Asian Treaty Organization, if this regional group should be forced to resist aggression.

Previously, these regional forces have been considered available if the U.N. asked for help, but nothing has been said about the U.N. rallying to help if aggression hit them.

American sources said the two policy shifts on collective security resulted from lessons learned in the Korean War. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has criticized the Truman administration for requiring U.N. members to pay dollars for supplies and help from the United States, which was running the Korean War as the agent of the U.N.

Fifteen non-American U.N. members sent two divisions to Korea, but Lodge said three more divisions could have been sent if the countries had not been required to pay dollars for their support.

Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, deputy U.S. delegate, told the committee that six principles on collective security he was presenting formally had been carefully considered by President Eisenhower.

Wadsworth indicated Eisenhower stressed particularly the principle of encouraging greater participation and more military contributions in future U.N. collective actions.

Death Ends Hiccups For York, Pa., Man

YORK, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP)—Earl H. Dorsey, 60, who suffered from attacks of hiccups for the last seven years, died at York Hospital today. An autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause of death.

The man's widow said he first was seized with hiccups seven years ago, suffered numerous attacks after that and they became so frequent three years ago that he was forced to retire from work. Since then, she said, the attacks had been practically constant.

Short Wins In Mo.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Rep. Dewey Short, colorful chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and all of the other 10 Missouri congressmen won renomination yesterday in a listless primary election.

Boy, 6, Charged With Driving 'Car' Without License

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 6-year-old boy has been charged in municipal court here with operating a motor vehicle without a license.

The vehicle is a small, motorized car which little Daniel May has been riding in the vicinity of his home.

Officers said they had complaints the boy had been driving the car in the street in front of his home and filed the charge against Daniel. The boy's father, John May, was charged at the same time with allowing an unauthorized person to drive a motor vehicle and with improper registration.

Man Seeking Draft Arrested By FBI

RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 4 (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrest of a Richmond man who used an assumed name in an attempt to get back into the armed forces.

The FBI said Robert Adams, 25, holder of two bad conduct discharges from the Air Force, registered as Jesse Buggs with an Augusta, Ga., draft board in his effort to get back into service.

Kefauver Faces Stiff Test Today In Tenn. Primary

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 4 (AP)—Estes Kefauver, who tried for the presidential nomination two years ago and may try again in 1956, fights it out for a second U. S. Senate term against Rep. Pat Sutton in Tennessee's Democratic primary tomorrow.

In another bitterly fought contest, Frank Clement, at 34 the nation's youngest governor, bids for renomination against Gordon Browning, 64, whom he unseated in 1952. This time, due to a constitutional change, they are running for a four-year instead of a two-year term.

Whoever wins nomination tomorrow is virtually certain of victory in the November general election in this overwhelmingly Democratic state.

Republicans, scarce except in the 1st and 2nd districts, do not have a gubernatorial candidate in the primary.

The names of Ray H. Jenkins, Knoxville lawyer who served as counsel for the Senate subcommittee hearing the Army-McCarthy squabble, and Robert Gregory, a lawyer of Memphis, are on the ballot for the GOP senatorial nomination. But Jenkins, whose name got there by accident, has emphasized he would not be a candidate in November, even if nominated.

Issues have been few in this summer's campaign but name-calling and mud-heaving have not. Old timers call it the most bitter in history—which, if true, makes for a new high in this state which takes politics seriously.

Clement has relied on his record during his first two years. Browning has concentrated his fire on that record. Charges of liar, corruption, fraud, and immorality were commonplace.

Two of Clement's cabinet members, Secretary of State G. Edward Friar and Comptroller Jeanne Bodfish, have broken with the governor but have not announced their support of Browning, either.

French Will Launch Indo Airlift Tomorrow

HANOI, Indochina, Aug. 4 (AP)—French planes Friday will begin airlifting 1,500 Vietnamese civilian refugees a day to Saigon.

The airlift may even step up that pace until all those fleeing Communist Vietminh occupation of North Viet Nam are evacuated, French delegate General Jacques Compain said tonight.

Many of the first to go are Catholics who fled to Hanoi last week from the Bacninh, Phulang Thuong and Lucnam areas northeast of Hanoi.

Of the 30,000 to 40,000 refugees who have moved into Hanoi since the French withdrew from the Delta area south of Hanoi in June, about 20,000 to 25,000 are Catholics, Compain said in an interview.

Ike Calls For Less 'Shouting' About U.S. World Leadership

Nation Merely "Trying To Be Good Partner"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for less "shouting" about American leadership in the world because, he said, this country is merely "trying to be a good partner."

Eisenhower told a news conference, too, that America must be "more imaginative" and "less niggardly" in finding ways to combat propaganda, subversion and bribery on which he said Russia is spending billions.

The President described cuts the Senate approved yesterday in the foreign aid program—it voted for a reduction of some 800 million dollars below the 3½ billions Eisenhower asked—as very unfortunate. He said they are too deep and will hurt us badly. Shortly thereafter a Senate-House conference committee moved to restore part of the funds.

Two other major pronouncements came out of the conference:

With fire in his eye and voice, the chief executive declared attacks on Gen. George C. Marshall were a "sorry reward" for 50 years of service to the nation by a man who has typified "all that we look for in what we call an American patriot." The President was commenting on a letter by former Secretary of War Harry Woodring, put into the Congressional Record by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). The letter said Marshall "would sell out his grandmother for personal advantage."

Once again Eisenhower spoke out strongly against admitting Communist China to the United Nations—under present conditions. But by saying we always are ready to see whether a sinner reforms and comes into the fold, he held the door open for eventual entry.

The President said he would be a little bit off his rocker to say he knows what conditions will be five years from now.

Eisenhower wore a vest with his rust colored suit and appeared cool while 140 reporters dripped perspiration on notebooks at the 25 minute conference. But he was obviously hot under the collar, at least, over Marshall's having been injected Monday into the Senate scrap over censuring McCarthy.

His concern was underscored by permission for direct quotation, which usually is forbidden at news conferences.

Other Airlines Hurry To Fill Gap In Air Transport As American Strike Continues

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The nation's largest airline—American—enters its sixth day of strike-imposed idleness tomorrow. The big question at stake—whether its pilots should or should not fly more than eight hours at a time—seemed nowhere near a settlement.

Other airlines hurried to fill the gap in air transport—and to reap the profits. Trains and buses took some of the overflow. But travel space in many quarters was short today, and many travelers were inconvenienced if not actually stranded.

In New York, American Airlines filed in federal court a 1¼ million dollar breach of contract suit against the striking AFL Air Line Pilots Assn.

C. R. Smith, American's president, told a news conference that ALPA "has deliberately and wilfully violated its contract, and the strike has seriously damaged the business and reputation of the company, has endangered the employment and livelihood of the company's employes and will continue to do so."

At Chicago, Clarence N. Sayen, ALPA president, said the filing of the suit would in no way hasten settlement of the dispute.

"American can relieve its self-imposed damages and get out from under its martyrdom of self-generated losses at any time by withdrawing their demand that the pilots forsake a flight limit of 23 years or be discharged," Sayen said. "The pilots have made no demand on the company."

ALPA ordered American's 1,200 pilots out at midnight Friday in protest against certain transcontinental nonstop flights which regularly exceed the traditional eight-hour flight limit.

The pilots also voted to strike against TWA and United Airlines for similar reasons, but did not actually walk out. TWA halted its disputed New York-Los Angeles westbound nonstop flight this week by introducing a stop at Chicago—ostensibly because of the volume of passenger traffic originating there. The TWA plane also changed its crew at Chicago.

United, however, continued to fly New York-Los Angeles nonstop, in more than eight hours. ALPA says it has no intention of striking against United because the American strike already demonstrated its protest and, a United walkout might unnecessarily aggravate the situation.

Airlines operating internationally, on long over-water flights, frequently fly for 12 hours or longer without stopping. Such aircraft carry an extra crew member capable of relieving the pilot and co-pilot.

Last fall, with the introduction of faster and larger super Constellation and DC7 transports, the airlines started their long-dreamed-of service — nonstop coast-to-coast flights in less than eight hours.

Experience soon developed, however, that while the planes could make the eastbound flights in less than eight hours most of the time, they were rarely able to do so on westbound flights, bucking unfavorable winds. Finally the ALPA complained to the Civil Aeronautics Administration. The CAA ordered the airline primarily involved, American, to file more realistic flight schedules. When this was not done, the CAA called the matter to the attention of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board ordered an investigation of the eight-hour flight rule. Meanwhile, however, it obtained from the CAA an opinion that continuation of flights longer than eight hours, pending a ruling, would not endanger flying safety.

The board also took note of a letter from 13 of American's pilots to Sayen, written last March, urging that ALPA refrain from interfering with American's DC7 coast-to-coast nonstop operations.

The pilots said such flights were "not a compromise with safety but one of the easiest and most enjoyable flights ever flown on American airlines."

Last June 14 the CAB voted, 3 to 2, to allow continuation of nonstop transcontinental flights longer than eight hours, pending its study of how long flight crews should be permitted to work without relief. The board said the nonstop flights may even be safer than interrupted flights because fewer landings and takeoffs are involved.

American says its pilots prefer nonstop transcontinental duty. The first pilot on a coast-to-coast DC7 gets $19,000 a year, the copilot $11,000, the flight engineer $7,000.

The pilots work 10 days a month, and are off 20.

The airline has argued the ALPA merely wants to force it to hire more pilots.

Threat Doesn't Worry Welch

WELLFLEET, Mass., Aug. 4 (AP)—Relaxed and smiling, Atty. Joseph N. Welch said today "I'm more interested in not being late for that nice salad my wife has for us" than about an apparent threat to his life.

Welch, whose expressive voice and features became known to millions of televiewers during the Army-McCarthy hearings, told a reporter "I had a fine night's sleep. The police are taking good care of me . . . there's nothing to worry about."

He said he knew the man who Washington, D. C., police said might be on his way here to "get" him and that the man "threatened to shoot me a couple of years ago if his wife died while she was in a hospital."

Asked "are you scared?" Welch grinned, "definitely not."

Wellfleet police meanwhile maintained a 24-hour guard on the cottage in this Cape Cod town where the Welch family has summered for some 15 years.

The guard was set up last night after Washington police phoned Boston police that they had a report a man armed with a pistol might be on his way here to "get" Welch.

Hall To Face Docking In Kan. Governor Race

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 4 (AP)—A shakeup of the Kansas statehouse was assured by yesterday's primary, although a Republican administration is likely to remain in control.

Republican Lt. Gov. Fred Hall—a bitter critic of retiring Gov. Edward F. Arn and the current GOP leadership—and Democrat George Docking won the hotly contested gubernatorial races.

NLRB Reverses Old Rule; Employers May Quiz Help

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board, reversing a long-established rule, decided 3-2 today that an employer may legally question his workers about union affiliation or activities if no implication of reprisal or benefit is involved.

The majority opinion emphasized, however, that the decision does not grant employers any blanket license to interrogate their employes.

"The test is whether, under all the circumstances, the interrogation reasonably tends to restrain or interfere with the employes in the exercise of rights guaranteed by the Taft-Hartley Act," it said.

The majority in the case was composed of Chairman Guy Farmer and members Philip Rodgers and Albert C. Beeson, all appointed by President Eisenhower. The dissenters, both appointed by former President Truman, were members Abe Murdock and Ivar Peterson.

The ruling was made in a case involving the Blue Flash Express, Inc., New Orleans, and Local 270 of the AFL Teamsters Union. The union charged the firm with unfair labor practices for calling in employes and questioning them about union membership.

The board, in dismissing the complaint, said the employer's action followed a demand by the union that it be recognized as bargaining agent for the firm's employes. The firm's general manager questioned employes individually about their union membership, the opinion said, to determine whether the union actually did represent a majority.

House OKs Bill To End "Bootlegging" Of Cars

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—A bill aimed to prevent "bootlegging" of new automobiles by unauthorized dealers was passed today by the House.

This sends it to the Senate where prospects for action are doubtful. The Senate Commerce Committee agreed today to ask the Senate to authorize an investigation of "bootlegging." An inquiry of any length would bar action before Congress adjourns.

The bill eases the anti-trust laws to permit car manufacturers to make and enforce agreements with franchised dealers against disposing of new-model cars to unauthorized dealers for cut-rate sale.

Youngsters Find $500 In Debris Of Old Barn

AUBURN, Ind., Aug. 4 (AP)—An old barn in their back yard was an eyesore, so Mr. and Mrs. Omar Webb had it torn down.

A neighbor boy, Merrill Cline Jr., was helping clear away the debris when he found some currency. His brother, Jerry, and the Webbs' daughter, Linda, gleefully joined the search.

The three uncovered $500 in old bills, most of it wrapped in a 1918 calendar. The Webbs sent the money to Washington to be replaced by new currency.

Golfer Loses Club

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Some people not only lose balls when playing golf—they lose clubs.

An ad in the lost and found column of the Harrisburg Patriot-News said:

"Lost—one number seven iron in high school ball field near high weeds."

LEROY ATKINS, JR., (left) is shown reconciled with his wife, Billie Joe, in Los Angeles, after he surrendered to authorities to answer charges of shotgun assault. Neely And All Six House Members Win In West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—Sen. M. M. Neely, 79, Bible quoting power in West Virginia politics for more than 40 years, and all six members of the state's delegation in the House of representatives won renomination in yesterday's primaries.

Six of eight Democratic candidates that Gov. William C. Marland backed for the state Senate went down to defeat.

Most of the interest generated in the quiet campaign was on Marland's attempt to get friends elected to the state Legislature.

Neely, a Democrat seeking his fifth term in the U. S. Senate, polled nearly three times as many votes as his three opponents combined, although he did little campaigning.

Unofficial returns from 2,677 of the 2,825 precincts gave him 158,569 votes, to 33,276 for Sam B. Chilton of Charleston, 13,183 for Homer H. May of St. Mary's, and 9,892 for Roy A. Warden of War.

The Republicans nominated Thomas B. Sweeney, former Wheeling insurance executive, to oppose Neely. It was the third time Sweeney has won a senatorial nomination.

Rep. Will E. Neal, only Republican in the state's six-member delegation, was not opposed in the 4th district. Former Rep. M. G. Burnside snowed under three other candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers had no contest for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd district, but one of the closer races developed on the Republican side there.

With 420 of the 469 precincts counted unofficially, Albert M. Morgan, Monongalia County prosecutor, had a 10,297 to 8,318 edge over Mrs. Davis Elkins, wife of a former U. S. senator.

The other Democratic congressional incumbents—Robert M. Mollohan of the 1st district, Cleveland M. Bailey of the 3rd, Mrs. Elizabeth Key of the 5th and Robert C. Byrd of the 6th—won their primary contests handily.

Rhee Hints He, Ike In Accord

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea said today he thinks President Eisenhower and he have reached "an understanding" but declined to elaborate.

The visiting dignitary spoke hurriedly with newsmen who met his plane on arrival in Chicago from New York. He will spend two days in Chicago on his U. S. tour.

Previously the 79-year-old Rhee called for resumption of the Korean War and the invasion of Red China by two million Asian soldiers, supported by the United States.

"Are you accomplishing what you had hoped?" he was asked.

"I don't know what I had hoped to accomplish," he replied. "But I think we arrived at a good understanding."

"Do you mean you have reached an understanding with President Eisenhower?"

"Yes," Rhee answered.

A news conference had been scheduled for later in the day but was called off at Rhee's request. He gave no reason but said he might see reporters at another time.

Leonard To Oppose Michigan Governor

DETROIT, Aug. 4 (AP)—Republican Donald S. Leonard, 51-year-old former state and Detroit police commissioner, will oppose Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams' bid for an unprecedented fourth term as chief executive of Michigan.

Leonard, who rose from a state trooper, made good yesterday on his second try for the GOP nomination for governor. Unexpectedly carrying the outstate districts as well as metropolitan Detroit, Leonard outdistanced the nearest of four opponents by more than 50,000 votes. His foes conceded early.

Williams was unopposed on the Democratic slate and the man he endorsed for lieutenant-governor, Philip A. Hart, won by a whopping majority over George S. Fitzgerald, former Democratic national committeeman. The Democrats got 70 per cent of the votes in populous Wayne (Detroit) County.

The glass blowing industry has been in existence for about 6,000 years.

Col. Henry C. Lane, material chief, said the dome shelters could be flown to needed areas and new locations as required just in this fashion. The structure, with cover zipped off to stop wind action in flight, is 50 feet in diameter, 25 feet tall and weighs 1,200 pounds. The frame is of magnesium. (Marine Corps photo via AP Wirephoto)

U. N. Collective Action Expense Sharing Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—The United States, laying down a plan approved by President Eisenhower, urged U.N. members today to participate in and agree to pay costs of collective action against aggression in the future.

The United States also said in the U.N. Collective Measures Committee that the U.N. should support any regional pact group, such as the proposed Southeast Asian Treaty Organization, if this regional group should be forced to resist aggression.

Previously, these regional forces have been considered available if the U.N. asked for help, but nothing has been said about the U.N. rallying to help if aggression hit them.

American sources said the two policy shifts on collective security resulted from lessons learned in the Korean War. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has criticized the Truman administration for requiring U.N. members to pay dollars for supplies and help from the United States, which was running the Korean War as the agent of the U.N.

Fifteen non-American U.N. members sent two divisions to Korea, but Lodge said three more divisions could have been sent if the countries had not been required to pay dollars for their support.

Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, deputy U.S. delegate, told the committee that six principles on collective security he was presenting formally had been carefully considered by President Eisenhower.

Wadsworth indicated Eisenhower stressed particularly the principle of encouraging greater participation and more military contributions in future U.N. collective actions.

Death Ends Hiccups For York, Pa., Man

YORK, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP)—Earl H. Dorsey, 60, who suffered from attacks of hiccups for the last seven years, died at York Hospital today. An autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause of death.

The man's widow said he first was seized with hiccups seven years ago, suffered numerous attacks after that and they became so frequent three years ago that he was forced to retire from work. Since then, she said, the attacks had been practically constant.

Boy, 6, Charged With Driving 'Car' Without License

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 6-year-old boy has been charged in municipal court here with operating a motor vehicle without a license.

The vehicle is a small, motorized car which little Daniel May has been riding in the vicinity of his home.

Officers said they had complaints the boy had been driving the car in the street in front of his home and filed the charge against Daniel. The boy's father, John May, was charged at the same time with allowing an unauthorized person to drive a motor vehicle and with improper registration.

Man Seeking Draft Arrested By FBI

RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 4 (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrest of a Richmond man who used an assumed name in an attempt to get back into the armed forces.

The FBI said Robert Adams, 25, holder of two bad conduct discharges from the Air Force, registered as Jesse Buggs with an Augusta, Ga., draft board in his effort to get back into service.

Kefauver Faces Stiff Test Today In Tenn. Primary

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 4 (AP)—Estes Kefauver, who tried for the presidential nomination two years ago and may try again in 1956, fights it out for a second U. S. Senate term against Rep. Pat Sutton in Tennessee's Democratic primary tomorrow.

In another bitterly fought contest, Frank Clement, at 34 the nation's youngest governor, bids for renomination against Gordon Browning, 64, whom he unseated in 1952. This time, due to a constitutional change, they are running for a four-year instead of a two-year term.

Whoever wins nomination tomorrow is virtually certain of victory in the November general election in this overwhelmingly Democratic state.

Republicans, scarce except in the 1st and 2nd districts, do not have a gubernatorial candidate in the primary.

The names of Ray H. Jenkins, Knoxville lawyer who served as counsel for the Senate subcommittee hearing the Army-McCarthy squabble, and Robert Gregory, a lawyer of Memphis, are on the ballot for the GOP senatorial nomination. But Jenkins, whose name got there by accident, has emphasized he would not be a candidate in November, even if nominated.

Issues have been few in this summer's campaign but name-calling and mud-heaving have not. Old timers call it the most bitter in history—which, if true, makes for a new high in this state which takes politics seriously.

Clement has relied on his record during his first two years. Browning has concentrated his fire on that record. Charges of liar, corruption, fraud, and immorality were commonplace.

Two of Clement's cabinet members, Secretary of State G. Edward Friar and Comptroller Jeanne Bodfish, have broken with the governor but have not announced their support of Browning, either.

French Will Launch Indo Airlift Tomorrow

HANOI, Indochina, Aug. 4 (AP)—French planes Friday will begin airlifting 1,500 Vietnamese civilian refugees a day to Saigon.

Delegate Asks State Voting Machine Law

Md. Council Told Use Should Be Mandatory

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Citing the use of "flashlights and magnifying glasses" to count paper ballots, delegate Maurice Cardin said today voting machines should be a must in Maryland.

He called upon the Legislative Council to prepare a bill for consideration of the General Assembly to make voting machines mandatory.

The proposal was sent to committee.

Tabled for the time being was question of expanding the site of the Penitentiary.

In a letter to the council, Cardin, a Baltimore delegate, said "deplorable conditions" exist in counties still using paper ballots.

He said it was up to the Legislature to "put some sense into our system if elections are to mean anything in Maryland.

He cited Queen Annes County where he said vote-count challengers "have been going through stacks of paper ballots with flashlights and magnifying glasses."

He criticized the practice of throwing out ballots because a voter let his pencil slip too far but said it was worse when improper marks put on ballots by election officials cause them to be thrown out.

He said state law permits counties to borrow money to buy voting machines without the bond issue affecting their debt ceilings.

The council referred the proposal to its elections committee.

On the penitentiary, Mrs. Shirley Weiss of the State planning Commission presented a report which called for a study of facilities and acreage at the penitentiary, its figure requirements and the possibility of obtaining more land for expansion.

The report said requirements for the penitentiary are being reviewed by the commission among other capital improvements. But legislators would have to give the go ahead for real estate surveys and appraisals if they believe expansion necessary.

Sen. Redden (D-Carolina) called for no further action pending a study of affects of Maryland's new parole system on prison population he said a proposed prison hospital for defective delinquents also may help cut the number of inmates at the Penitentiary.

Sobbing Boy, 15, Is Sentenced For Rape Of Girl, 12

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 15-year-old Odenton boy today was sentenced to not more than 12 years for the rape of a 12-year-old girl, but Judge Benjamin Michaelson said he regretted the youth must be sent to the Reformatory for Males.

The judge said "the reformatory is nothing more than a second House of Correction." He, the defense counsel and prosecution called the case "a tragic situation."

Michaelson told the sobbing youth, "unfortunately I have no other choice, and I hope that the authorities can do something to curb your animal instincts." The indeterminite sentence is not to exceed 12 years.

The youth, Lawrence E. Taylor Jr., was convicted of raping the girl after following her from a friend's house in Odenton early in the evening of June 10. She said he attacked her after forcing her down behind a wooded bank within two blocks of her home.

Taylor said he had gotten the idea for the attack from things he had seen at Fort Meade where he shined shoes to earn money for his mother and a younger brother and sister.

Michaelson said the case was a "tragic situation resulting from a lack of parental supervision and bad companions. I've seen too many cases like this," he said.

Two Navy Men Plead Innocent In Slaying Cases

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—Carl Willis Strickland, 21-year-old Navy airman from Rocky Mount, N. C., today pleaded innocent to a murder charge in the slaying May 29 of Irene Marion Conole, 26 - year - old enlisted WAVE from Rochester, N. Y.

William Edward Rudd, another 37-year-old Navy man from Alameda, Calif. and Winslow, Ariz., entered a similar plea on a charge of slaying his best friend's wife, Mrs. James Edward Davis, 22, of Roanoke, W. Va.

The proceedings today were designed to clear the way for mental tests for both men before they come to trial at the September term of St. Marys County Circuit Court.

The two are connected with the Navy's big Patuxent Air Test Center at nearby Lexington Park.

Miss Conole was found beaten and drowned in the shallow water at Point Lookout, where the Potomac River flows into Chesapeake Bay.

Strickland was arrested at Rocky Mount and officers quoted him that he had been out the night before on a tavern tour with the WAVE but had left her on the beach with a hitchhiker they picked up at her insistence.

Mrs. Davis was beaten to death with a metalsmith's hammer April 3 after she and her husband had a party at their apartment just outside the naval base.

State Trooper John E. Koontz said Rudd signed a statement saying he killed Mrs. Davis when he returned to the apartment the next morning to finish off some of the left over beer. Koontz said Rudd could give no reason.

Both men were returned to the county jail, where they are held without bond. Strickland's young wife talks to him through his jail cell window daily. Rudd's wife and three young children live in California.

4-H Clubbers Stage Grand Council Night

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—The 1,400 farm youngsters attending the annual 4-H Club Week turned the University of Maryland mall into an Indian pow-wow tonight.

It was grand council night, with the younger scouts and the older eagles gathered in two big circles around camp fires for war whoops, songs, and dances.

The 4-H clubbers are divided into two Indian nations, the Iroquois and the Algonquins, and the 12 tribes vie with each other in sports and recreation during the week.

At sessions earlier today they heard about advanced activities they can aspire to if they work hard on club projects. These include the annual 4-H Club Congress each fall in connection with the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, the various summer camps, and even student exchange projects involving several months in a foreign land.

New Patuxent Bridge To Be Opened Monday

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP) — The State Roads Commission announced today it will formally open next Monday the new bridge across the Patuxent River on Maryland 196 between Burtonsville in Montgomery County and Scaggsville in Howard County.

Gov. McKeldin will snip black and gold ribbons to open the crossing at 11 a.m.

Maryland 196 ultimately will become U. S. 29 when work of overhauling it is completed between Ellicott City, west of Baltimore and the northern tip of the District of Columbia.

It is expected then to become an important alternate for motorists driving between Washington and Baltimore, particularly between the west suburbs of Baltimore and the Takoma Park, Silver Spring and Bethesda sections of the Washington Metropolitan area.

Trieste Accord Seen

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 4 (AP)—The official Belgrade radio reported tonight there may be a settlement soon in the bitter dispute between Yugoslavia and Italy over Trieste.

Trieste has been a major source of irritation between this country and Italy ever since it was set apart as a free port by decision of the Big Four foreign ministers in 1946.

Died Of Natural Causes

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 (AP)—Final toxicological tests indicate the 7-year-old son of Charles Correll—the Andy of Amos n' Andy—died of an acute kidney infection, the county autopsy surgeon said today.

John Correll died July 5 in a hospital in Santa Monica. It was at first believed he might have died of poison used in a paint sprayer at his home.

Dorsey Refused Help Of Expert In Record Check

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Phillip H. Dorsey Jr., a defeated candidate in the June 28 Democratic primary, received permission today to look at voter-signatures in Baltimore's Fourth District. But he must do so without the aid of a handwriting expert.

Dorsey, who lost the Democratic nomination for attorney general to C. Ferdinand Sybert, wanted to use Arthur P. Myers, a handwriting analyst who figured in the Lindberg kidnaping case, in his examination of the signatures.

But the Board of Election Supervisors supported opposition arguments that such analysis might "scare voters away from the polls."

Dorsey has said he wishes to compare the names on the voter-authorization cards signed on election day with the signatures placed earlier in registration books in at least three precincts.

Three attorneys for H. C. Byrd, winner of the Democratic nomination for governor and running-mate of Sybert, spent more than two hours protesting the Dorsey action.

Charles A. Dorsey, head of the election board, said his ruling that Dorsey could look at the signatures did not mean that anyone had a "vested right to examine voters' authority cards." He said the action was being taken in this case to "promote public confidence" in election procedures.

He limited the investigation to two days.

Delegate Asks State Voting Machine Law

Md. Council Told Use Should Be Mandatory

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Citing the use of "flashlights and magnifying glasses" to count paper ballots, delegate Maurice Cardin said today voting machines should be a must in Maryland.

He called upon the Legislative Council to prepare a bill for consideration of the General Assembly to make voting machines mandatory.

The proposal was sent to committee.

Tabled for the time being was question of expanding the site of the Penitentiary.

In a letter to the council, Cardin, a Baltimore delegate, said "deplorable conditions" exist in counties still using paper ballots.

He said it was up to the Legislature to "put some sense into our system if elections are to mean anything in Maryland.

He cited Queen Annes County where he said vote-count challengers "have been going through stacks of paper ballots with flashlights and magnifying glasses."

He criticized the practice of throwing out ballots because a voter let his pencil slip too far but said it was worse when improper marks put on ballots by election officials cause them to be thrown out.

He said state law permits counties to borrow money to buy voting machines without the bond issue affecting their debt ceilings.

The council referred the proposal to its elections committee.

On the penitentiary, Mrs. Shirley Weiss of the State planning Commission presented a report which called for a study of facilities and acreage at the penitentiary, its figure requirements and the possibility of obtaining more land for expansion.

The report said requirements for the penitentiary are being reviewed by the commission among other capital improvements. But legislators would have to give the go ahead for real estate surveys and appraisals if they believe expansion necessary.

Sen. Redden (D-Carolina) called for no further action pending a study of affects of Maryland's new parole system on prison population he said a proposed prison hospital for defective delinquents also may help cut the number of inmates at the Penitentiary.

SOUTHERN QUEEN — Polly Suber, 19, a coed at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, will represent the state at the "Miss America" contest in Atlantic City, N. J. Polly stands 5 feet 7½, weighs 128, has a 35 bust, 36 hips, 25½ waist.

Sobbing Boy, 15, Is Sentenced For Rape Of Girl, 12

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 15-year-old Odenton boy today was sentenced to not more than 12 years for the rape of a 12-year-old girl, but Judge Benjamin Michaelson said he regretted the youth must be sent to the Reformatory for Males.

The judge said "the reformatory is nothing more than a second House of Correction." He, the defense counsel and prosecution called the case "a tragic situation."

Michaelson told the sobbing youth, "unfortunately I have no other choice, and I hope that the authorities can do something to curb your animal instincts." The indeterminite sentence is not to exceed 12 years.

The youth, Lawrence E. Taylor Jr., was convicted of raping the girl after following her from a friend's house in Odenton early in the evening of June 10. She said he attacked her after forcing her down behind a wooded bank within two blocks of her home.

Taylor said he had gotten the idea for the attack from things he had seen at Fort Meade where he shined shoes to earn money for his mother and a younger brother and sister.

Michaelson said the case was a "tragic situation resulting from a lack of parental supervision and bad companions. I've seen too many cases like this," he said.

CARLSBAD, N. M., Aug. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Robert Lee Midgette of Carlsbad yesterday gave birth to a son who weighed only three pounds nine ounces.

Two Navy Men Plead Innocent In Slaying Cases

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—Carl Willis Strickland, 21-year-old Navy airman from Rocky Mount, N. C., today pleaded innocent to a murder charge in the slaying May 29 of Irene Marion Conole, 26 - year - old enlisted WAVE from Rochester, N. Y.

William Edward Rudd, another 37-year-old Navy man from Alameda, Calif. and Winslow, Ariz., entered a similar plea on a charge of slaying his best friend's wife, Mrs. James Edward Davis, 22, of Roanoke, W. Va.

The proceedings today were designed to clear the way for mental tests for both men before they come to trial at the September term of St. Marys County Circuit Court.

The two are connected with the Navy's big Patuxent Air Test Center at nearby Lexington Park.

Miss Conole was found beaten and drowned in the shallow water at Point Lookout, where the Potomac River flows into Chesapeake Bay.

Strickland was arrested at Rocky Mount and officers quoted him that he had been out the night before on a tavern tour with the WAVE but had left her on the beach with a hitchhiker they picked up at her insistence.

Mrs. Davis was beaten to death with a metalsmith's hammer April 3 after she and her husband had a party at their apartment just outside the naval base.

State Trooper John E. Koontz said Rudd signed a statement saying he killed Mrs. Davis when he returned to the apartment the next morning to finish off some of the left over beer. Koontz said Rudd could give no reason.

Both men were returned to the county jail, where they are held without bond. Strickland's young wife talks to him through his jail cell window daily. Rudd's wife and three young children live in California.

4-H Clubbers Stage Grand Council Night

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—The 1,400 farm youngsters attending the annual 4-H Club Week turned the University of Maryland mall into an Indian pow-wow tonight.

It was grand council night, with the younger scouts and the older eagles gathered in two big circles around camp fires for war whoops, songs, and dances.

The 4-H clubbers are divided into two Indian nations, the Iroquois and the Algonquins, and the 12 tribes vie with each other in sports and recreation during the week.

At sessions earlier today they heard about advanced activities they can aspire to if they work hard on club projects. These include the annual 4-H Club Congress each fall in connection with the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, the various summer camps, and even student exchange projects involving several months in a foreign land.

New Patuxent Bridge To Be Opened Monday

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP) — The State Roads Commission announced today it will formally open next Monday the new bridge across the Patuxent River on Maryland 196 between Burtonsville in Montgomery County and Scaggsville in Howard County.

Gov. McKeldin will snip black and gold ribbons to open the crossing at 11 a.m.

Maryland 196 ultimately will become U. S. 29 when work of overhauling it is completed between Ellicott City, west of Baltimore and the northern tip of the District of Columbia.

It is expected then to become an important alternate for motorists driving between Washington and Baltimore, particularly between the west suburbs of Baltimore and the Takoma Park, Silver Spring and Bethesda sections of the Washington Metropolitan area.

Falling Wall Kills 15

KARACHI, Pakistan, Aug. 4 (AP)—At least 15 persons were killed and 50 others were injured today when heavy rain toppled a 20-foot wall onto huts in a colony of homeless people here.

WINS NOMINATION—Donald S. Leonard, 51, and his wife, Kathryn, display wide smiles after he had been nominated to run for governor in Michigan on the Republican ticket. Leonard, widely known as a police administrator, will oppose Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams in the November election.

Trieste Accord Seen

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 4 (AP)—The official Belgrade radio reported tonight there may be a settlement soon in the bitter dispute between Yugoslavia and Italy over Trieste.

Trieste has been a major source of irritation between this country and Italy ever since it was set apart as a free port by decision of the Big Four foreign ministers in 1946.

Died Of Natural Causes

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4 (AP)—Final toxicological tests indicate the 7-year-old son of Charles Correll—the Andy of Amos n' Andy—died of an acute kidney infection, the county autopsy surgeon said today.

John Correll died July 5 in a hospital in Santa Monica. It was at first believed he might have died of poison used in a paint sprayer at his home.

Dorsey Refused Help Of Expert In Record Check

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4 (AP)—Phillip H. Dorsey Jr., a defeated candidate in the June 28 Democratic primary, received permission today to look at voter-signatures in Baltimore's Fourth District. But he must do so without the aid of a handwriting expert.

Dorsey, who lost the Democratic nomination for attorney general to C. Ferdinand Sybert, wanted to use Arthur P. Myers, a handwriting analyst who figured in the Lindberg kidnaping case, in his examination of the signatures.

But the Board of Election Supervisors supported opposition arguments that such analysis might "scare voters away from the polls."

Dorsey has said he wishes to compare the names on the voter-authorization cards signed on election day with the signatures placed earlier in registration books in at least three precincts.

Three attorneys for H. C. Byrd, winner of the Democratic nomination for governor and running-mate of Sybert, spent more than two hours protesting the Dorsey action.

Charles A. Dorsey, head of the election board, said his ruling that Dorsey could look at the signatures did not mean that anyone had a "vested right to examine voters' authority cards." He said the action was being taken in this case to "promote public confidence" in election procedures.

He limited the investigation to two days.

Senator Martin Wins Nomination In 16th District

Scores Of County Contests Decided

State Senator Clarence E. Martin, Martinsburg attorney and outspoken critic of the Marland Administration, won renomination on the Democrat ticket for the 16th Senatorial District of West Virginia in Tuesday's primary elections.

Unofficial returns gave Martin 7,037 votes, handing him a clear victory over A. D. Kenamond, Shepherdstown resident who challenged Martin for the post and got 5,151 votes.

Martin carried Berkeley County (2,303 to 1,234), Hardy (1,596 to 692), Jefferson (1,209 to 741), and Morgan (429 to 401), but lost to Kenamond in Mineral (1,067 to 695), and Hampshire (1,016 to 805).

Election results in several nearby counties, with emphasis on local contests, follow:

Hampshire County

John R. Blue renominated by Democrats for House of Delegates by polling 729 votes, defeating James W. Short (536) and Harold L. Welker (517).

Ellis E. Haines nominated for county commissioner by Democrats, polling 1,032 votes, over Meryl L. Combs (623), and Lynn F. Saville (195).

Frank C. Kight, Democratic nomination for constable with 412 votes, unopposed.

Hardy County

James M. Miley, Democratic nomination for House of Delegates, unopposed, with 1,486 votes; no Republican opposition.

Carl S. Welton, unopposed in either party, nominated for county commissioner with 1,271.

Sloan Parsons, 2,338 votes, and E. B. Souder, 2,267 for non-partisan election to Board of Education, defeating Ervin O. Wilkins, 620.

Grant County

Myron H. McDonald, Republican nomination for Grant District seat in County Court, by defeating Allen Foley, 238 to 199.

John H. Groves (983 votes) and Cecil Sites (762) elected to Board of Education in non-partisan contest, defeating Walter B. Hanlin (577), and Wilson H. Smith (379).

Morgan County

Ward M. Dawson Sr., 788 votes, over Darvey D. Beeler, (756), for Republican nomination to House of Delegates. Gladstone Mechem, 784, over William J. Clark, (722), for Republican nomination to County Court.

O. B. Weber (1,575) and Olaf L. Dilkes (1,272) for non-partisan election to Board of Education, over C. T. Weigle (938).

Tucker County

Joseph R. Gilmore (681 votes) over Forrest Armentrout (571) for Republican nomination to House of Delegates; J. J. Mullenex, (509) over Mrs. Salena M. Raese (378) for Democratic nomination to House of Delegates.

J. R. Yeager (984), H. Clyde King (953) and John Campbell (917) for non-partisan Board of Education, over Nelson A. Williams (909); Mike Ferruso (871), Dr. Tracy A. Currey (722), J. D. Close (557).

Wesley L. Cross (879) unopposed for Democratic nomination to county commissioner; R. F. Carr, (734) unopposed for Republican nomination to county commissioner.

John D. Ours (218) unopposed for Democratic nomination for constable, Fairfax District; Sherman W. Emerick (193) unopposed for Democratic nomination for Fairfax District justice of the peace.

Pendleton County

Edgar J. Nelson(784) for Democratic county commissioner nomination over Don Arbogast (308). Morris M. Homan (889) unopposed for Democratic nomination for assessor; William McCoy Jr. (938) unopposed for Democratic nomination for House of Delegates.

W. Glenn Sponaugle (1,003), Roscoe Sponaugle (885), and V. Roy Bowers (989), all elected, non-partisan, to Board of Education.

SHIRLEY AUSTIN, 16, of Kirkwood, Mo., is shown with the flying-wing "Half Fast" that helped her become the first girl ever to win the senior "dog-fighting" class of the National Model Airplane championships in Chicago. The show was held at the Glenview Naval Air Station.

Easements Filed For Work On Municipal Projects

A number of easements obtained by the Mayor and Council for work on various municipal projects were filed in the land records office of Allegany County Court House yesterday.

For the Frederick Street curbing and surfacing job, agreements were made with J. Elmer and Joanna D. Bopp, affecting two properties in Bopp's Addition; Thomas Edward and Ruth R. Danner, two properties in Bopp's Addition; Nellie G. Sowers, each of them two properties in Bopp's Addition.

Another agreement was made between the city and Lemuel G. and Essie J. Kirk for paving work in Wills Creek for the flood protection project.

Those between the city and Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, and Clarence E. and Emily K. O'Brien, of Wayne County, Mich., for property in Riverside Addition, are for the West Side flood wall project.

The State Roads Commission also docketed two easement agreements. One with Ellsworth and Sara L. Lewis is for work on Route 53, Winchester Road.

Another by the SRC deals with Route 220 work south of Rawlings. It is with Claude G. and Julia Mae Myers.

Sloan Reappointed Trial Magistrate At Lonaconing

James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County, was notified in a letter this week from Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin that Melvin S. Sloan has been reappointed Trial Magistrate at Lonaconing.

Sloan had resigned the position in order to seek the Republican nomination for county treasurer in the primary election held in June. However, he was unsuccessful in his bid for the nomination.

He applied for the position following the resignation of Angus Turnbull. His appointment became effective immediately.

Judge Gives Kelley Three-Year Term

James B. Kelley, 33, of Barrelville was sentenced to three years in the Maryland House of Correction.

The sentence was meted out Tuesday by Associate Judge George Henderson in Allegany County Circuit Court on a morals charge to which Kelley had pleaded guilty last Thursday. Involved in the case with Kelley were three young brothers.

A criminal information and Kelley's plea for an immediate trial both were filed in Circuit Court last Wednesday.

Hoyt Paints His Way Into Hall Of Fame

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Waite Hoyt, one of baseball's former mound artists, now is dabbling with oils and brushes.

One of his canvases, entitled "Retired," won a local prize. It is a still life study of a glove, baseball and shoes. After it hangs at an art salon here, it will be sent to the baseball Hall of Fame, Cooperstown, N.Y.

Hoyt broadcasts games for the Cincinnati Redlegs. Besides his baseball paintings, the former New York Yankee sketches landscapes and portraits.

Easements Filed For Work On Municipal Projects

A number of easements obtained by the Mayor and Council for work on various municipal projects were filed in the land records office of Allegany County Court House yesterday.

For the Frederick Street curbing and surfacing job, agreements were made with J. Elmer and Joanna D. Bopp, affecting two properties in Bopp's Addition; Thomas Edward and Ruth R. Danner, two properties in Bopp's Addition; Nellie G. Sowers, each of them two properties in Bopp's Addition.

Another agreement was made between the city and Lemuel G. and Essie J. Kirk for paving work in Wills Creek for the flood protection project.

Those between the city and Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, and Clarence E. and Emily K. O'Brien, of Wayne County, Mich., for property in Riverside Addition, are for the West Side flood wall project.

The State Roads Commission also docketed two easement agreements. One with Ellsworth and Sara L. Lewis is for work on Route 53, Winchester Road.

Another by the SRC deals with Route 220 work south of Rawlings. It is with Claude G. and Julia Mae Myers.

Sloan Reappointed Trial Magistrate At Lonaconing

James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County, was notified in a letter this week from Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin that Melvin S. Sloan has been reappointed Trial Magistrate at Lonaconing.

Sloan had resigned the position in order to seek the Republican nomination for county treasurer in the primary election held in June. However, he was unsuccessful in his bid for the nomination.

He applied for the position following the resignation of Angus Turnbull. His appointment became effective immediately.

Hoyt Paints His Way Into Hall Of Fame

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Waite Hoyt, one of baseball's former mound artists, now is dabbling with oils and brushes.

One of his canvases, entitled "Retired," won a local prize. It is a still life study of a glove, baseball and shoes. After it hangs at an art salon here, it will be sent to the baseball Hall of Fame, Cooperstown, N.Y.

Hoyt broadcasts games for the Cincinnati Redlegs. Besides his baseball paintings, the former New York Yankee sketches landscapes and portraits.

Rosalie Yantorno To Become Bride Of Donald W. Hoff

Miss Rosalie Yantorno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Yantorno, 105 North Johnson Street, is to become the bride of Donald Warren Hoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Hoff, 722 Hill Top Drive, tonight.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church at 6:30 p. m., with Rev. Kenan Crowley, O.F.M. Cap., officiating. A program of nuptial music will be played by Prof. Peter Schumacher, who also will play the traditional wedding march from the opera Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's recessional.

Mrs. Carolyn Welsh will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, while Robert Welsh will serve as Mr. Hoff's best man. Michael Yantorno Jr., brother of the bride, and Arthur Jones are the ushers.

The bride will wear a waltz-length gown of white lace over a nylon accordion-pleated skirt and satin slip. It has a strapless bodice with lace jacket, buttoned up the front, and fashioned with long sleeves tapering to a point and buttoned up the side, and has a full skirt. Her three-quarter-length veil of illusion is held by a lace Juliette cap tapering to a point on the sides and trimmed with narrow satin bands ending in pearl ornaments. Completing her costume, she will carry a nosegay of orchids and stephanotis with a shower of white satin ribbons.

Her attendant will wear a pink lace over satin dress made complementary to the bride's. It has a strapless bodice and lace jacket with satin edging the sleeves, neckline and front, a wide satin sash and full waltz-length lace skirt. Her sweetheart-shaped headdress is of satin and she will carry a bouquet of reuben lilies.

Mrs. Yantorno has selected a tan brocaded satin gown for her daughter's wedding. It has a low neckline, cape sleeves and is trimmed in rhinestones. With it she will wear a delicate pink feather hat, pink gloves and tan slippers and a corsage of pink tinted gardenias. Mrs. Hoff has chosen a black shantung gown fashioned with a low sweetheart neckline with white shantung insert. With it she is wearing a black picture hat trimmed with white flowers, white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bride attended SS. Peter and Paul School and is a graduate of Allegany High School, where she was circulation manager of the yearbook, and a member of the Choral Club. She is employed as a long distance operator by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The bridegroom attended Fort Hill High School. During World War II, he served three years with the United States Navy in the Pacific Theatre. He is employed as a machinist at the Bolt and Forge Shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Yantorno will entertain with a wedding reception for their daughter and her bridal party at the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewery. The bridal motif will be carried out in the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

For their wedding trip to Wildwood, N. J., the bride has selected a pink suit with matching accessories and her orchid corsage. Upon their return Mr. Hoff and his bride will reside at 724½ Frederick Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Yantorno were hosts for a family party following the rehearsal last evening. It was held at their home honoring their daughter and fiance.

Auxiliary Installs Mrs. Farrell

College Shorts-Cut To Fashion

AP Newsfeatures

NORMAN, Okla.—College men are embroiled these days in another fad, and the coeds aren't exactly happy about it.

This one, rampant at the University of Oklahoma, involves the wearing of Bermuda shorts on nearly every social occasion. And it threatens to attain the popularity of those distinguished academic pursuits of other years: goldfish swallowing and panty raiding.

The fad got underway when dashing South African exchange students, with their British accent and customs, introduced their tropical dress to Oklahoma.

On the South African students, like swimming star Peter Duncan and National AAU broad jump king Neville Price, shorts look good. But the rule among non-athletes is knobby knees, hairy legs and bony ankles—hardly a combination to make a coed's heart throb.

Undaunted, OU males have seized on the hot-weather fashion as a means of asserting their individualism.

One self-styled social leader flatly declares shorts to be proper for any event except funerals and weddings. And the short pants are said to be in style at some weddings.

Sawed-off tuxedos are the rage at formal dances.

To the girls, dubious about the new style, a plain-speaking lad says it's high time the shorts were put on the stronger sex. Shorts get a man a lot of attention, he points out.

A recent fraternity rush trip to Durant, where the short pants haven't yet taken hold, caused a minor scandal. The bare-kneed boys were the talk of the town.

A certain amount of ridicule is the lot of anyone who embraces the upward trend of trousers, but one advocate has the answer.

"When anyone laughs at me," he explains, "I just laugh back. That really fools them, because they know why they're laughing, but don't know why I'm laughing."

Neither does he.

The suave gentlemen from South Africa are a little appalled at the direction the trend has taken. One predicts it won't last long.

"How can it?" he asks. "Since belts are not supposed to be worn with Bermuda shorts, there's bound to be a letdown sooner or later."

"WHAT'S THIS?" . . . University of Oklahoma coed seems amused when her date shows up in Bermuda shorts, latest fad to sweep the campus. Most girls are dubious about the whole thing, which South African exchange students started.

Robin N. Collins Selects Sept. 11 For Wedding Date

To Be Bride Of Randall L. Sheetz

Miss Robin Nell Collins, fiancee of Randall Linn Sheetz, has selected September 11 for the date of their marriage. It is to be solemnized in Centre Street Methodist Church at 2 p. m., with Rev. Howard Amoss officiating.

Miss Jeanne DeWitt will be the bride's maid of honor and only attendant, while Jimmie Flanagan serves as Mr. Sheetz's best man.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Collins, 107 Karns Avenue. She is a graduate of Allegany High School and of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. Miss Collins is employed on the nursing staff of the hospital.

Her fiance is the son of Mrs. LeEsta Sheetz, 424 Arch Street, and George Sheetz, Keyser. He is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and received his B. S. degree in pharmacy from the University of West Virginia, Morgantown. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Mr. Sheetz is employed as a pharmacist at Keech's Drug Store.

Mrs. Robert Wampler entertained with a linen shower and prenuptial party in compliment to the bride-elect. It was held at the home of her parents, 505 Eastern Avenue.

The gifts were arranged on a table beneath a pink and green umbrella. The same color motif was repeated in the decorations of the cake centering the table, topped with a miniature bride. A lace cloth covered the table and the napkins were pink and green. Spring flowers were used throughout the house.

Guests were Miss Margery Cooper, Mrs. Edward Mason, Miss Charlene Cutright, Miss DeWitt, Mrs. Benjamin Burley, Mrs. Roscoe Firey, Mrs. Paul Burley and Mrs. Robert Collins.

Personals

Mrs. Sarah Kelly and daughter, Mary Lou, 206 Beall Street, have returned from visiting in New Brighton, Pa.

Mrs. John Fradiska, Cresaptown, has returned home from Sacred Heart Hospital.

Father John Moore, M. M. has returned to New York, accompanied by his niece, Mary Katherine Newman, JoAnn Shaffer, Gail Garlitz, Mary Carney and Bonnie Bennett, who will spend a few days there.

Mrs. James H. Burns, 210 Cumberland Street, underwent an operation Monday at Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Arthur C. Howard, Baltimore Pike, is a surgical patient in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Twins Mark Birthday

David and Deborah Weaver, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weaver, 5 Grand Avenue, were entertained at a party in celebration of their third birthday, by their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Weaver, Glenmore Street.

Guests were Steven Hartsock, Mrs. Paul Davis, Paula Davis, Mrs. Luther Cox, Cinda Cox, Mrs. Walter Clark, Linda Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gross, Paul Gross, Mrs. Charles Welch, Mrs. Susan Clark, and Mrs. Sharon Spaur, Washington.

Beavers do not live in their dams. The dams raise the water to cover the doors of the beavers' lodges built upstream.

Recent Bride Is Honored At Shower

A post-nuptial party and kitchen shower was given by Mrs. Ralph Baker and Miss Toyia Spangler for Mrs. Gerald Null at the latter's home, 4 Lyon Street, Ridgeley.

The former Miss Mary Lynn Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker, became the bride of Mr. Null, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Null, 120 Seymour Street, June 19. The ceremony was performed in Calvary Methodist Church with Rev. Roscoe T. Hall officiating.

Shower gifts were arranged in a basket decorated in pink and green. The same color motif was repeated in the flowers throughout the house, and in the table appointments.

Pictures were taken during the evening and games played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Barbara Merritt, Mrs. Sadie Koser, and Mrs. Mary Frye.

Other guests were Mrs. Fannie Davis, Mrs. Nellie Spangler, Mrs. Terry Spangler, Mrs. Bessie Imes, Michael Imes, Mrs. Dorothy Shroyer, Mrs. Violet Leight, Miss Lois Spangler, Miss Shirley Sisk, Miss JoAnn Matthews, Mrs. Joan Nichols, Miss Mary Jane Friend, Mr. and Mrs. William Deatlehouser, Robert Deatlehouser, and Kenneth Deatlehouser.

Mrs. J. W. Close Heads Mooney Family Group

The Mooney family elected Mrs. J. W. Close, Cumberland, president at the reunion held Sunday at Smithville Park, Punxsutawney, Pa. John E. Mooney, Punxsutawney, was elected vice president; Miss Sara Mooney, North Lima, Ohio, secretary, and Harold Hawk, Rossiter, Pa., treasurer.

Prizes were awarded to J. W. Mooney, the oldest person present; Lorraine Masters, Windber, Pa., the youngest; Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney, Punxsutawney, the oldest married couple; Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Mumpher, Pittsburgh, youngest married couple; and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawk, Flint, Mich., who traveled the greatest distance.

Plans were made to have the next reunion August 2, 1955, at Reservoir Park, Tyrone, Pa. Seventy-five members attended the reunion.

Kennel Club Will Provide Handlers For Show Sept. 11

Anyone who would like to show his dog and has had no show experience may obtain assistance from any member of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club, it was announced at the meeting of the club, Tuesday evening in the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewery. Members of the club will serve as handlers. Exhibitors wishing assistance are asked to contact any member of the club.

Cliff Jeffries presided at the meeting and it was announced that entry blanks may be obtained at the Jeffries Jewelry Store, Frostburg; Dr. C. N. Foose Jr., LaVale; or the News Center, South Centre Street, Cumberland. Entries close August 30.

A gift and a vote of thanks for the obedience classes he conducted were given to Donald Prichard.

Mrs. Harvey Ware, Hospitality chairman, reported that exhibitors, handlers and judges are invited to an open house at the Herman Room, September 11, immediately following the first All-Breed American Kennel Club dog show, being held at the Fair Grounds. It is being sponsored by the Loval Kennel Club and the Cumberland Civitan Club for the benefit of the two groups' project for the prevention of deafness in children of Allegany county.

Reports were given on advertising by W. Leroy McIntosh and Miss Margaret Neumann; and publicity by Mrs. Lester Deneen. Mr. Jeffries reported on the annual picnic at his cottage on the Castleman River, which was attended by 65 members. Canoeing, swimming and games featured the entertainment.

Judging schedules have been arranged for the convenience of the exhibitors. Judging will begin at 11 a. m., but dogs not required for previous judging will be admitted to the show until noon.

CDA Retreat To Be Oct. 2, 3

October 2 and 3 were announced as the dates for the annual retreat of the Catholic Daughters of America. It will be held in SS. Peter and Paul Church, with Rev. Aloysious Burggraff, CSP, head of the Cathedral Information Center, Baltimore, again as retreat master.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Anna McCleary at the meeting of the court Monday evening. A donation was voted to Rev. George Elmendorf, pastor of St. Anne's Church, Somerville, Texas, for the underprivileged children of that section.

Mrs. Elizabeth McLean presided at the meeting in the social center. Mrs. Gertrude Peck was named chairman for the card party September 8 at the center. Mrs. Cecelia Albright reported on the national convention held last month. Mrs. Catherine Mellon was named chairman for the covered dish supper August 16 at Constitution Park.

Mrs. J. W. Close Heads Mooney Family Group

The Mooney family elected Mrs. J. W. Close, Cumberland, president at the reunion held Sunday at Smithville Park, Punxsutawney, Pa. John E. Mooney, Punxsutawney, was elected vice president; Miss Sara Mooney, North Lima, Ohio, secretary, and Harold Hawk, Rossiter, Pa., treasurer.

Prizes were awarded to J. W. Mooney, the oldest person present; Lorraine Masters, Windber, Pa., the youngest; Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney, Punxsutawney, the oldest married couple; Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Mumpher, Pittsburgh, youngest married couple; and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawk, Flint, Mich., who traveled the greatest distance.

Plans were made to have the next reunion August 2, 1955, at Reservoir Park, Tyrone, Pa. Seventy-five members attended the reunion.

Kennel Club Will Provide Handlers For Show Sept. 11

Anyone who would like to show his dog and has had no show experience may obtain assistance from any member of the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club, it was announced at the meeting of the club, Tuesday evening in the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewery. Members of the club will serve as handlers. Exhibitors wishing assistance are asked to contact any member of the club.

Cliff Jeffries presided at the meeting and it was announced that entry blanks may be obtained at the Jeffries Jewelry Store, Frostburg; Dr. C. N. Foose Jr., LaVale; or the News Center, South Centre Street, Cumberland. Entries close August 30.

A gift and a vote of thanks for the obedience classes he conducted were given to Donald Prichard.

Mrs. Harvey Ware, Hospitality chairman, reported that exhibitors, handlers and judges are invited to an open house at the Herman Room, September 11, immediately following the first All-Breed American Kennel Club dog show, being held at the Fair Grounds. It is being sponsored by the Loval Kennel Club and the Cumberland Civitan Club for the benefit of the two groups' project for the prevention of deafness in children of Allegany county.

Reports were given on advertising by W. Leroy McIntosh and Miss Margaret Neumann; and publicity by Mrs. Lester Deneen. Mr. Jeffries reported on the annual picnic at his cottage on the Castleman River, which was attended by 65 members. Canoeing, swimming and games featured the entertainment.

Judging schedules have been arranged for the convenience of the exhibitors. Judging will begin at 11 a. m., but dogs not required for previous judging will be admitted to the show until noon.

CDA Retreat To Be Oct. 2, 3

October 2 and 3 were announced as the dates for the annual retreat of the Catholic Daughters of America. It will be held in SS. Peter and Paul Church, with Rev. Aloysious Burggraff, CSP, head of the Cathedral Information Center, Baltimore, again as retreat master.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Anna McCleary at the meeting of the court Monday evening. A donation was voted to Rev. George Elmendorf, pastor of St. Anne's Church, Somerville, Texas, for the underprivileged children of that section.

Mrs. Elizabeth McLean presided at the meeting in the social center. Mrs. Gertrude Peck was named chairman for the card party September 8 at the center. Mrs. Cecelia Albright reported on the national convention held last month. Mrs. Catherine Mellon was named chairman for the covered dish supper August 16 at Constitution Park.

During the illness of Summer clothes worth wearing again next year are worth putting away carefully this year.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The Powers Girls do not achieve the "pressed and polished" look by purchasing an entire new wardrobe every season. They do it by thoughtful planning and by taking care of their clothes. When fall arrives, they store summer things away carefully, to have them ready for next year's first warm days.

I suggest you post this column—with the Girls' ideas on summer-wear care—in your closet, so you'll have it handy when the time comes to replace cottons and their accessories with winter woolens!

Launder First

Put dresses and play clothes away clean. Washables should be washed, but not ironed. They're bound to get somewhat crushed while stored, but if they are clean at the end of the season, all you need to do in spring is dampen and iron them.

See to it that everything is thoroughly dry before you pack it away. Cleanliness and dryness prevent mildew. Remove any stains; otherwise, they'll "set" over the winter and be almost impossible to get out.

If you suspect you'll need to change the hemline of a dress or skirt next season, open the hem before washing and storing the garment. Mend rips and tears and sew on buttons.

Wash summer woolens — lightweight sweaters, stoles and bathing suits — before folding and storing them flat. Cleanliness is the best preventive against moth damage, which can occur in winter as well as in summer.

Bathing caps and rubber or plastic beach bags should be washed, rinsed, wiped off and let dry thoroughly. Dust talcum powder inside caps and bags, then stuff them with tissue paper so there's no danger of sticking. Store plastics and rubber in a cool, not warm or cold, place.

Shoes And Jewelry

Clean shoes and have them repaired. Polish helps preserve leather shoes. If they're fabric or straw, treat them to a bath of thick "dry" soapsuds; "rinse" by wiping with a damp cloth, then a dry one. Let shoes dry thoroughly before storing. Be sure to air each pair, and put them on shoe trees or stuff with tissue paper.

Remove perspiration and grime from summer jewelry. Strung or set pieces can be immersed in soapsuds; glued jewelry should be scrubbed with a soft brush and plentiful suds. After rinsing, put on a towel to dry, then wrap each piece separately in tissue paper or scraps of velvet for storage.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND HQ., OFFUTT AIR FORCE BASE, Omaha, Neb. — (INS) — The constant clipping of the "fringe benefits" of highly trained and dedicated SAC airmen has been one of the reasons why the re-enlistment rate in the No. 1 offensive arm of U. S. military might has fallen off at a disturbing rate. The condition is general in the Air Force.

It has been estimated that it is costing taxpayers $2,000,000,000 a year to pay for the training of men brought in to fill the gaps left by airmen who quit the service to accept the additional benefits of working in civilian jobs. Some of them represented investments of up to $50,000 each in special training.

Gen. Curt LeMay, who would be the most important man in the free world if the Russians threw a punch, is a sports-car enthusiast. His many friends in the Sports Car Club of America, an amateur organization, proposed that SAC and the club combine to put on an occasional sports car race to raise money to provide for the airmen some of the creature comforts that would make more tolerable, the trying SAC-type pressures and work.

A number of such races were held during weekends over the past couple of years. About $350,000 was raised. It went into making SAC barracks places that didn't drive an airman into town, or make him want to get out of the service.

The $56,000 raised on July 4, 1953, at this base bought such items as 1,500 bedspreads, 387 chests of drawers, 70 desks, 550 reading lamps, 150 sets of drapes, five pool tables, 25 lounge chairs, and 195 armchairs.

The $25,000 race at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Texas, produced a $2,500 gift to Austin charities, a redecoration job on the base mess halls, 287 chairs, 27 settees, 19 desks, nine TV sets, etc.

The races at Turner Air Force Base, Albany, Ga., bought and furnished a picnic grounds for the men.

But somebody squawked, even though most of the work that had to be done—preparing a field for a race—was done by Air Force labor already paid for. The beef reached a dour Kansas congressman namedErrett P. Schrivner, who is in charge of the Air Force Appropriations subcommittee. Gen. LeMay was, in effect, rapped on the knuckles and told to close up his sports car shop.

"We never wanted to stage races actually," a SAC man said today with a shrug. "But it seemed like the most likely way to raise the money we needed to try to stop the men from walking out on us when their time was up. All we wanted to do was help a bad situation. You'd think we were trying to rob a bank."

In all, the $350,000 raised through the now banned races provide relaxation and a change of pace for airmen who are so constantly alerted that officers carry sidearms and crewmen are not only "packed and ready" but have, in effect, signed their wills.

Congress was touched by SAC's effort to halt the exodus of men trained at great cost. In a fit of conscience it has appropriated $25,000,000 for Air Force "recreation" and other benefits, so LeMay's gasoline derbies were not run in vain.

Another SAC development which drew frowns in Washington, but is working out fine, is the TV set-up at Limestone (Maine) Air Base. The isolated base has its own TV transmitter, which shows kinescopes and films of the big shows, spreads the "word" on base matters, shouts training alerts. It is cheaper and infinitely more efficient than previous forms of entertainment, and is being tested at Limestone with a view to incorporating it into the far-flung SAC bases that rim the Communist world and hold it at bay.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4 (INS) — Gene Raymond, who hasn't been on the MGM lot since 1941, returns to the studio of his stardom to chase Jane Powell around the furniture in "Hit the Deck."

He plays a musical comedy star wolf-whistling after Missy Powell until Tony Martin rescues her.

It's good to have Gene back on the screen. He looks as young today as when he made his last picture at MGM, "Smilin' Through," 13 years ago.

The past two months he's been playing "Mr. Roberts" and "Second Man" in summer stock in the East — and he has his regular fireside theatre TV appearances.

Mrs. Raymond, also known as Jeanette MacDonald, has concert engagements in Milwaukee and Pittsburgh — and heaven knows when they will catch up with each other again. Gene heads to New York for TV following "Hit the Deck."

The most cussed and discussed picture in years (one year in the making) "A Star Is Born," reached the public at the sneak preview in Huntington Park — and the audience went crazy when the title and Judy Garland's name flashed on the screen.

They were even crazier nearly four hours later when the picture ended to cries of "bravo" and "great!"

Judy sat with Sid Luft in the back row. Tears streamed down her face, and his, too. She remained in the theatre a half-hour trying to pull herself together.

But 500 fans couldn't be fooled. They were guarding all exits and when Judy finally appeared the ovation was terrific.

"Don't let 'em cut a minute of it," some of the preview-hep fans called, "we could sit through four hours more!"

This must have been music to the ears of Jack Warner.

Now we know what goes with Johnny Ray and Marilyn Morrison. They gave a "reunion" party for 20 people at the Luau a few nights ago.

Seems a "reunion" is different from a reconciliation. The cry-boy, who has been dating his ex-wife almost every night, says:

"Marilyn and I are fond of each other and enjoy being together. Our marriage failed — but that's no reason we shouldn't be good friends."

So this is the difference between a "reunion" and making another try at matrimony.

At last, Burt Lancaster has found his son for "The Gabriel Horn." After testing and looking at about 100 boys, Burt has chosen 9-year-old Donald MacDonald to play his little rough-neck athletic offspring in "Horn."

Donald is the real son of a wardrobe man at MGM, and the picture with Burt isn't his first. He made his debut as one of the schoolboys in Greer Garson's "Her 12 Men."

Lancaster takes his company, including Diana Lynn, Diane Foster and young Master MacDonald to Kentucky to start shooting the end of August.

Hollywood in shorts:

Piper Laurie and Dick Contino have picked up their romance where they left off three months ago. He called her from the Flamingo in Las Vegas and she goes up to visit him over the weekend.

At the Cal-Neva Lodge for a bit of fishing are Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney and Jack Benny.

What started out as a publicity romance between Julia Adams and George Nader is now for real.

Julie London, looking wonderful after her European trip, back with her favorite date, Bobby Troup, at the Mocambo. Also Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas very honeymoonish.

Dale Robertson spent the weekend teaching Mary Murphy how to ride one of his favorite horses.

Exactly 20 years ago, Will Rogers starred on the stage in "Ah, Wilderness!" So for his stage debut Will Rogers Jr., will do the same play at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

That's all.

Huntington Has Wettest July In Last 13 Years

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—The Huntington Weather Bureau said today that rainfall here in July totaled 8.14 inches, 3.32 inches above normal.

It was the wettest July since 1941 when precipitation totaled 8.63 inches.

Rainfall for the first seven months of 1954, however, was four inches below normal. It totaled 23.15 inches.

It's estimated there are now more than 150,000 women pipe smokers. Punster Aitch Kay says he can't figure where this fad for briar-puffing by the ladies stems from.

Story Of Roosevelt And Truman Conferences Will Be Published

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The State Department is preparing to publish the secret story of the wartime and postwar conferences of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, including the file of notes kept by former State Department official Alger Hiss.

Hiss is now serving a prison sentence upon conviction of perjury for denying he gave secret papers to a Communist spy ring.

Work on the several volumes which will eventually be published has been under way for about a year. The first volume, covering mainly the Yalta conference of the late President Roosevelt, the late Premier Stalin of Russia and Prime Minister Winston Churchill, may be finished in time for publication in October.

The decision to make public the huge file of papers, subject to necessary clearances, was reported to have been made by Asst. Secretary of State Carl W. McCardle, who is in charge of the State Department's Public Affairs Section. McCardle told associates he wanted the full story of the wartime and immediate postwar meetings to be released. He set the historical division to work on the task.

G. Bernard Noble, chief of that division, has had a dozen men compiling pertinent papers from the State Department files as well as searching out related material from the Roosevelt and Truman libraries at Hyde Park, N. Y., and Independence, Mo., and conferring with Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

Byrnes attended the Yalta conference with Roosevelt and the Potsdam meeting with Truman. He was Truman's first secretary of state after the resignation of the late Edward R. Stattinius.

"Innuendoes" Are Protested By Foundation

Accusations Aired During Probe Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug 4 (AP)—A sweeping denial of any pro-Communist activity, or any violation of the anti-trust laws, was submitted to a special House committee today by the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education Board.

In a joint statement, the two organizations protested what they termed "bizarre innuendoes" by witnesses in an investigation of tax-exempt foundations by the House group, headed by Rep. Reece (R-Tenn).

Going further, the organizations urged more restraint by Congress in its investigations, and suggested the recently ended public hearings by the Reece committee went beyond their announced purpose.

The statement, signed by Dean Rusk, president of both groups, said the record suggests the committee was using the foundations as "an indirect channel for criticisms of important segments of our national life, such as our educational systems, our scholarly organizations, and many established policies of the government itself."

Various witnesses before the Reece committee expressed the view that foundations have financed subversive activities in addition to scientific and non-controversial projects.

One witness also testified he believed the Rockefeller and certain other foundations "are guilty of violation of the anti-trust laws and should be prosecuted."

The General Education Board was established in 1903 and the Rockefeller Foundation in 1913 by the late John. D. Rockefeller to foster education and research. They operate mainly through grants to colleges. These grants, the statement said, have totalled nearly 820 million dollars.

Asserting "there is no trace of Communist infiltration into either of these foundations," Rusk said the two bodies avoid all propaganda and political activity and "have exercised great care to avoid any such infraction of our tax-exemption privilege."

As for the anti-trust charge, Rusk's 72-page statement said, "there is no monopoly, no combination, no restraint and no trade."

Rusk said, too, the Rockefeller Foundation, while itself tax-exempt paid some $12,785,000 in taxes in 1952 on the corporation stock it owns.

While stressing the foundations do not attempt, and will not attempt, to censor the opinions of those who benefit from their grants, Rusk said they would never knowingly aid any un-American cause. And he said no grant ever has been made to an organization whose name appears on the attorney general's list of subversives.

Non-government bodies and individuals, he said, should use caution in pinning their own "subversive" label on individuals or movements: "The presumption of innocence is more than a luxury to be enjoyed in settled times; it is a vital element in a society of free men who work together by consent and not by force."

The report was accompanied by a statement from John D. Rockefeller III, chairman of the boards of trustees of both organizations, saying the achievements of the two bodies "have been a source of genuine satisfaction" to him, his father and grandfather, and voicing confidence in the other officers and trustees.

Foreign Students Guests Of Lions

Thirty-four students from 12 foreign countries, en route home after spending a year in this country on high school scholarships, were guests of the Romney Lions Club yesterday.

The students are sponsored by the American Field Service, originated in 1914 as an ambulance corps for the Allied troops during World War I and now operating as a non-profit organization to promote peace and understanding among the nations of the world.

The 34 who are staying at the homes of members of the Romney Lions are but one unit among 265 students who are swinging around the country in eight separate tours prior to embarking for their home lands.

Studied In Midwest

The Romney group, composed of 15 girls and 19 boys, were mostly located around the midwest, although one youth spent his year at LaJolla, Calif. All were housed in private homes and all completed senior year studies at the high schools which they attended.

The students who arrived in Romney Tuesday night and who were guests at a Lions Club dinner at the Methodist Church, explained that even though they "graduated" from American high schools they would still have to complete the required studies of their own countries before completing their education.

Running in age from 17 to 19 years, each of the students revealed an excellent command of English and showed an aptness in the use of the latest slang terms.

Most impressive of all, however, was the insight they expressed on how they felt their year in the United States could be put to best use when they returned home. Although the talks were kept on a light level, the students usually rounded out their remarks by telling of some instance which best "explained" the United States to them or how some occurrence would be of assistance in explaining the attitude and aims of America to their fellow-countrymen.

Program Praised

Even with the knowledge that the 34 students were selected from among the top level of their lands, Lions Club officials expressed amazement at the poise and understanding shown by the group. The general attitude of the club members was expressed by former Judge G. K. Kump, who said the scholarship program of the American Field Service was "a great thing, even though the results of it won't be attained for the next ten years."

The AFS program was inaugurated in 1948 when 45 foreign students received scholarships. The number of scholarship grants has increased each year since then until this year's record number, officials claiming even more are expected for the coming school term.

The students receiving scholarships are placed in private homes, AFS officials said, and they are expected to assume the duties and responsibilities of children in the family. Although there is no stress placed on any marks which must be maintained, students so far have placed in the upper third of their classes.

An exchange program is also in effect, but on a limited scale. American students receiving AFS grants study in European schools for from 10 to 12 weeks during the summer months, it was explained.

Following the graduations at the various schools, the students gather at a central point and then swing on a tour of the country, each of this year's eight buses taking a different route.

The Romney unit gathered at Muscatine, Iowa, on July 16 and since then has toured the south, covering Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi. Tomorrow morning they will leave for the Washington area, where they will spend three days. From there, they will leave for their embarkation point, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.

Supervising the Romney group for the AFS are Richard Plunkett, Burlingame, Calif., a student at Columbia University, and Miss Carol Rice, St. Paul, Minn., a student at Vassar. Also accompanying the group is Martin J. Dain, freelance photographer who is covering the tour for Colliers magazine.

The tours are made by bus, and the driver of the Romney group, Leonard Stelk of Chicago, volunteered for this year's trip after making his first tour last year.

The students yesterday were taken on a tour of the Cheat Mountain Orchards, about 15 miles southwest of Romney. Also scheduled was a trip through the plant of the Hampshire Review. Last evening, the students were guests of the Romney Lions Club at its annual family picnic at Hampshire Park.

"Innuendoes" Are Protested By Foundation

Accusations Aired During Probe Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug 4 (AP)—A sweeping denial of any pro-Communist activity, or any violation of the anti-trust laws, was submitted to a special House committee today by the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Education Board.

In a joint statement, the two organizations protested what they termed "bizarre innuendoes" by witnesses in an investigation of tax-exempt foundations by the House group, headed by Rep. Reece (R-Tenn).

Going further, the organizations urged more restraint by Congress in its investigations, and suggested the recently ended public hearings by the Reece committee went beyond their announced purpose.

The statement, signed by Dean Rusk, president of both groups, said the record suggests the committee was using the foundations as "an indirect channel for criticisms of important segments of our national life, such as our educational systems, our scholarly organizations, and many established policies of the government itself."

Various witnesses before the Reece committee expressed the view that foundations have financed subversive activities in addition to scientific and non-controversial projects.

One witness also testified he believed the Rockefeller and certain other foundations "are guilty of violation of the anti-trust laws and should be prosecuted."

The General Education Board was established in 1903 and the Rockefeller Foundation in 1913 by the late John. D. Rockefeller to foster education and research. They operate mainly through grants to colleges. These grants, the statement said, have totalled nearly 820 million dollars.

Asserting "there is no trace of Communist infiltration into either of these foundations," Rusk said the two bodies avoid all propaganda and political activity and "have exercised great care to avoid any such infraction of our tax-exemption privilege."

As for the anti-trust charge, Rusk's 72-page statement said, "there is no monopoly, no combination, no restraint and no trade."

Rusk said, too, the Rockefeller Foundation, while itself tax-exempt paid some $12,785,000 in taxes in 1952 on the corporation stock it owns.

While stressing the foundations do not attempt, and will not attempt, to censor the opinions of those who benefit from their grants, Rusk said they would never knowingly aid any un-American cause. And he said no grant ever has been made to an organization whose name appears on the attorney general's list of subversives.

Non-government bodies and individuals, he said, should use caution in pinning their own "subversive" label on individuals or movements: "The presumption of innocence is more than a luxury to be enjoyed in settled times; it is a vital element in a society of free men who work together by consent and not by force."

The report was accompanied by a statement from John D. Rockefeller III, chairman of the boards of trustees of both organizations, saying the achievements of the two bodies "have been a source of genuine satisfaction" to him, his father and grandfather, and voicing confidence in the other officers and trustees.

The slopes of the Great Smoky mountains are drained by 600 miles of streams. Rainbow and brook trout swim in many of the streams, attracting thousands of anglers.

Foreign Students Guests Of Lions

Thirty-four students from 12 foreign countries, en route home after spending a year in this country on high school scholarships, were guests of the Romney Lions Club yesterday.

The students are sponsored by the American Field Service, originated in 1914 as an ambulance corps for the Allied troops luring World War I and now operating as a non-profit organization to promote peace and understanding among the nations of the world.

The 34 who are staying at the homes of members of the Romney Lions are but one unit among 265 students who are swinging around the country in eight separate tours prior to embarking for their home lands.

Studied In Midwest

The Romney group, composed of 15 girls and 19 boys, were mostly located around the midwest, although one youth spent his year at LaJolla, Calif. All were housed in private homes and all completed senior year studies at the high schools which they attended.

The students who arrived in Romney Tuesday night and who were guests at a Lions Club dinner at the Methodist Church, explained that even though they "graduated" from American high schools they would still have to complete the required studies of their own countries before completing their education.

Running in age from 17 to 19 years, each of the students revealed an excellent command of English and showed an aptness in the use of the latest slang terms.

Most impressive of all, however, was the insight they expressed on how they felt their year in the United States could be put to best use when they returned home. Although the talks were kept on a light level, the students usually rounded out their remarks by telling of some instance which best "explained" the United States to them or how some occurrence would be of assistance in explaining the attitude and aims of America to their fellow-countrymen.

Program Praised

Even with the knowledge that the 34 students were selected from among the top level of their lands, Lions Club officials expressed amazement at the poise and understanding shown by the group. The general attitude of the club members was expressed by former Judge G. K. Kump, who said the scholarship program of the American Field Service was "a great thing, even though the results of it won't be attained for the next ten years."

The AFS program was inaugurated in 1948 when 45 foreign students received scholarships. The number of scholarship grants has increased each year since then until this year's record number, officials claiming even more are expected for the coming school term.

Army Sergeants Assist Hospital

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—Two sergeants who have been recruiting men for the Army and Air Force in Southern Maryland have turned their talents to recruiting dollars for St. Marys County Hospital.

The result is that the town's going to have a big party on Sept. 4.

The two sergeants are Russell E. Kelly of the Army and John D. Coombs of the Air Force.

They were attracted to a campaign to raise $250,000 for a new wing which will more than double the bed capacity of the hospital. Casting about for ways to help, they decided a big community block party would be a good idea.

Their efforts resulted in the 60-piece Second Army Band from Fort Meade being assigned here Sept. 4 to play a concert in the evening and then provide the music for a dance.

The town government agreed to provide the room—the big paved parking area between the St. Marys County courthouse and the municipal building.

Nasser Would Accept U. S. Aid

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 4 (AP)—Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser said yesterday Egypt would welcome American military assistance in building stronger Egyptian armed forces. He added, "we assume that in the event some other power attacks us, the United States will come to our aid."

Nasser made these statements in an interview. He denied recent Israeli charges that the evacuation of the British from the Suez Canal zone would result in Egyptian aggression against Israel, declaring "we want peace to cope with our vital internal problems."

He said he believed the United States could act as mediator between Israel and the Arab states.

The whole tone of his conversation indicated a friendlier attitude toward Western nations, and the United States in particular, than had been previously evident.

This is probably a reflection of the British-Egyptian agreement returning Suez bases to Egypt.

He said he has sensed a change in American policy in the Middle East since the Eisenhower administration took office.

"It has been evident not only in statements but in actions," he said. He declined to specify what the actions were.

Along The Potomac

by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON—Last week was a big one in the story of the taxpayers' dollars—legislative action on the Administration's $7½-billion tax reduction was completed.

Earlier, it was announced that the federal budget came within $3 billion of balancing for the fiscal year just ended.

Everybody in the government—Congress and the executive branch alike—have contributed their share in effecting the economies which made these achievements possible.

While the new Hoover Commission is at work finding new ways to save money, some steps have already been taken. Here are some random samples which I've gleaned from news reports over the past 18 months:

The Federal payroll has been reduced by 219,000 persons—nearly ten per cent.

The Treasury is having worn-out currency burned at the 12 scattered Federal Reserve banks instead of shipping it to Washington. Savings: $200,000 a year in shipping.

The Post Office is mending worn mailbags at regional centers instead of shipping them to Washington. Saving: $250,000 a year.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is making dollar bills 18 to a sheet of paper instead of 12. Saving: One-third of the paper costs.

The Bureau of the Budget is eliminating 7,000 autos from the government's fleet of 62,000. Saving: $2 million a year.

General Services Administration has standardized government supplies—17 kinds of mimeograph paper instead of 172; three types of lead pencils instead of 11; five kinds of office desks instead of 28, etc. Saving: nearly $70 million.

This philosophy of economy runs through the whole government. Even in the State Department, officials overseas used to receive fancy glass paperweights which had a map of the western hemisphere on them. The department doesn't ship these expensive items overseas any more.

A new auditor, whose name I would publish if I had it, said: "Let 'em buy a native paperweight, or pick up a rock in their back yard."

On my calendar: I'll be at the dedication of the new Glen Echo Heights fire house Saturday . . . Later that day I'll address the Knights of the Tournament at the annual St. Mary's picnic in Barnesville . . . Tuesday I'll speak before the Loughboro Lions Club in Bethesda.

Navy Vet To Proclaim "Guilt" In A-Bombing

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Aug. 4 (AP)—Selectmen of this town granted permission today to Navy veteran Hollis Wyman of Monterey, Mass., to walk the street Saturday and make a "personal proclamation" of guilt in the atom bombing of Japan nine years ago and in the Hydrogen bomb tests last spring.

Wyman said he had been guilty of "burning his fellow human beings, first as a naval officer in Japanese waters and secondly as a United States citizen during the H-bomb tests."

The self-styled "pacifist Christian" said he chose Saturday for his "proclamation" because it fell between the anniversaries of the two atom explosions in Japan during the war.

Two thirds of the residents of Mississippi derive their living from the soil.

Engine Purr Restored By Saucer Of Milk

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 3 (AP)—A mechanic used a saucer of milk to restore the purr to the engine of Mrs. Mike Dobson's auto.

Mrs. Dobson described for a mechanic this week weird sounds she said were coming from the engine.

Mechanic Don Brossman said it sounded like fan belt trouble to him, but he found nothing wrong. So he started the engine and there arose those sounds Mrs. Dobson had described.

Brossman got under the car for another look, and this time he spotted the trouble:

A kitten was homesteading between the manifold and motor block, and a cozy home it was until the engine got hot. That's when the yowls started.

Brossman gave the kitten a home.

It would take an express train about 200 years to reach the sun from the earth.

Cyprus Problem May Weaken NATO Line

The southern flank of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance has always been considered fairly secure against political wind and wave. Anchored by Turkey, and bolstered by Greece, the NATO bastion is a formidable bar against predatory moves by Russia.

But behind the bastion the disposition of an island may cause serious trouble among the Allies. Within a few weeks the UN will hear the story of Greek efforts to regain Cyprus from Great Britain.

Cyprus is only a few hundred miles from the Suez Canal. Under agreements reached with Egypt, Britain will soon start evacuating 80,000 troops from the Canal Zone, and the plan had been to transfer the entire Mid-Eastern military headquarters to Cyprus.

Greek arguments before the UN will be based on the principle of self-determination. There are approximately 500,000 inhabitants of Greek extraction on the island, comprising two-thirds of the total population. A poll is alleged to have revealed that 96 per cent of the Greek-speaking population favored annexation by Greece.

The Cyprus question is still more complicated because the island originally belonged to Turkey, but was handed to Britain under Disraeli in the 1870s and formally annexed at the outbreak of World War I. Turkey feels that if the island is cut loose it should revert to her, and the traditional incompatibility of Greece and Turkey may again show its face.

Due Process

Those who complain about Senator McCarthy's improprieties might raise the question of due process.

1. A Committee of the Senate finds itself involved in accusations of unbecoming conduct on the part of its Chairman and members of its staff. Direct complaints are made against the Chairman, the Chief Counsel, and the administrative officer of the Committee by a special counsel engaged by the Department of the Army after a conference had been held in the office of the Attorney General of the United States which was attended by important members of the Executive branch of the Government;

2. The three who were accused of impropriety made an answer;

3. The Committee decided to conduct an investigation into its affairs, chose Senator Karl Mundt to preside and Ray Jenkins of Knoxville, Tennessee, as special counsel;

4. A hearing was held which took testimony for 36 days in public, in the presence of press, radio, television and a large audience. In addition, a number of witnesses were held in Executive Session. Millions of words of testimony were taken all of which were duly recorded, and except those taken in Executive Session, they have been printed;

5. It was stated that the Counsel for the Committee would digest the testimony and make a report to the Committee which is empowered to act upon it. The Committee, under the Chairmanship of Karl Mundt, would then file its report with the Committee on Government Operations which would make a decision from which an appeal could be taken to the Senate for action.

This procedure, which is orderly and conforms, as much as possible, to the traditions and rights of the Senate and all parties concerned, was violated during the last hour of the McCarthy-Stevens hearing by Senator Charles Potter whose report was issued to the press before it was filed with the Committee of which he is a member and before the last word of testimony was in. Senator Potter's impropriety may have many explanations. The only realistic explanation can be that he did it because he wanted to do it and that it satisfied those who had anticipated that the hearings would disclose gross improprieties on the part of Senator McCarthy and Roy Cohn which, if they took place, were not brought out in evidence.

At any rate, Senator Potter's obligation to his colleagues was to file his statement at the Hearing and not to issue it as a press release while the Hearing was still in session. For this insult to his colleagues, Senator Potter was not reprimanded because it is really impossible to reprimand a Senator who is a sovereign in his own right.

Senator Potter also placed himself in the position of voting with the Democrats against his Republican colleagues, which was duly acknowledged by Senator McClellan who shouted, "Welcome Democrat!" Senator Potter is not running for re-election this year; were he running for re-election this year, it is doubtful if he would have acted in this manner.

Into this situation entered the aged and years-weary Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont who also did not wait for the report of the Committee but who projected himself as a private judge, made deliberately untruthful statements concerning Roy Cohn, maligning his private morals. He also proposed a Senatorial reprimand for Senator McCarthy. One of his charges is that the McCarthy Committee has been investigating and keeping files on certain Senators. I do not know how true that is of the McCarthy Committee but there are files concerning the relations between some United States Senators and Communists.

Even I, a humble reporter, to use the favorite word of Mr. Welch of Boston, have some data about some Senators I do not use because I do not engage in gossip. Some day some Committee will perhaps haplessly bring such data forward and they might stumble on the efforts to keep Michael Greenberg on the government payroll, and also they might glance at the continuing friendships of Alger and Priscilla Hiss who have more defenders than speak out in public.

Senator Flanders did not wait for the Jenkins report, or for majority and minority reports of the Mundt Committee but went off entirely on his own against the wishes of many of his colleagues who felt that he was out of order. There was no due process in Senator Flanders' conduct.

New Look For Military Is Out; Army Learns The GI Is Not Yet Obsolete

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—While Congress has been sweating out its last hot weather convulsions, vitally important decisions are being made backstage in the Pentagon which will affect your pocketbook and future taxes.

The "New Look" for the military definitely has been abandoned. Further military cuts are out the window. The Eisenhower hope of balancing the budget is being chalked up privately as a sincere but hopeless hope.

The drastic revision in military planning has been made as the result of some gloomy reports on the international picture, plus the consistent hammering of Gen. Matt Ridgway that footsoldiers must continue to be important, despite the A-bomb.

One gloomy report comes from General James Van Fleet, former U. S. commander in Korea, who has been making a Far Eastern survey for Eisenhower. His military thinking coincides with that of Dr. Syngman Rhee—namely that the United States should resume war in Kore.. This, of course, has been turned down.

But what cannot be ignored is Gen. Van Fleet's warning that the Chinese Reds are going to invade Formosa. If successful, this would mean that the last vestiges of the Chinese Nationalists would disappear and that the United States would have far less chance to bar Red China from the UN. Also, such an invasion would make ridiculous the much-publicized White House announcement last year, in fulfillment of a campaign promise, that the U. S. Seventh Fleet was being relieved of its job of keeping Chiang Kai-shek from attacking the mainland. Henceforth he would be free to attack.

Now it develops, according to Gen. Van Fleet, that Formosa will have to be protected again after all, and that the idea of using Chiang's troops either in Korea or Indo-China was pure politics.

Humphrey Gets Taken

Frank Edwards, the AFL commentator, was staging one of his broadcasts from the radio press room of Congress during the famous filibuster. His guest was to be Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, a crusader against the bill giving control of atomic production to private industry.

Edwards was rehearsing his broadcast preparatory to going on the air at 10 p. m., as Senator Humphrey approached at 9:55 and peered through the glass door of the radio studio. Edwards had every appearance of being on the air. In fact, he kept reading the script aloud as the Senator walked in. Edwards waved him to a chair, kept on talking.

"And now," he said, as he continued talking into the microphone, "I have a special guest tonight who will explain the Senate fight over atomic energy. He is Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, who is up for re-election this year and who seems to be adopting the policy of 'To Hell with the people of Minnesota.'"

Humphrey jumped from his chair as if someone had hit him.

It took him some moments to realize that it was only 9:55 and Edwards did not go on the air until 10 p. m.

Empty Senate Honor

Strangest Senate race of the year is for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Dwight Griswold, Nebraska Republican. His successor will serve only two months—November and December—at which time Senate is not in session. In other words, this two-month Senator will never be sworn in, will never take his seat, and won't even have to go to Washington.

Yet 16 candidates have filed for the short-term office, and are busily campaigning up and down Nebraska. They are buying up advertising, sending out letters, making fantastic promises to the voters. Some are promising to follow President Eisenhower's policies; others are offering a more conservative platform.

Of course, the winner will never get an opportunity to carry out his election promises. Only candidate who is frankly admitting to the voters that he wants the job simply for the honor and prestige is Mac Baldrige, Nebraska Republican, onetime popular Congressman from Nebraska.

Mail Bag

H. Y., Odessa, Texas—Governor Shivers did recommend to the White House, following his trip to the Far East, that Japan should be permitted to resume trade with Red China.

R. W., New Orleans—The Justice Department ruling that Texas is not permitted more than three miles of offshore tidelands oil—the same amount as the other coastal states—is based upon the boundaries delineated by Thomas Jefferson. This was fully explained by Jack Tait, State Department solicitor, during the tidelands oil hearings. He made it quite clear the United States was not going to recognize Texas' claim of 10½ miles and that the 10½ miles claim, though put forward by Spain and Mexico, at no time was recognized by the United States. Both Governor Shivers and Sen. Price Daniel must have known this at the time the Tidelands Oil Bill was passed. Certainly it was made perfectly clear during the hearings.

Move To 'Get McCarthy' Ignores Rules Of Fair Play

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Roman Senate called it "ad hominem," which means an attack on the man rather than the issues he raises, and evidently Senatorial habits haven't changed through centuries of time.

The effort to "Get McCarthy" is slowly reaching the proportions of a widely instigated hysteria. Judging from some of the vituperative letters which are coming to the members of Congress from anti-McCarthyites, the writers want to use any totalitarian method—from abuse to conviction without a trial—if only to rid the Senate of its most spectacular prosecutor of Communists.

Even United States Senators of the so-called "liberal" school are saying that, while the Constitution declares that no citizen shall be deprived of his right of free speech—and Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court defined this as "freedom for the thought we hate"—the Wisconsin Senator nevertheless must be publicly "censured" for the opinions he expresses. The Constitution says in an article about the rights of members of Congress:

"And for any speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place."

Gag On Free Speech

This now is being construed by a small number of anti-McCarthy Senators as meaning that a Senator can be punished for his views by the Senate itself, which is but another way of saying that, because each House of Congress makes its own "rules" of procedure and passes on credentials after elections, this gives Congress the right to invoke that same authority to censure a member publicly for his attitude toward public policies.

This is a form of "thought control" which does not square with the utterances of so-called "liberals" who have been claiming that citizens were being punished for being members of the Communist Party. The courts have ruled that leaders of that party are engaged in a conspiracy to overthrow the Government. Mr. McCarthy ought at least to have the same civil rights as Communists claim.

Far from being a disadvantage to the anti-Communist crusade in America, the controversy initiated by Senator Flanders of Vermont is turning out to be a salutary development. It is exposing to full view the arbitrary methods of the anti-anti-Communists, and it will probably lead now to a full-dress debate in the Senate or before the new select committee on every phase of the charges made against the Wisconsin Senator. It will presumably give him a larger audience than before to reveal all the tricks and intrigues of Communist-connected witnesses who have refused to give their own Government even the simplest facts concerning their knowledge of the Communist activity of others.

As for the charges against McCarthy, the man, these continue to be spread without the slightest evidence of guilt, and there are many who call themselves "liberals" who are so emotional that they are ready to convict Senator McCarthy without hearing or reading any of the evidence from his side. They justify this as "a dose of his own medicine" thus ignoring the age-old maxim that two wrongs never make a single right.

The specific charges or "bill of particulars" given by other Senators in their attempt to get a "censure" resolution passed relate to incidents that have already been dealt with. The Truman Administration investigated Senator McCarthy's income-tax returns and, if it could have prosecuted him, it would have done so. The Department of Justice examined all the other charges and found no violation of law. As for the article written by Senator McCarthy for publication as a booklet on housing for veterans, the manuscript of which was bought by the Lustron Corporation, a newspaper which was called to account in a libel suit for its attack on Senator McCarthy on this very charge finally acknowledged in a public statement it was "convinced that Senator McCarthy's part in this transaction was on the same plane as the common practice among legislators of accepting fees for speeches and earning other fees for legitimate services."

No Wrongdoing Seen

The same newspaper stated that "there has not been any evidence presented before any committee or elsewhere that Senator McCarthy in any way attempted to intercede in behalf of Lustron." This refers to any possible impropriety in doing a favor for the Lustron Corporation, which was then doing business with the Government. Its contracts were with the Truman executive agencies with which the Wisconsin Senator, of course, had no influence.

Yet United States Senators on the "liberal" side have been demanding that the Senate, without taking any further testimony, without giving any hearing and without getting all the facts, should render a verdict of "guilty" against the Wisconsin Senator. That's the trend now among the "liberals"—to forget all the rules of fair play and to condemn the Senator from Wisconsin just because many of their constituents, swept with an emotional prejudice, are demanding his scalp. If that isn't "witch-hunting," then the anti-McCarthyites have been misusing the term.

So far as the Senate "liberals" are concerned—many of whom have been accepting fees for speeches before labor unions and trade associations—they cannot "cast the first stone," as they are not now "without sin" themselves, if indeed it be sinful for a Senator to make a speech for money before an organization which has legislation pending in Congress. The rise in hypocrisy here seems to coincide with the rise in temperature on Capitol Hill.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Make no bones of the doubt that the White House is up for refills. There's something about that job that makes the incumbent hate to have his mail forwarded elsewhere.

It cannot be the morose portraits of distinguished predecessors frowning up around the plate rail. Nor the haunting lilt of the Missouri Waltz clinging to the acoustics.

Neither is it the fascination of the extra porch rockers swinging to the standard cadence of two-thirds plurality. Every President except Washington wanted the repeater to vindicate his campaign promises. It takes the public eight years to forget 'em.

Ike's handling of the Army-McCarthy embrawlio proofed that he had reached political maturity. All good politicos wear kid gloves when kicking an opponent in the parliamentary shins.

Whether you gaze high or low on the bifocals Ike is now a statesman. He put over his farm bill on the fly-leaf of mail order catalogues.

In 1952 Ike knocked over four Southern states and picked up legislative corn in North Carolina and Virginia. In Ike's good neighbor policy the other guy doesn't necessarily have to live next door.

We agree with Ike's flexible dollar policy wtih everything loose except the change. The Senate endorsed his tax-reform program even though the Democrats played it down like a solo on an oboe.

Ike wants to make taxes easier. But doesn't say whether he means to pay or collect.

The Case Of Dr. John: II

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

As a result of the most painstaking detective work, those in the best position to judge have reached a tentative conclusion in the case of Dr. Otto John. This is that John may well have been lured into a carefully baited trap, in as brilliant a coup as the Soviet secret service apparatus has ever brought off.

John is, of course, the West German counter-espionage chief who crossed over from West to East Berlin on the night of July 20. He has since broadcast twice over the Communist radio — his tone was curiously stiff and unnatural, but the voice was indubitably his. His apparently voluntary defection and his pro-Communist broadcasts have been a blow of major proportions to Germany's pro-Western Adenauer government, and to the Western Alliance as a whole.

Every organ of Communist propaganda has been loudly hailing John's act as one of voluntary political protest. This version of the case has been widely accepted, here and abroad. But those closest to the case point out that this version leaves certain questions very much unanswered.

Why, for example, when Dr. John left his hotel room, did he first empty all his pockets of secret papers, telling his wife to keep an eye on them? Why, for that matter, if he was really pro-Communist all the time, did he not go over with a briefcase bulging with the many secrets to which he had access?

Or again, why did he take no personal belongings with him, if he really meant to stay in the East? Nothing is easier than to cross from East to West Berlin, carrying as many bundles as you like.

John had a genuine affection for his wife, as the curious letters previously quoted in this space suggest. If he intended to cross over, he must have known that he would probably never see her again. Why, then, did he leave her without a word of affection or farewell, muttering something about a beer?

There are political as well as personal questions which need to be answered. John had participated in the plot against Hitler's life, and he was profoundly anti-Nazi. But all the evidence suggests that he was profoundly anti-Communist as well—until the very day he went over, he was busily at work uncovering Communist subversion nets. His defection has given great aid and comfort to the neo-Nazis, who claim that it proves that all anti-Nazis were traitors at heart. Why should John voluntarily choose to give aid and comfort to his old enemies on both left and right?

Why, finally, is Dr. John now being kept in a "location inaccessible to the public organs of our republic," as a confidential East German government memorandum warned the German Communist press? If he was secretly pro-Communist all the time, why does his brain now need washing?

Dr. John had every reason to be tempted by a well-baited trap. He was under heavy political attack from right and left. A great coup, brought off at great personal risk, would reinforce his position. It is thus not difficult to imagine the kind of bait that his sinister acquaintance, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, might have dangled before him—if only he would take the risk of crossing over into East Berlin. Indeed, since Dr. Wohlgemuth's specialty was the use of hypnotic drugs, it may have been necessary to tempt Dr. John no further than Wohlgemuth's apartment.

The Soviet secret service apparatus, moreover, had every reason to bait the trap well. For one thing, the Soviet intelligence has been very badly compromised since the fall of Beria. The Soviet operatives who have defected and whose names are known—like Rastovorov, Petrov, and Kohlkov—make up only a fraction of the total who have come over to our side.

The Soviets set great store by face-saving, and the defection to their side of so big a fish as Dr. John would save a lot of Soviet face. Moreover—although in fact John, as internal security chief, knew very little about Western intelligence operations — Communist propaganda has hammered hard on the theme that he has identified every last "Fascist spy." Pro-Western intelligence and resistance groups can thus hardly be blamed for lying low—and for a long time.

But the really decisive advantage to the Soviets has been political. It is now the eve of decision for Western Europe. These next few weeks provide the last chance for a democratic, anti-Communist Germany firmly tied into the Western world. At this moment of history, one man, simply by crossing from one side of Berlin to the other, has awakened old fears in France, strengthened the neutralists and the neo-Nazis as well as the Communists in Germany, and placed on added strain on the strained Western Alliance.

It may be of course, that there are answers to the questions listed above, and that Dr. John did indeed voluntarily condemn himself to the "inaccessible location" where he is now. But it is also reasonable to assume that the Soviet secret service would go to very great lengths to bring him here.

Radioactive Isotopes Play Growing Part In Diagnosis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Radioactive isotopes are the peace time components of the atomic bomb. Both agents stem from the cyclotron and represent the latest weapons in medical and military fields. One is aimed at saving life and the other at destruction. Isotopes are not as dangerous as atomic bombs nor are they innocuous playthings. They represent ordinary chemicals that have been made radioactive.

When a chemical is made radioactive, it behaves just as it did before except for giving off rays. To date, more than 1,000 substances of this nature have been prepared but less than 70 show signs of being of practical value. When a chemical is made radioactive it is referred to as "tagged." The symbols for iodine and phosphorus are I and P respectively but they become I-131 and P-32 to denote tagging.

Not all these products can hold on to their radioactivity; in time they lose it and revert to their former state. The length of time they remain radioactive is stated in terms of "half-life." Some isotopes have a "half-life" that is measured in seconds, others in minutes, hours, or years. Ninety-nine give off rays for more than 60 days and scientists estimate that some will remain active for 1,000 years.

These substances have created many new research and diagnostic tools. When injected into the body, their course can be traced with the geiger counter, a sensitive machine that clicks whenever it detects beta or gamma rays. The more rays, the louder the clicks, and vice versa. If the counter is held over a foot, for example, while radioactive material is injected into an arm, clicking will start as soon as the blood brings the tagged material to the foot.

Some organs are known to absorb and store certain chemicals and, when this occurs, clicking will be confined to the area over these structures. This is why radioactive iodine is so valuable in diagnosing and treating thyroid disorders. Iodine settles in the thyroid and, when taken internally, the clicking sound means that the gland is overactive and needs more than the usual amount of this element.

In brain tumor, if radioactive phosphorus, radioactive iodinated human serum albumin, or radioactive germanium is injected, it will gravitate toward these growths. When the counter is held over the head it not only helps detect a tumor but tells the surgeon its location.

Isotopes also are of value in treating certain external and internal cancers. The cobalt bomb is made by placing radioactive cobalt (Co-60) in a special container with a hole through which the rays give off an equivalent of a 3 million volt X-ray machine. These bombs are being used in cancer centers for the treatment of deep seated malignant growths.

Even I, a humble reporter, to use the favorite word of Mr. Welch of Boston, have some data about some Senators I do not use because I do not engage in gossip. Some day some Committee will perhaps haplessly bring such data forward and they might stumble on the efforts to keep Michael Greenberg on the government payroll, and also they might glance at the continuing friendships of Alger and Priscilla Hiss who have more defenders than speak out in public.

Senator Flanders did not wait for the Jenkins report, or for majority and minority reports of the Mundt Committee but went off entirely on his own against the wishes of many of his colleagues who felt that he was out of order. There was no due process in Senator Flanders' conduct.

New Look For Military Is Out; Army Learns The GI Is Not Yet Obsolete

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—While Congress has been sweating out its last hot weather convulsions, vitally important decisions are being made backstage in the Pentagon which will affect your pocketbook and future taxes.

The "New Look" for the military definitely has been abandoned. Further military cuts are out the window. The Eisenhower hope of balancing the budget is being chalked up privately as a sincere but hopeless hope.

The drastic revision in military planning has been made as the result of some gloomy reports on the international picture, plus the consistent hammering of Gen. Matt Ridgway that footsoldiers must continue to be important, despite the A-bomb.

One gloomy report comes from General James Van Fleet, former U. S. commander in Korea, who has been making a Far Eastern survey for Eisenhower. His military thinking coincides with that of Dr. Syngman Rhee—namely that the United States should resume war in Kore.. This, of course, has been turned down.

But what cannot be ignored is Gen. Van Fleet's warning that the Chinese Reds are going to invade Formosa. If successful, this would mean that the last vestiges of the Chinese Nationalists would disappear and that the United States would have far less chance to bar Red China from the UN. Also, such an invasion would make ridiculous the much-publicized White House announcement last year, in fulfillment of a campaign promise, that the U. S. Seventh Fleet was being relieved of its job of keeping Chiang Kai-shek from attacking the mainland. Henceforth he would be free to attack.

Now it develops, according to Gen. Van Fleet, that Formosa will have to be protected again after all, and that the idea of using Chiang's troops either in Korea or Indo-China was pure politics.

Humphrey Gets Taken

Frank Edwards, the AFL commentator, was staging one of his broadcasts from the radio press room of Congress during the famous filibuster. His guest was to be Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, a crusader against the bill giving control of atomic production to private industry.

Edwards was rehearsing his broadcast preparatory to going on the air at 10 p. m., as Senator Humphrey approached at 9:55 and peered through the glass door of the radio studio. Edwards had every appearance of being on the air. In fact, he kept reading the script aloud as the Senator walked in. Edwards waved him to a chair, kept on talking.

"And now," he said, as he continued talking into the microphone, "I have a special guest tonight who will explain the Senate fight over atomic energy. He is Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, who is up for re-election this year and who seems to be adopting the policy of 'To Hell with the people of Minnesota.'"

Humphrey jumped from his chair as if someone had hit him.

It took him some moments to realize that it was only 9:55 and Edwards did not go on the air until 10 p. m.

Empty Senate Honor

Strangest Senate race of the year is for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Dwight Griswold, Nebraska Republican. His successor will serve only two months—November and December—at which time Senate is not in session. In other words, this two-month Senator will never be sworn in, will never take his seat, and won't even have to go to Washington.

Yet 16 candidates have filed for the short-term office, and are busily campaigning up and down Nebraska. They are buying up advertising, sending out letters, making fantastic promises to the voters. Some are promising to follow President Eisenhower's policies; others are offering a more conservative platform.

Of course, the winner will never get an opportunity to carry out his election promises. Only candidate who is frankly admitting to the voters that he wants the job simply for the honor and prestige is Mac Baldrige, Nebraska Republican, onetime popular Congressman from Nebraska.

Mail Bag

H. Y., Odessa, Texas—Governor Shivers did recommend to the White House, following his trip to the Far East, that Japan should be permitted to resume trade with Red China.

R. W., New Orleans—The Justice Department ruling that Texas is not permitted more than three miles of offshore tidelands oil—the same amount as the other coastal states—is based upon the boundaries delineated by Thomas Jefferson. This was fully explained by Jack Tait, State Department solicitor, during the tidelands oil hearings. He made it quite clear the United States was not going to recognize Texas' claim of 10½ miles and that the 10½ miles claim, though put forward by Spain and Mexico, at no time was recognized by the United States. Both Governor Shivers and Sen. Price Daniel must have known this at the time the Tidelands Oil Bill was passed. Certainly it was made perfectly clear during the hearings.

Move To 'Get McCarthy' Ignores Rules Of Fair Play

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Roman Senate called it "ad hominem," which means an attack on the man rather than the issues he raises, and evidently Senatorial habits haven't changed through centuries of time.

The effort to "Get McCarthy" is slowly reaching the proportions of a widely instigated hysteria. Judging from some of the vituperative letters which are coming to the members of Congress from anti-McCarthyites, the writers want to use any totalitarian method—from abuse to conviction without a trial—if only to rid the Senate of its most spectacular prosecutor of Communists.

Even United States Senators of the so-called "liberal" school are saying that, while the Constitution declares that no citizen shall be deprived of his right of free speech—and Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court defined this as "freedom for the thought we hate"—the Wisconsin Senator nevertheless must be publicly "censured" for the opinions he expresses. The Constitution says in an article about the rights of members of Congress:

"And for any speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place."

Gag On Free Speech

This now is being construed by a small number of anti-McCarthy Senators as meaning that a Senator can be punished for his views by the Senate itself, which is but another way of saying that, because each House of Congress makes its own "rules" of procedure and passes on credentials after elections, this gives Congress the right to invoke that same authority to censure a member publicly for his attitude toward public policies.

This is a form of "thought control" which does not square with the utterances of so-called "liberals" who have been claiming that citizens were being punished for being members of the Communist Party. The courts have ruled that leaders of that party are engaged in a conspiracy to overthrow the Government. Mr. McCarthy ought at least to have the same civil rights as Communists claim.

Far from being a disadvantage to the anti-Communist crusade in America, the controversy initiated by Senator Flanders of Vermont is turning out to be a salutary development. It is exposing to full view the arbitrary methods of the anti-anti-Communists, and it will probably lead now to a full-dress debate in the Senate or before the new select committee on every phase of the charges made against the Wisconsin Senator. It will presumably give him a larger audience than before to reveal all the tricks and intrigues of Communist-connected witnesses who have refused to give their own Government even the simplest facts concerning their knowledge of the Communist activity of others.

As for the charges against McCarthy, the man, these continue to be spread without the slightest evidence of guilt, and there are many who call themselves "liberals" who are so emotional that they are ready to convict Senator McCarthy without hearing or reading any of the evidence from his side. They justify this as "a dose of his own medicine" thus ignoring the age-old maxim that two wrongs never make a single right.

The specific charges or "bill of particulars" given by other Senators in their attempt to get a "censure" resolution passed relate to incidents that have already been dealt with. The Truman Administration investigated Senator McCarthy's income-tax returns and, if it could have prosecuted him, it would have done so. The Department of Justice examined all the other charges and found no violation of law. As for the article written by Senator McCarthy for publication as a booklet on housing for veterans, the manuscript of which was bought by the Lustron Corporation, a newspaper which was called to account in a libel suit for its attack on Senator McCarthy on this very charge finally acknowledged in a public statement it was "convinced that Senator McCarthy's part in this transaction was on the same plane as the common practice among legislators of accepting fees for speeches and earning other fees for legitimate services."

No Wrongdoing Seen

The same newspaper stated that "there has not been any evidence presented before any committee or elsewhere that Senator McCarthy in any way attempted to intercede in behalf of Lustron." This refers to any possible impropriety in doing a favor for the Lustron Corporation, which was then doing business with the Government. Its contracts were with the Truman executive agencies with which the Wisconsin Senator, of course, had no influence.

Yet United States Senators on the "liberal" side have been demanding that the Senate, without taking any further testimony, without giving any hearing and without getting all the facts, should render a verdict of "guilty" against the Wisconsin Senator. That's the trend now among the "liberals"—to forget all the rules of fair play and to condemn the Senator from Wisconsin just because many of their constituents, swept with an emotional prejudice, are demanding his scalp. If that isn't "witch-hunting," then the anti-McCarthyites have been misusing the term.

So far as the Senate "liberals" are concerned—many of whom have been accepting fees for speeches before labor unions and trade associations—they cannot "cast the first stone," as they are not now "without sin" themselves, if indeed it be sinful for a Senator to make a speech for money before an organization which has legislation pending in Congress. The rise in hypocrisy here seems to coincide with the rise in temperature on Capitol Hill.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Make no bones of the doubt that the White House is up for refills. There's something about that job that makes the incumbent hate to have his mail forwarded elsewhere.

It cannot be the morose portraits of distinguished predecessors frowning up around the plate rail. Nor the haunting lilt of the Missouri Waltz clinging to the acoustics.

Neither is it the fascination of the extra porch rockers swinging to the standard cadence of two-thirds plurality. Every President except Washington wanted the repeater to vindicate his campaign promises. It takes the public eight years to forget 'em.

Ike's handling of the Army-McCarthy embrawlio proofed that he had reached political maturity. All good politicos wear kid gloves when kicking an opponent in the parliamentary shins.

Whether you gaze high or low on the bifocals Ike is now a statesman. He put over his farm bill on the fly-leaf of mail order catalogues.

In 1952 Ike knocked over four Southern states and picked up legislative corn in North Carolina and Virginia. In Ike's good neighbor policy the other guy doesn't necessarily have to live next door.

We agree with Ike's flexible dollar policy wtih everything loose except the change. The Senate endorsed his tax-reform program even though the Democrats played it down like a solo on an oboe.

Ike wants to make taxes easier. But doesn't say whether he means to pay or collect.

The Case Of Dr. John: II

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

As a result of the most painstaking detective work, those in the best position to judge have reached a tentative conclusion in the case of Dr. Otto John. This is that John may well have been lured into a carefully baited trap, in as brilliant a coup as the Soviet secret service apparatus has ever brought off.

John is, of course, the West German counter-espionage chief who crossed over from West to East Berlin on the night of July 20. He has since broadcast twice over the Communist radio — his tone was curiously stiff and unnatural, but the voice was indubitably his. His apparently voluntary defection and his pro-Communist broadcasts have been a blow of major proportions to Germany's pro-Western Adenauer government, and to the Western Alliance as a whole.

Every organ of Communist propaganda has been loudly hailing John's act as one of voluntary political protest. This version of the case has been widely accepted, here and abroad. But those closest to the case point out that this version leaves certain questions very much unanswered.

Why, for example, when Dr. John left his hotel room, did he first empty all his pockets of secret papers, telling his wife to keep an eye on them? Why, for that matter, if he was really pro-Communist all the time, did he not go over with a briefcase bulging with the many secrets to which he had access?

Or again, why did he take no personal belongings with him, if he really meant to stay in the East? Nothing is easier than to cross from East to West Berlin, carrying as many bundles as you like.

John had a genuine affection for his wife, as the curious letters previously quoted in this space suggest. If he intended to cross over, he must have known that he would probably never see her again. Why, then, did he leave her without a word of affection or farewell, muttering something about a beer?

There are political as well as personal questions which need to be answered. John had participated in the plot against Hitler's life, and he was profoundly anti-Nazi. But all the evidence suggests that he was profoundly anti-Communist as well—until the very day he went over, he was busily at work uncovering Communist subversion nets. His defection has given great aid and comfort to the neo-Nazis, who claim that it proves that all anti-Nazis were traitors at heart. Why should John voluntarily choose to give aid and comfort to his old enemies on both left and right?

Why, finally, is Dr. John now being kept in a "location inaccessible to the public organs of our republic," as a confidential East German government memorandum warned the German Communist press? If he was secretly pro-Communist all the time, why does his brain now need washing?

Dr. John had every reason to be tempted by a well-baited trap. He was under heavy political attack from right and left. A great coup, brought off at great personal risk, would reinforce his position. It is thus not difficult to imagine the kind of bait that his sinister acquaintance, Dr. Wolfgang Wohlgemuth, might have dangled before him—if only he would take the risk of crossing over into East Berlin. Indeed, since Dr. Wohlgemuth's specialty was the use of hypnotic drugs, it may have been necessary to tempt Dr. John no further than Wohlgemuth's apartment.

The Soviet secret service apparatus, moreover, had every reason to bait the trap well. For one thing, the Soviet intelligence has been very badly compromised since the fall of Beria. The Soviet operatives who have defected and whose names are known—like Rastovorov, Petrov, and Kohlkov—make up only a fraction of the total who have come over to our side.

The Soviets set great store by face-saving, and the defection to their side of so big a fish as Dr. John would save a lot of Soviet face. Moreover—although in fact John, as internal security chief, knew very little about Western intelligence operations — Communist propaganda has hammered hard on the theme that he has identified every last "Fascist spy." Pro-Western intelligence and resistance groups can thus hardly be blamed for lying low—and for a long time.

But the really decisive advantage to the Soviets has been political. It is now the eve of decision for Western Europe. These next few weeks provide the last chance for a democratic, anti-Communist Germany firmly tied into the Western world. At this moment of history, one man, simply by crossing from one side of Berlin to the other, has awakened old fears in France, strengthened the neutralists and the neo-Nazis as well as the Communists in Germany, and placed on added strain on the strained Western Alliance.

It may be of course, that there are answers to the questions listed above, and that Dr. John did indeed voluntarily condemn himself to the "inaccessible location" where he is now. But it is also reasonable to assume that the Soviet secret service would go to very great lengths to bring him here.

Radioactive Isotopes Play Growing Part In Diagnosis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Radioactive isotopes are the peace time components of the atomic bomb. Both agents stem from the cyclotron and represent the latest weapons in medical and military fields. One is aimed at saving life and the other at destruction. Isotopes are not as dangerous as atomic bombs nor are they innocuous playthings. They represent ordinary chemicals that have been made radioactive.

When a chemical is made radioactive, it behaves just as it did before except for giving off rays. To date, more than 1,000 substances of this nature have been prepared but less than 70 show signs of being of practical value. When a chemical is made radioactive it is referred to as "tagged." The symbols for iodine and phosphorus are I and P respectively but they become I-131 and P-32 to denote tagging.

Not all these products can hold on to their radioactivity; in time they lose it and revert to their former state. The length of time they remain radioactive is stated in terms of "half-life." Some isotopes have a "half-life" that is measured in seconds, others in minutes, hours, or years. Ninety-nine give off rays for more than 60 days and scientists estimate that some will remain active for 1,000 years.

These substances have created many new research and diagnostic tools. When injected into the body, their course can be traced with the geiger counter, a sensitive machine that clicks whenever it detects beta or gamma rays. The more rays, the louder the clicks, and vice versa. If the counter is held over a foot, for example, while radioactive material is injected into an arm, clicking will start as soon as the blood brings the tagged material to the foot.

Some organs are known to absorb and store certain chemicals and, when this occurs, clicking will be confined to the area over these structures. This is why radioactive iodine is so valuable in diagnosing and treating thyroid disorders. Iodine settles in the thyroid and, when taken internally, the clicking sound means that the gland is overactive and needs more than the usual amount of this element.

In brain tumor, if radioactive phosphorus, radioactive iodinated human serum albumin, or radioactive germanium is injected, it will gravitate toward these growths. When the counter is held over the head it not only helps detect a tumor but tells the surgeon its location.

Isotopes also are of value in treating certain external and internal cancers. The cobalt bomb is made by placing radioactive cobalt (Co-60) in a special container with a hole through which the rays give off an equivalent of a 3 million volt X-ray machine. These bombs are being used in cancer centers for the treatment of deep seated malignant growths.

Fort Cumberland Battles Bel Air In Legion Tourney Today

College Park Site Of Game Set At 6 P. M.

Three Games Carded Opening Day, Seven Vie In 4-Day Meet

Fort Cumberland Post, winner of 14 out of 15 contests in the Mountain District League, will make its debut in the Maryland American Legion Baseball Tournament when it faces Bel Air Post of Harford County at the University of Maryland Field, College Park, today at 6 p. m.

The Mountain District League champions, representing District No. 1 and Bel Air, District No. 4's representative, are among the seven posts that are competing for state honors in the four-day tourney that opens today at noon and ends on Sunday afternoon.

Fort Cumberland Post will be competing in the state event for the second straight year. The Post No. 13 aggregation of 1953 defeated Salisbury 8-0 and then was eliminated by losing to Silver Spring 10-0 and Grantley Post, Baltimore, 3-1.

In the opener of the three games set for today, Sharptown of Wicomico County (District No. 6) plays Colmar Manor of Prince Georges County (District No. 5) at 12 o'clock noon.

Hagerstown Faces Westport

The second contest brings together Morris Frock Post of Washington County (District No. 2) and Westport Post, Baltimore City champions (District No. 3) at 3 o'clock.

The Fort Cumberland-Bel Air contest is the third and final on today's program.

Pikesville of Baltimore County, representing District No. 7, drew a bye and will not play until Friday at 10 a. m. when the loser of the Morris Frock-Westport game will be met.

If Cumberland manages to hurdle Bel Air in the opener, the locals will play the Colmar Manor-Sharptown winner on Friday at 3 p. m. If the Mountain District champs drop the lid-lifter to Bel Air they'll play the loser of the Colmar Manor-Sharptown contest on Friday at 12:30 p. m.

Four games are on tap for Friday, a like number on Saturday and the finals Sunday at 1 p. m.

The tournament is a double elimination affair which means that it takes two defeats to knock out a team.

Cumberland's pitchers for the state tourney are Don Paye, southpaw, with a 5-0 record; Wayne Murray, lefthander, with three wins and one loss and Bobby Lewis, righthander, who owns a 4-0 record. Ed Puffenburger will do the catching for Fort Cumberland Post.

Sixteen local players are eligible for the tourney. George Zegles is manager of the team and Frank Zahradka is the coach.

Hout's Win Forfeit

Hout Construction Company of the High School Rec Softball League won over the YMRC by forfeit yesterday at Campobello when the latter was unable to field a team for the scheduled contest. It was the ninth straight win for the unbeaten Hout team.

SYNDICATE HEAD — Arnold Johnson, 47-year-old Chicago business executive, heads the Kansas City syndicate which is striving to buy the Philadelphia Athletics franchise in the American League and move it to Kansas City. The syndicate offered the A's $4,500,000.

Mack Says A's Must Be Moved

$4,500,000 Offered By Kansas City Group

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (AP) — Earle Mack, vice president and general manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, said today "there isn't a chance" of keeping the club in Philadelphia from a plain dollars and cents standpoint.

At the same time, he set at $4,500,000 the offer made for the Athletics by a Kansas City syndicate led by Arnold Johnson of Chicago.

Earle's statement was the latest in a series of exchanges between Earle and his older brother, Roy, the team's executive vice president. Roy has been behind the movement to keep the A's in Philadlphia and has said he has hopes of raising enough money to buy out his brother and their father, Connie Mack, Sr.

"Roy talks big," said Earle today, "but we don't have a dime."

Earle said he had little hope anything would develop at an A's board of directors meeting scheduled for Aug. 11 by way of keeping the team here.

"If Roy comes up with the money, we will sell to him," Earle said. "But I don't think Roy has a chance of meeting my price at that time. He must come up with an awful lot of money."

Earle said the Johnson bid "is the only actual offer we received. The others are a lot of rumors."

Dan Indians Upset Tigers In Seventh Inning By 6 To 5

The Indians upset the Tigers, 6-5, in seven innings yesterday at Stitcher Field to capture their fifth win in a row in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League.

The victors tied the score in the sixth inning when Eddie Gaus doubled home two runs. Virgil Marrale doubled to open the first extra frame for the Indians, went to third on Klosterman's grounder to short, and scored on a close play at the plate on another ball hit to short.

Meanwhile the Athletics bumped the Braves into the league cellar with an 8-6 decision at Penn Avenue field yesterday afternoon.

Kean and Lewis each had two hits to pace the victors while Painter banged out a trio of base hits including a homerun for the Braves. The scores:

Top Ranked Net Stars Score In W. Md. Tourney

Red Brown Defeated In Third Round Play

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—Top-seeded Mrs. Margaret Disco of Forest Hills, N. Y., advanced to the women's singles finals and all other favorites were victorious in second day play of the Western Maryland tennis championships here today.

A bright sun and temperatures in the 70's greeted players from West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland and the District of Columbia in contrast to rain which delayed start of the 33rd annual tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Disco defeated Doris Garden of Wheeling, W. Va., 6-1, 6-1, and then took a semi-final match from Mrs. Mary Chapple of Arlington, Va., 6-1, 6-3.

Men's singles reached the third round with Doyle Royal, assistant dean of men at the University of Maryland, and top ranked in men's singles here, defeating brothers Byron and David Gibson of Salem, W. Va.

Royal defeated Byron Gibson, 6-4, 6-1 in the first round, then downed David Gibson, 6-2, 6-1 in the third.

Second seeded Alex Keiles of Washington eliminated Robert (Red) Brown, West Virginia University director of athletics, 6-2, 6-1, in another third round match.

The second ranked women's player, Sara Moore of Washington, won handily over Billie Pollard of Hagerstown, 6-0, 6-0.

Summaries:

Men's Singles (first round)

Doyle Royal, College Park, defeated Byron Gibson, Salem, W. Va., 6-4, 6-1.

Robert Burgess, Hyattsville, won by default from Dr. H. Cartonsis, Washington.

Carter Earns Nod

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Ex-lightweight champion Jimmy Carter chased and chastised nimble Glen Flanagan for a unanimous 10-round decision in a nationally televised bout at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Carter, who has a Sept. 22 rematch with 135-pound king Paddy DeMarco was the 3-1 favorite.

Lions Defeat Kiwanis, 2-1

Exchange Upends Times-News, 5-2

Matt Mullaney pitched and batted the Lions to a thrilling 2-1 victory over the Kiwanis team last night at Penn Avenue to edge closer to first place in the Hot Stove League.

Mullaney allowed only five hits in 6⅓ innings before being relieved in the seventh by Frank Valentine and tripled home both the Lions' runs in the first.

Valentine took over the mound duties with a Kiwanis runner on third and one out. He retired the next two batters without permitting the tying run to score.

Charles Imes, the loser, doubled for the Kiwanians only extra base blow.

Yesterday afternoon at Penn Avenue the Exchange Club upended the Times-News tossers, 5-2, as Allen Largent pitched three-hit ball for the winners and struck out 11. He had a no-hitter working until the Newsies scored in the fifth frame.

Richards banged out three hits and Talley and O'Neal each collected two to pace the Exchange nine. Scott had two of the Times-News bingles. The score:

Fairmont, Hagerstown Pony League Teams Win

MARTINSVILLE, Va., Aug. 4 (AP) —Merlin DeMoss raced home from second base with the winning run on an overthrow into centerfield here today to give Fairmont, W. Va., a 4-3 victory over Lexington, Ky., in the Fifth Region Pony Baseball League playoffs.

Fairmont went into the final frame trailing by a run. Second baseman Charles Alkire doubled. Two hit batsmen and a walk followed, the latter forcing Alkire across the plate with the tying run. After two outs, Lexington tried to pick DeMoss off second. The ball squirted into centerfield, and DeMoss ran home. The defeat eliminated Lexington.

Earlier today, Hagerstown, Md., eliminated Columbia, Tenn., 5-4.

Roberts Wins 16th, Beats Braves, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (AP) — Robin Roberts fanned nine and held Milwaukee to five hits in winning his 16th game tonight as the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Braves 2-1. Bob Morgan's bases-empty homer in the third was the deciding blow.

Roberts, who now has a 16-9 record well on his way to his fifth straight year as a 20-game winner, looked sharp most of the way. He struck out the side in the seventh.

The Braves got their lone run in the initial inning. The run came on back to back doubles by Danny O'Connell and Ed Mathews.

Belardi Hits Homer To Spark Tigers Win

DETROIT, Aug. 4 (AP) — Wayne Belardi, 23-year-old first baseman getting his first chance as a regular, lined a two-run homer into the right field seats to cap a three-run rally in the seventh inning today and give the Detroit Tigers a 6-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Belardi's homer, his ninth of the season, carried Ned Garver to his ninth victory against seven losses. The Tiger righthander scattered six hits and reduced his earned run average to 2.33—best in the league.

Detroit clinched the game with three runs in the eighth. Frank Bolling knocked in the first with a single, while Boone sent home two more with a bloop double.

Chisox Top Boston In 10th, 6 To 5 On Batts' Single

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—A bases-loaded single by catcher Matt Batts in the 10th inning today gave the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox, who rallied to force the game into overtime after seven scoreless innings.

Relief pitcher Ellis Kinder had walked Nelson Fox, George Kell and Jim Rivera to set the stage for Batts' hit.

Ted Williams' three-run homer, his 19th of the year, and a pinch double by Don Lenhardt had enabled the Bostonians to tie the score against Billy Pierce after Phil Cavarretta hit a grand slam homer for the White Sox in the first.

Old Gees Top Schute's 6-5

The Old Germans registered their 16th win of the campaign by edging Schute's Roofers 6-5 yesterday at Stitcher Field in a City Softball League game.

The victors scored the winning run in the last of the seventh when Wayne Lewis won his own ball game with a single to drive in the tally. Don Basilio with two singles, Jim Evans with a triple and Lewis with two hits accounted for five of the victors' nine bingles.

Richard Klavuhn had a three-bagger and two one-base hits to pace the Roofers. The score:

Hank Thompson's Single In 11th Beats Cubs 4-3

New York Giants Win 6th Straight Game

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Henry Thompson's single with two out in the 11th inning scored Wes Westrum with the winning run as the New York Giants extended their winning streak to six straight today with a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Thompson's game winning blow enabled Don Liddle, fourth Giant pitcher in the game, to receive credit for the victory, his fifth against three defeats.

Westrum opened the final round with a single and was sacrificed to second by Liddle. After Whitey Lockman was intentionally passed, pitcher Johnny Klippstein appeared to have eased himself out of the tight jam by getting Alvin Dark to fly out. Thompson, however, cracked a long single to right, his third hit of the game, to score Westrum.

Indians Increase AL Lead, Blast Yankees For 5-2 Win

Lemon Scores 14th, Avila Smacks Homer

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4 (AP) — Bob Avila whacked a three-run homer and the Indians blasted three Yankee pitchers tonight as Cleveland upped its American League lead to two and a half games with a 5-2 victory.

Righthander Bob Lemon nailed his 14th victory, holding the Yankees to five hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Tribe grabbed all its runs and seven hits off the veteran Allie Reynolds, removed for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

Vic Wertz also homered for Cleveland, which got another run on a single by Jim Hegan.

A crowd of 58,091 saw the contest, second in a three game series. The Yanks won yesterday 2-1.

Wertz' homer in the fourth inning was his sixth of the season. Dente then doubled to left and scored on Hegan's single.

The Yanks loaded the bases in the seventh on singles by Gene Woodling and Enos Slaughter, and a walk by Eddie Robinson, but failed to score a run.

It was Reynolds' third loss in 13 decisions. Eddie Lopat gave up one hit in two innings and Art Schallock yielded three hits in the last two frames.

Winning his fifth victory in a row, Lemon tired in the seventh, and Mike Garcia finished, facing only six men in the last two rounds.

Robinson's Homerun In Ninth Wins Game

BROOKLYN, Aug. 4 (AP)—A ninth inning home run by Jackie Robinson with a man aboard and one out gave the Brooklyn Dodgers an 8-7 verdict over the St. Louis Cardinals tonight after the Cards had scored three runs in the top of the ninth for a 7-6 lead.

Robinson's blast, his 12th, came off Tom Poholsky, who had taken over from starter Harvey Haddix in the eighth. Junior Gilliam opened the Brooklyn ninth with a walk and Robinson delivered into the upper left field seats after Pee Wee Reese had popped out.

The Cardinals came to life in the ninth with two doubles and two singles off Clem Labine and Jim Hughes for the three runs they needed to forge in front.

Fort Cumberland Battles Bel Air In Legion Tourney Today

College Park Site Of Game Set At 6 P. M.

Three Games Carded Opening Day, Seven Vie In 4-Day Meet

Fort Cumberland Post, winner of 14 out of 15 contests in the Mountain District League, will make its debut in the Maryland American Legion Baseball Tournament when it faces Bel Air Post of Harford County at the University of Maryland Field, College Park, today at 6 p. m.

The Mountain District League champions, representing District No. 1 and Bel Air, District No. 4's representative, are among the seven posts that are competing for state honors in the four-day tourney that opens today at noon and ends on Sunday afternoon.

Fort Cumberland Post will be competing in the state event for the second straight year. The Post No. 13 aggregation of 1953 defeated Salisbury 8-0 and then was eliminated by losing to Silver Spring 10-0 and Grantley Post, Baltimore, 3-1.

In the opener of the three games set for today, Sharptown of Wicomico County (District No. 6) plays Colmar Manor of Prince Georges County (District No. 5) at 12 o'clock noon.

Hagerstown Faces Westport

The second contest brings together Morris Frock Post of Washington County (District No. 2) and Westport Post, Baltimore City champions (District No. 3) at 3 o'clock.

The Fort Cumberland-Bel Air contest is the third and final on today's program.

Pikesville of Baltimore County, representing District No. 7, drew a bye and will not play until Friday at 10 a. m. when the loser of the Morris Frock-Westport game will be met.

If Cumberland manages to hurdle Bel Air in the opener, the locals will play the Colmar Manor-Sharptown winner on Friday at 3 p. m. If the Mountain District champs drop the lid-lifter to Bel Air they'll play the loser of the Colmar Manor-Sharptown contest on Friday at 12:30 p. m.

Four games are on tap for Friday, a like number on Saturday and the finals Sunday at 1 p. m.

The tournament is a double elimination affair which means that it takes two defeats to knock out a team.

Cumberland's pitchers for the state tourney are Don Paye, southpaw, with a 5-0 record; Wayne Murray, lefthander, with three wins and one loss and Bobby Lewis, righthander, who owns a 4-0 record. Ed Puffenburger will do the catching for Fort Cumberland Post.

Sixteen local players are eligible for the tourney. George Zegles is manager of the team and Frank Zahradka is the coach.

Hout's Win Forfeit

Hout Construction Company of the High School Rec Softball League won over the YMRC by forfeit yesterday at Campobello when the latter was unable to field a team for the scheduled contest. It was the ninth straight win for the unbeaten Hout team.

SYNDICATE HEAD — Arnold Johnson, 47-year-old Chicago business executive, heads the Kansas City syndicate which is striving to buy the Philadelphia Athletics franchise in the American League and move it to Kansas City. The syndicate offered the A's $4,500,000.

Mack Says A's Must Be Moved

$4,500,000 Offered By Kansas City Group

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (AP) — Earle Mack, vice president and general manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, said today "there isn't a chance" of keeping the club in Philadelphia from a plain dollars and cents standpoint.

At the same time, he set at $4,500,000 the offer made for the Athletics by a Kansas City syndicate led by Arnold Johnson of Chicago.

Earle's statement was the latest in a series of exchanges between Earle and his older brother, Roy, the team's executive vice president. Roy has been behind the movement to keep the A's in Philadelphia and has said he has hopes of raising enough money to buy out his brother and their father, Connie Mack, Sr.

"Roy talks big," said Earle today, "but we don't have a dime."

Earle said he had little hope anything would develop at an A's board of directors meeting scheduled for Aug. 11 by way of keeping the team here.

"If Roy comes up with the money, we will sell to him," Earle said. "But I don't think Roy has a chance of meeting my price at that time. He must come up with an awful lot of money."

Earle said the Johnson bid "is the only actual offer we received. The others are a lot of rumors."

The Indians upset the Tigers, 6-5, in seven innings yesterday at Stitcher Field to capture their fifth win in a row in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Little League.

The victors tied the score in the sixth inning when Eddie Gaus doubled home two runs. Virgil Marrale doubled to open the first extra frame for the Indians, went to third on Klosterman's grounder to short, and scored on a close play at the plate on another ball hit to short.

Meanwhile the Athletics bumped the Braves into the league cellar with an 8-6 decision at Penn Avenue field yesterday afternoon.

Kean and Lewis each had two hits to pace the victors while Painter banged out a trio of base hits including a homerun for the Braves. The scores:

Carter Earns Nod

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Ex-lightweight champion Jimmy Carter chased and chastised nimble Glen Flanagan for a unanimous 10-round decision in a nationally televised bout at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

Carter, who has a Sept. 22 rematch with 135-pound king Paddy DeMarco was the 3-1 favorite.

Lions Defeat Kiwanis, 2-1

Exchange Upends Times-News, 5-2

Matt Mullaney pitched and batted the Lions to a thrilling 2-1 victory over the Kiwanis team last night at Penn Avenue to edge closer to first place in the Hot Stove League.

Mullaney allowed only five hits in 6⅓ innings before being relieved in the seventh by Frank Valentine and tripled home both the Lions' runs in the first.

Valentine took over the mound duties with a Kiwanis runner on third and one out. He retired the next two batters without permitting the tying run to score.

Charles Imes, the loser, doubled for the Kiwanians only extra base blow.

Yesterday afternoon at Penn Avenue the Exchange Club upended the Times-News tossers, 5-2, as Allen Largent pitched three-hit ball for the winners and struck out 11. He had a no-hitter working until the Newsies scored in the fifth frame.

Richards banged out three hits and Talley and O'Neal each collected two to pace the Exchange nine. Scott had two of the Times-News bingles. The score:

Fairmont, Hagerstown Pony League Teams Win

MARTINSVILLE, Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—Merlin DeMoss raced home from second base with the winning run on an overthrow into centerfield here today to give Fairmont, W. Va., a 4-3 victory over Lexington, Ky., in the Fifth Region Pony Baseball League playoffs.

Fairmont went into the final frame trailing by a run. Second baseman Charles Alkire doubled. Two hit batsmen and a walk followed, the latter forcing Alkire across the plate with the tying run. After two outs, Lexington tried to pick DeMoss off second. The ball squirted into centerfield, and DeMoss ran home. The defeat eliminated Lexington.

Earlier today, Hagerstown, Md., eliminated Columbia, Tenn., 5-4.

Roberts Wins 16th, Beats Braves, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (AP) — Robin Roberts fanned nine and held Milwaukee to five hits in winning his 16th game tonight as the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Braves 2-1. Bob Morgan's bases-empty homer in the third was the deciding blow.

Roberts, who now has a 16-9 record well on his way to his fifth straight year as a 20-game winner, looked sharp most of the way. He struck out the side in the seventh.

The Braves got their lone run in the initial inning. The run came on back to back doubles by Danny O'Connell and Ed Mathews.

Belardi Hits Homer To Spark Tigers Win

DETROIT, Aug. 4 (AP) — Wayne Belardi, 23-year-old first baseman getting his first chance as a regular, lined a two-run homer into the right field seats to cap a three-run rally in the seventh inning today and give the Detroit Tigers a 6-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Belardi's homer, his ninth of the season, carried Ned Garver to his ninth victory against seven losses. The Tiger righthander scattered six hits and reduced his earned run average to 2.33—best in the league.

Detroit clinched the game with three runs in the eighth. Frank Bolling knocked in the first with a single, while Boone sent home two more with a bloop double.

Chisox Top Boston In 10th, 6 To 5 On Batts' Single

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—A bases-loaded single by catcher Matt Batts in the 10th inning today gave the Chicago White Sox a 6-5 victory over the Boston Red Sox, who rallied to force the game into overtime after seven scoreless innings.

Relief pitcher Ellis Kinder had walked Nelson Fox, George Kell and Jim Rivera to set the stage for Batts' hit.

Ted Williams' three-run homer, his 19th of the year, and a pinch double by Don Lenhardt had enabled the Bostonians to tie the score against Billy Pierce after Phil Cavarretta hit a grand slam homer for the White Sox in the first.

Old Gees Top Schute's 6-5

The Old Germans registered their 16th win of the campaign by edging Schute's Roofers 6-5 yesterday at Stitcher Field in a City Softball League game.

The victors scored the winning run in the last of the seventh when Wayne Lewis won his own ball game with a single to drive in the tally. Don Basilio with two singles, Jim Evans with a triple and Lewis with two hits accounted for five of the victors' nine bingles.

Richard Klavuhn had a three-bagger and two one-base hits to pace the Roofers. The score:

Hank Thompson's Single In 11th Beats Cubs 4-3

New York Giants Win 6th Straight Game

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Henry Thompson's single with two out in the 11th inning scored Wes Westrum with the winning run as the New York Giants extended their winning streak to six straight today with a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Thompson's game winning blow enabled Don Liddle, fourth Giant pitcher in the game, to receive credit for the victory, his fifth against three defeats.

Westrum opened the final round with a single and was sacrificed to second by Liddle. After Whitey Lockman was intentionally passed, pitcher Johnny Klippstein appeared to have eased himself out of the tight jam by getting Alvin Dark to fly out. Thompson, however, cracked a long single to right, his third hit of the game, to score Westrum.

Indians Increase AL Lead, Blast Yankees For 5-2 Win

Lemon Scores 14th, Avila Smacks Homer

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4 (AP) — Bob Avila whacked a three-run homer and the Indians blasted three Yankee pitchers tonight as Cleveland upped its American League lead to two and a half games with a 5-2 victory.

Righthander Bob Lemon nailed his 14th victory, holding the Yankees to five hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Tribe grabbed all its runs and seven hits off the veteran Allie Reynolds, removed for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

Vic Wertz also homered for Cleveland, which got another run on a single by Jim Hegan.

A crowd of 58,091 saw the contest, second in a three game series. The Yanks won yesterday 2-1.

Wertz' homer in the fourth inning was his sixth of the season. Dente then doubled to left and scored on Hegan's single.

The Yanks loaded the bases in the seventh on singles by Gene Woodling and Enos Slaughter, and a walk by Eddie Robinson, but failed to score a run.

It was Reynolds' third loss in 13 decisions. Eddie Lopat gave up one hit in two innings and Art Schallock yielded three hits in the last two frames.

Winning his fifth victory in a row, Lemon tired in the seventh, and Mike Garcia finished, facing only six men in the last two rounds.

Robinson's Homerun In Ninth Wins Game

BROOKLYN, Aug. 4 (AP)—A ninth inning home run by Jackie Robinson with a man aboard and one out gave the Brooklyn Dodgers an 8-7 verdict over the St. Louis Cardinals tonight after the Cards had scored three runs in the top of the ninth for a 7-6 lead.

Robinson's blast, his 12th, came off Tom Poholsky, who had taken over from starter Harvey Haddix in the eighth. Junior Gilliam opened the Brooklyn ninth with a walk and Robinson delivered into the upper left field seats after Pee Wee Reese had popped out.

The Cardinals came to life in the ninth with two doubles and two singles off Clem Labine and Jim Hughes for the three runs they needed to forge in front.

Mt. Savage Edges Barton In Bi-State Loop By 1-0 Score

Although held to two hits Mt. Savage shoved over the game's only run in the fourth to edge Barton, 1-0, yesterday at Barton in a Bi-State Pony League thriller.

Hardin tripled to open the frame for Mt. Savage and scored when the third baseman dropped the ball in a run down after the next batter had hit to the infield. Johnson had two hits for Barton.

LaVale walloped Cresaptown, 12-2, in another Bi-State contest at LaVale. Ken Klosterman had a triple and Dick Sanders a single and double to top the LaVale attack. Don Ware, Ketterman and Douthitt shared Cresaptown's three hits. The scores:

Newport Dream Overcomes Aches, Wins Hambletonian

Cops Rich Stakes In Just Two Heats To Take $106,830

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Newport Dream, partly lame colt with a great fighting heart, forgot his aches and pains long enough today to defeat 15 other three-year-old trotters in a thrilling windup of the $106,830 Hambletonian Stake at Good Time Park.

The speedy bay son of Axomite-Miss Key, who was the two-year-old champion of 1953, dashed the hopes of his opposition by winning this 29th sulky derby in two straight heats.

Newport Dream, owned by the Newport stock farm of Octave Blake, South Plainfield, N.J., had been the winter book favorite for this classic but was plagued all spring and summer with a mystery injury. The colt only started one other race this season, a week ago at Vernon Downs, N.Y., where he finished second in two heats of the Hambletonian Test Stakes.

In the first heat, Newport Dream started from unfavorable 15th post position in the second tier but took command near the turn for home in the mile dash and won by three lengths over Princess Rodney with Vicki Hanover third.

Then, while many wondered whether the game little scrapper would hold together an hour later in the second heat, Newport Dream provided the answer.

Harlan got second by a neck over Princess Rodney, with Stenographer, the pre-race favorite, finishing fourth, beaten another neck.

The winner's time for both heats was identical, 2:02 4-5.

The blake flyer paid $13.10, $6.30 and $4.70, in the first heat, and $4.20, $2.20 and $2.60 in the second.

Princess Rodney was $13.00 and $6.30, and Vicki Hanover, $8.40, in the first dash. Harlan returned $4.00 and $3.30 and Princess Rodney, $3.10 in the decisive heat.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(INS)—Records, of course, are made to be broken, but some of them withstand many an assault before succumbing.

Joe Adcock of the Braves cracked one only last Saturday when he hit four homers and a double for 18 total bases in a game against the Dodgers.

Babe Ruth hit 60 homers 27 years ago, and that one still stands although if club owners keep on shortening the fences that record also will go.

Willie Mays of the Giants is a little ahead of Ruth's record pace but he will have to hit a homer at least every other game until the end of the season to pass Ruth's mark.

The Babe had a comparatively poor month in August, 1927, when he hit only nine homers. But he hit 17 in the last 27 games in September.

Mays entered August with 36 homers and it behooves him to hit plenty this month for if he goes into September with 17 to go to tie we doubt that he will make it.

Incidentally, if you are wondering what kind of pitching Ruth faced in September, 1927, we have only to name a few then at their peak to show you Babe could hit 'em off the best. Among his victims were Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and Ted Lyons.

Ruth's home run record, fine as it was, is by no means the toughest record in the books to beat.

There is, for instance, that same Ruth's life-time record of 2,209 runs batted in over a 22 year stretch.

Another one that may never be broken is Ty Cobb's life-time mark of 2,244 runs scored in 24 years and an even tougher one is Cobb's record of 4,191 hits made in the same time.

Just examine that last one for a minute. To tie it, a player would have to make more than 200 hits for 20 years. How many players will play steadily in the majors for 20 years?

Hack Wilson also has a mark that has stood up for almost a quarter of a century. The stocky outfielder of the Cubs drove in 190 runs in 1930. The nearest approach to that mark was Lou Gehrig's 184 rbi's in 1931.

Two other nice marks for the current players to shoot at are Cobb's 96 stolen bases in 1915 and his life-time mark of 892 steals.

Either of those marks are unapproachable as the game is played today.

However, there is one other record which everybody today has a chance to break. And that is Joe DiMaggio's feat of hitting in 56 consecutive games.

Joe tore off that streak with the Yanks in 1941. During tha stretch he went to bat 223 times scored 56 runs, made 91 hits, including 16 doubles, four triples and 15 homers, and drove in 55 runs for a .405 batting average.

Let the boys try that one on for size.

Tam O'Shanter's $205,000 Golf Tourney Opens Today

Pros Expect 271-274 Score To Take Money

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Tam O'Shanter's 6,900-yard course may take one of its worst par beatings since 1945 when the All-American phase of George S. May's $205,000 golf gold rush starts tomorrow.

Such expert money-winners as Ed Furgol, National Open champion; Doug Ford, Australian Norm Von Nida, Lew Worsham and Dutch Harrison think a 72-hole total of around 271-274 will win the keys to golf's Fort Knox.

The tournament's record of 269—19 under par—was set by Byron Nelson in the 1945 All-American.

"I can't see Nelson's record being matched or broken," said Furgol. "But the course is scoring better than at any time I've seen it. Let's say a 273 or under will look good. That's five strokes better than Worsham did in taking the 'World" title last year.

Light rains in the last few days have made the par 36-36—72 layout play extremely well, accounting for the burst of sub-standard rounds turned in by the somewhat unheralded pros required to qualify. May has exempted about 76 pros, based on past tournament records, leaving 300 shooting for 60 qualifying spots for the start of tomorrow's big show.

Some of the lesser lights already have given an idea of what's to come with par-busting qualifying rounds.

Tom Burke Jr., 28-year-old Chicago club pro, and young Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kas., each carved 32-34—66, only three strokes over the competitive course record of 63 posted by Lloyd Mangrum in his 1948 victory sweep.

The All-American will be four tournaments in one. Seventy-two hole medal play sections will be for men pros, men amateurs, woman pros and women amateurs. The All-American total prize list is $32,700 with the winning men's pro slicing off $3,420 and the top women's pro receiving $1,000.

The "world championships" will begin a week hence with a purse distribution of $164,300. This includes $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract to the men's pro winner and $5,000 to the women's pro champion.

There also is $8,000 to be distributed in the international matches next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Newport Dream Overcomes Aches, Wins Hambletonian

Cops Rich Stakes In Just Two Heats To Take $106,830

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Newport Dream, partly lame colt with a great fighting heart, forgot his aches and pains long enough today to defeat 15 other three-year-old trotters in a thrilling windup of the $106,830 Hambletonian Stake at Good Time Park.

The speedy bay son of Axomite-Miss Key, who was the two-year-old champion of 1953, dashed the hopes of his opposition by winning this 29th sulky derby in two straight heats.

Newport Dream, owned by the Newport stock farm of Octave Blake, South Plainfield, N.J., had been the winter book favorite for this classic but was plagued all spring and summer with a mystery injury. The colt only started one other race this season, a week ago at Vernon Downs, N.Y., where he finished second in two heats of the Hambletonian Test Stakes.

In the first heat, Newport Dream started from unfavorable 15th post position in the second tier but took command near the turn for home in the mile dash and won by three lengths over Princess Rodney with Vicki Hanover third.

Then, while many wondered whether the game little scrapper would hold together an hour later in the second heat, Newport Dream provided the answer.

Harlan got second by a neck over Princess Rodney, with Stenographer, the pre-race favorite, finishing fourth, beaten another neck.

The winner's time for both heats was identical, 2:02 4-5.

The blake flyer paid $13.10, $6.30 and $4.70, in the first heat, and $4.20, $2.20 and $2.60 in the second.

Princess Rodney was $13.00 and $6.30, and Vicki Hanover, $8.40, in the first dash. Harlan returned $4.00 and $3.30 and Princess Rodney, $3.10 in the decisive heat.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—(INS)—Records, of course, are made to be broken, but some of them withstand many an assault before succumbing.

Joe Adcock of the Braves cracked one only last Saturday when he hit four homers and a double for 18 total bases in a game against the Dodgers.

Babe Ruth hit 60 homers 27 years ago, and that one still stands although if club owners keep on shortening the fences that record also will go.

Willie Mays of the Giants is a little ahead of Ruth's record pace but he will have to hit a homer at least every other game until the end of the season to pass Ruth's mark.

The Babe had a comparatively poor month in August, 1927, when he hit only nine homers. But he hit 17 in the last 27 games in September.

Mays entered August with 36 homers and it behooves him to hit plenty this month for if he goes into September with 17 to go to tie we doubt that he will make it.

Incidentally, if you are wondering what kind of pitching Ruth faced in September, 1927, we have only to name a few then at their peak to show you Babe could hit 'em off the best. Among his victims were Lefty Grove, Rube Walberg and Ted Lyons.

Ruth's home run record, fine as it was, is by no means the toughest record in the books to beat.

There is, for instance, that same Ruth's life-time record of 2,209 runs batted in over a 22 year stretch.

Another one that may never be broken is Ty Cobb's life-time mark of 2,244 runs scored in 24 years and an even tougher one is Cobb's record of 4,191 hits made in the same time.

Just examine that last one for a minute. To tie it, a player would have to make more than 200 hits for 20 years. How many players will play steadily in the majors for 20 years?

Hack Wilson also has a mark that has stood up for almost a quarter of a century. The stocky outfielder of the Cubs drove in 190 runs in 1930. The nearest approach to that mark was Lou Gehrig's 184 rbi's in 1931.

Two other nice marks for the current players to shoot at are Cobb's 96 stolen bases in 1915 and his life-time mark of 892 steals.

Either of those marks are unapproachable as the game is played today.

However, there is one other record which everybody today has a chance to break. And that is Joe DiMaggio's feat of hitting in 56 consecutive games.

Joe tore off that streak with the Yanks in 1941. During tha stretch he went to bat 223 times scored 56 runs, made 91 hits, including 16 doubles, four triples and 15 homers, and drove in 55 runs for a .405 batting average.

Let the boys try that one on for size.

Pros Expect 271-274 Score To Take Money

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Tam O'Shanter's 6,900-yard course may take one of its worst par beatings since 1945 when the All-American phase of George S. May's $205,000 golf gold rush starts tomorrow.

Such expert money-winners as Ed Furgol, National Open champion; Doug Ford, Australian Norm Von Nida, Lew Worsham and Dutch Harrison think a 72-hole total of around 271-274 will win the keys to golf's Fort Knox.

The tournament's record of 269—19 under par—was set by Byron Nelson in the 1945 All-American.

"I can't see Nelson's record being matched or broken," said Furgol. "But the course is scoring better than at any time I've seen it. Let's say a 273 or under will look good. That's five strokes better than Worsham did in taking the 'World'' title last year.

Light rains in the last few days have made the par 36-36—72 layout play extremely well, accounting for the burst of sub-standard rounds turned in by the somewhat unheralded pros required to qualify. May has exempted about 76 pros, based on past tournament records, leaving 300 shooting for 60 qualifying spots for the start of tomorrow's big show.

Some of the lesser lights already have given an idea of what's to come with par-busting qualifying rounds.

Tom Burke Jr., 28-year-old Chicago club pro, and young Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kas., each carved 32-34—66, only three strokes over the competitive course record of 63 posted by Lloyd Mangrum in his 1948 victory sweep.

The All-American will be four tournaments in one. Seventy-two hole medal play sections will be for men pros, men amateurs, woman pros and women amateurs. The All-American total prize list is $32,700 with the winning men's pro slicing off $3,420 and the top women's pro receiving $1,000.

The "world championships" will begin a week hence with a purse distribution of $164,300. This includes $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract to the men's pro winner and $5,000 to the women's pro champion.

There also is $8,000 to be distributed in the international matches next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thomas Sets Up Disaster Service

14 Families Aided Following Tornado

THOMAS — Kenneth Rubenstein was named general chairman of the disaster committee organized for the town of Thomas by the American Red Cross at a meeting held Monday evening in the City Hall. Carmen Monda was named as vice-chairman.

Mayor Carmen "Zeke" DiBacco was named chairman of the Shelter committee and will name his own committee in the near future. Salvadore DiBacco will be chairman and Mrs. Robert Kight, co-chairman of the Food committee; Foster Bland will be in charge of the transportation of furniture and will also name his own workers.

Dr. Tracy A. Currey is chairman of the Medical committee, assisted by Mrs. James Gainer, Mrs. Patsy Dilettoso and Miss Mary Rose Dimaio. The Clothing committee will be James C. Cooper and Mrs. Mary DiBacco Grecco. Kenneth Rubenstein and Mrs. B. W. Phillips will have communications, legislation and information for family service.

Mrs. Robert Kight was named chairman of the canteen committee which served food after the tornado on July 15. She was assisted by Mrs. Reggie DiBacco, Mrs. Charles Milkint, Mrs. Joseph Milkint, Mrs. O. B. Collins and Miss Edna McVeigh.

Miss Geneva Jacobs, disaster representative of the Eastern Area of Red Cross spent the past two weeks in Thomas and stated that 14 families registered for assistance to the Red Cross. The amount spent to date for disaster relief is $1,123.16. Of that amount $559.00 was given for household furniture; $512.25 for food; clothing and maintenance; $31.50 for medical care and $20.41 for mass care and canteen expenses.

Dr. Tracy A. Currey, commander of Blue Ridge Post 22, American Legion, Thomas, presented a check from the American Legion State Relief fund for $500, to be used by the Tucker County chapter of the Red Cross, for relief of tornado victims in Thomas. The balance of the money used in Thomas came from national Red Cross headquarters.

Miss Jacobs stated that although the damages were extensive in Thomas, most families affected were able to help themselves and had adequate insurance coverage.

Major Repairs Completed On Tucker Schools

More Work Planned Before Sept. 1 Opening

PARSONS — The Tucker County Board of Education has been active during the past year in completing a number of major repairs and maintenance projects in the schools.

Major repairs and improvements made to the schools from August 1, 1953 to August 1, 1954 include the following:

At Davis School, the roof and eaves of the building were repaired and all outside trim of the building painted.

Thomas School building was rewired and paint was furnished for some of the rooms of the building. New urinals were installed.

Parsons High School received a new water fountain and glass banking boards were installed. Portable bleachers were installed in the gymnasium and tile was furnished by the Board for the athletic field.

Parsons Grade School received a new water fountain and paint for the class rooms.

New steps were erected at Pine Grove School. The Cosner School was painted on the outside and the hot lunch kitchen painted. Footbridges at Hambleton, Hendricks and Pheasant Run repaired with materials furnished by the Board. A new roof at Hamrick School has been completed and a section of the furnace replaced. Inside painting jobs were completed at Sugarlands, Mt. Zion, Mackeyville, Wolford, Licking Creek and Bretz school. A new roof was also placed on Shaffertown School and a new porch floor laid at Mackeyville School.

A new submersible pump has been installed at St. George School. The pumps were installed in the recently drilled well replacing an old dug well condemned by the Health Department. Two gas furnaces, a circulating gas heater and lighting fixtures were installed. A new kitchen stove has been purchased and will be installed there.

Flanagan Hill received a new well, with an electric pump bringing water into the school. A hot lunch center will be resumed in the school. It has been closed three years due to the water supply. A hot lunch center kitchen was made by partitioning a section of one room and the porch was re-floored at the school. William Smith, principal, with the cooperation of the community, is planning further kitchen improvements at the school.

Porterwood School will have a larger and more desirable playground with the removal of the school toilets from the playground to an adjoining area. Numerous small jobs were completed and other repairs will be made during the time remaining until the opening of school September 1.

The Board of Education has endeavoured to make all necessary repairs and to include improvements needed to keep each school building in good repair. An effort has been made to assist the one and two room schools, as well as the urban areas, in modernizing facilities.

ANGLING GOVERNOR — Governor Theodore R. McKeldin looks a bit perturbed as he hauls in a foot-long bluefish. McKeldin made the catch while on his first deep-sea fishing excursion off Ocean City this summer. And like most fish stories, this one has an angle. An optical illusion makes it look as though the governor were hauling in a whopper several feet from the boat, with the fish's tail still in the water.

Hardy County Assessments Up $459,530

Utilities Pay Over Fourth Of School Tax

MOOREFIELD — The assessed valuation of Hardy County property is $13,888,235, up $459,530 from the 1953 total of $13,428,705, according to the certificate of valuation by the assessor, Anton M. Keller, given to levying bodies in the county. The four tax levying bodies in the county are the Board of Education, Hardy County Court and the municipalities of Moorefield and Wardensville.

The increase in assessed valuation is largely on electric power companies, railroads, telephone companies, pipelines and gas pumping station. Public utility assessments are up $618,700.

Other property assessments are down $159,170.

A breakdown on the various classes of real estate and personal property shows Class I, personal property $4,170,920, Public Utility property, $130,000, total $4,300,920. This compares with last years figures of $4,488,910, $100,100, total $4,589,010. Class II property, real estate $4,465,620 as compared with 1953's figure of $4,143,665. Class III, real estate $219,340, personal property $1,409,000, public utility property $2,061,800, total $3,690,140. These figures compare with 1953 totals of $239,745, $1,622,785, $1,478,700 totaling $3,341,230. Class IV property, real estate, $508,730, personal property, $818,925, public utility property $104,000, total $1,431,555. The 1953 totals were $473,380, $783,120, $98,300 for a total of $1,354,800.

According to R. S. Dispanet, superintendent of the Hardy County Schools, public utilities are paying more than one fourth of the local taxes for schools.

Keyser Pool May Open By August 15

Rec Board Makes Report To Council

KEYSER — The Mayor and City Council Tuesday heard a report from the Keyser Recreation Board, in which director John R. Shelton said there is a good possibility that the new swimming pool will be functioning by August 15.

Jacob Shear, president of the board, gave a brief report on activities of the recreation unit, and Council passed the city levy for the fiscal year of 1954-55.

City clerk Carl F. Theis Jr. gave the monthly financial report as of August 1, in which he showed receipts to the last of July amounting to $16,737.84, and the balance from the last fiscal year ending at that time of $479.90 left a balance on hand amounting to $17,217.74. Checks issued in July were announced as $3,587.54; checks issued in August, $2,599.64, and bills of the amount of $3,000, left a balance of $8,030.20 as of August 3.

Estimated expenditures for the fiscal year for police and water departments were set at $19,721.27 and $20,635.69 respectively, for the balance of the year exclusive of July passed. The street department estimate for the same period was $19,751.63, and the fire department, $2,430.

Thomas Sets Up Disaster Service

14 Families Aided Following Tornado

THOMAS — Kenneth Rubenstein was named general chairman of the disaster committee organized for the town of Thomas by the American Red Cross at a meeting held Monday evening in the City Hall. Carmen Monda was named as vice-chairman.

Mayor Carmen "Zeke" DiBacco was named chairman of the Shelter committee and will name his own committee in the near future. Salvadore DiBacco will be chairman and Mrs. Robert Kight, co-chairman of the Food committee; Foster Bland will be in charge of the transportation of furniture and will also name his own workers.

Dr. Tracy A. Currey is chairman of the Medical committee, assisted by Mrs. James Gainer, Mrs. Patsy Dilettoso and Miss Mary Rose Dimaio. The Clothing committee will be James C. Cooper and Mrs. Mary DiBacco Grecco. Kenneth Rubenstein and Mrs. B. W. Phillips will have communications, legislation and information for family service.

Mrs. Robert Kight was named chairman of the canteen committee which served food after the tornado on July 15. She was assisted by Mrs. Reggie DiBacco, Mrs. Charles Milkint, Mrs. Joseph Milkint, Mrs. O. B. Collins and Miss Edna McVeigh.

Miss Geneva Jacobs, disaster representative of the Eastern Area of Red Cross spent the past two weeks in Thomas and stated that 14 families registered for assistance to the Red Cross. The amount spent to date for disaster relief is $1,123.16. Of that amount $559.00 was given for household furniture; $512.25 for food; clothing and maintenance; $31.50 for medical care and $20.41 for mass care and canteen expenses.

Dr. Tracy A. Currey, commander of Blue Ridge Post 22, American Legion, Thomas, presented a check from the American Legion State Relief fund for $500, to be used by the Tucker County chapter of the Red Cross, for relief of tornado victims in Thomas. The balance of the money used in Thomas came from national Red Cross headquarters.

Miss Jacobs stated that although the damages were extensive in Thomas, most families affected were able to help themselves and had adequate insurance coverage.

Piedmont Council Approves Levy

PIEDMONT — The levy for the year ending June 30, 1955 read by Ormond Ledlow, city clerk, at a special meeting Tuesday evening was approved by the Mayor and City Council.

The amount estimated to be spent in running the municipal government for the year is $29,047, of which $8,857 will be collected from taxation at 87.5 cents per $100 assessed value set by the State of West Virginia.

The remaining $20,210 will be collected from services rendered by the town, but this does not include water. A separate account is kept for income and expenses of operating the water system.

Return From Vacation

WESTERNPORT — Mrs. Katherine Dailey, city clerk, and children, Miss Mary Clare, Joseph and John Dailey, have reutrned from spending a two-weeks vacation at the former's brother's cottage, Robert Getty on Shelter Island, N. Y. John Getty, another son of Mrs. Dailey remained for a longer visit.

Major Repairs Completed On Tucker Schools

More Work Planned Before Sept. 1 Opening

PARSONS — The Tucker County Board of Education has been active during the past year in completing a number of major repairs and maintenance projects in the schools.

Major repairs and improvements made to the schools from August 1, 1953 to August 1, 1954 include the following:

At Davis School, the roof and eaves of the building were repaired and all outside trim of the building painted.

Thomas School building was rewired and paint was furnished for some of the rooms of the building. New urinals were installed.

Parsons High School received a new water fountain and glass banking boards were installed. Portable bleachers were installed in the gymnasium and tile was furnished by the Board for the athletic field.

Parsons Grade School received a new water fountain and paint for the class rooms.

New steps were erected at Pine Grove School. The Cosner School was painted on the outside and the hot lunch kitchen painted. Footbridges at Hambleton, Hendricks and Pheasant Run repaired with materials furnished by the Board. A new roof at Hamrick School has been completed and a section of the furnace replaced. Inside painting jobs were completed at Sugarlands, Mt. Zion, Mackeyville, Wolford, Licking Creek and Bretz school. A new roof was also placed on Shaffertown School and a new porch floor laid at Mackeyville School.

A new submersible pump has been installed at St. George School. The pumps were installed in the recently drilled well replacing an old dug well condemned by the Health Department. Two gas furnaces, a circulating gas heater and lighting fixtures were installed. A new kitchen stove has been purchased and will be installed there.

Flanagan Hill received a new well, with an electric pump bringing water into the school. A hot lunch center will be resumed in the school. It has been closed three years due to the water supply. A hot lunch center kitchen was made by partitioning a section of one room and the porch was re-floored at the school. William Smith, principal, with the cooperation of the community, is planning further kitchen improvements at the school.

Porterwood School will have a larger and more desirable playground with the removal of the school toilets from the playground to an adjoining area. Numerous small jobs were completed and other repairs will be made during the time remaining until the opening of school September 1.

The Board of Education has endeavoured to make all necessary repairs and to include improvements needed to keep each school building in good repair. An effort has been made to assist the one and two room schools, as well as the urban areas, in modernizing facilities.

ANGLING GOVERNOR — Governor Theodore R. McKeldin looks a bit perturbed as he hauls in a foot-long bluefish. McKeldin made the catch while on his first deep-sea fishing excursion off Ocean City this summer. And like most fish stories, this one has an angle. An optical illusion makes it look as though the governor were hauling in a whopper several feet from the boat, with the fish's tail still in the water.

Hardy County Assessments Up $459,530

Utilities Pay Over Fourth Of School Tax

MOOREFIELD — The assessed valuation of Hardy County property is $13,888,235, up $459,530 from the 1953 total of $13,428,705, according to the certificate of valuation by the assessor, Anton M. Keller, given to levying bodies in the county. The four tax levying bodies in the county are the Board of Education, Hardy County Court and the municipalities of Moorefield and Wardensville.

The increase in assessed valuation is largely on electric power companies, railroads, telephone companies, pipelines and gas pumping station. Public utility assessments are up $618,700.

Other property assessments are down $159,170.

A breakdown on the various classes of real estate and personal property shows Class I, personal property $4,170,920, Public Utility property, $130,000, total $4,300,920. This compares with last years figures of $4,488,910, $100,100, total $4,589,010. Class II property, real estate $4,465,620 as compared with 1953's figure of $4,143,665. Class III, real estate $219,340, personal property $1,409,000, public utility property $2,061,800, total $3,690,140. These figures compare with 1953 totals of $239,745, $1,622,785, $1,478,700 totaling $3,341,230. Class IV property, real estate, $508,730, personal property, $818,925, public utility property $104,000, total $1,431,555. The 1953 totals were $473,380, $783,120, $98,300 for a total of $1,354,800.

According to R. S. Dispanet, superintendent of the Hardy County Schools, public utilities are paying more than one fourth of the local taxes for schools.

Keyser Pool May Open By August 15

Rec Board Makes Report To Council

KEYSER — The Mayor and City Council Tuesday heard a report from the Keyser Recreation Board, in which director John R. Shelton said there is a good possibility that the new swimming pool will be functioning by August 15.

Jacob Shear, president of the board, gave a brief report on activities of the recreation unit, and Council passed the city levy for the fiscal year of 1954-55.

City clerk Carl F. Theis Jr. gave the monthly financial report as of August 1, in which he showed receipts to the last of July amounting to $16,737.84, and the balance from the last fiscal year ending at that time of $479.90 left a balance on hand amounting to $17,217.74. Checks issued in July were announced as $3,587.54; checks issued in August, $2,599.64, and bills of the amount of $3,000, left a balance of $8,030.20 as of August 3.

Estimated expenditures for the fiscal year for police and water departments were set at $19,721.27 and $20,635.69 respectively, for the balance of the year exclusive of July passed. The street department estimate for the same period was $19,751.63, and the fire department, $2,430.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Russians Experiment With Atom Cars, Radio

MOSCOW, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Soviet atomic expert said today Russian scientists are experimenting with the use of nuclear fuel to power automobiles and run radio stations.

Dr. V. P. Romadin told a picked audience at the Scientific Society's lecture hall here that Soviet scientists and engineers already are at work building new industrial power stations of 50,000 and 100,000 kilowatts capacity following the recent opening of a 5,000-kilowatt power plant run on atomic energy.

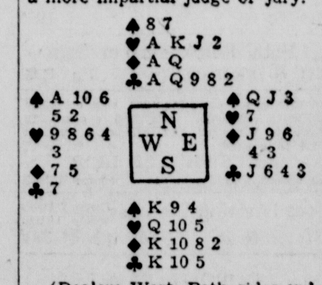
DAILY BRIDGE LESSON

by BARCLAY

READING NOT "THE BUNK"

MANY players of about average grade consider card-reading a vastly over-rated art. Indeed, one of them was heard to say recently that "card-reading is the bunk." He would probably continue to speak that way, regardless of how many actual hands you showed him which proved the contrary. You wouldn't have to use deals with fancy throw-ins, coups and squeezes, but merely those with marked low finesses and suit-establishment situations, to make a conclusive case before a more impartial judge or jury.



(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	2 NT
Pass	4 NT

South made that strong bid on the first round, not just because of his three kings and a queen, each in a different suit, but partly for two other good reasons. The first was possession of three tens and a nine, and the other was the fact that he knows he is a crackerjack player of the cards. He soundly retreated into his shell, however, when North made that extremely mild slam invitation, which with the pair was a natural call and not a Blackwood. North really had enough to risk slam, if he had been a bit venturesome, but South had surely shown all his values the first time.

When the spade 5 was led to the J and K, he had already made a pretty fair sizeup of his situation before taking the trick. Then he led the club 10 to the Q, took in the diamond A and Q, heart 10, diamond K and heart 5 to the A. East's discard of the diamond 6 on that second heart told him West originally had five, surely five spades because the fifth-best 2 was put on the third diamond, hence a singleton club, which had already been used, totalling his thirteen cards.

The club J was therefore marked in the East. So the club 8 was sent through, the 5 being played under it, after which the rest of the tricks went to the club K, heart Q to the K, heart J, club A to fell the J and the established club 9. So not even the spade A took a trick as he gathered them all in.

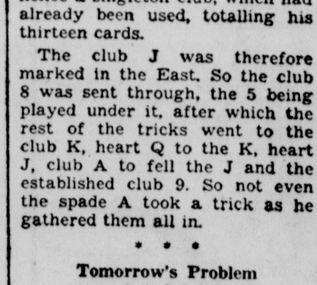
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

What is the soundest defense against West's 3-Diamonds, doubled by North, after normal bidding which began with South's 1-Club?

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

W M S H G W J G L U S H U P G W S Q T U B D

W M S H B P Z W U J — S D S U L B Z

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: CHILL PENURY REPRESSED THEIR NOBLE RAGE, AND FROZE THE GENIAL CURRENT OF THE SOUL—GRAY.

Russians Experiment With Atom Cars, Radio

MOSCOW, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Soviet atomic expert said today Russian scientists are experimenting with the use of nuclear fuel to power automobiles and run radio stations.

Dr. V. P. Romadin told a picked audience at the Scientific Society's lecture hall here that Soviet scientists and engineers already are at work building new industrial power stations of 50,000 and 100,000 kilowatts capacity following the recent opening of a 5,000-kilowatt power plant run on atomic energy.

Frederick II of Prussia was not given the title of "the Great" until after his death.

DAILY BRIDGE LESSON

READING NOT "THE BUNK"

MANY players of about average grade consider card-reading a vastly over-rated art. Indeed, one of them was heard to say recently that "card-reading is the bunk." He would probably continue to speak that way, regardless of how many actual hands you showed him which proved the contrary. You wouldn't have to use deals with fancy throw-ins, coups and squeezes, but merely those with marked low finesses and suit-establishment situations, to make a conclusive case before a more impartial judge or jury.

	♠ 8 7 ♥ A K J 2 ♦ A Q ♣ A Q 9 8 2
♠ A 10 6 5 2 ♥ 9 8 6 4 3 ♦ 7 5 ♣ 7	N W E S	♠ Q J 3 ♥ 7 ♦ J 9 6 4 3 ♣ J 6 4 3
	♠ K 9 4 ♥ Q 10 5 ♦ K 10 8 2 ♣ K 10 5

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	4 NT

South made that strong bid on the first round, not just because of his three kings and a queen, each in a different suit, but partly for two other good reasons. The first was possession of three tens and a nine, and the other was the fact that he knows he is a crackerjack player of the cards. He soundly retreated into his shell, however, when North made that extremely mild slam invitation, which with the pair was a natural call and not a Blackwood. North really had enough to risk siam, if he had been a bit venturesome, but South had surely shown all his values the first time.

When the spade 5 was led to the J and K, he had already made a pretty fair sizeup of his situation before taking the trick. Then he led the club 10 to the Q, took in the diamond A and Q, heart 10, diamond K and heart 5 to the A. East's discard of the diamond 6 on that second heart told him West originally had five, surely five spades because the fifth-best 2 was put on the third diamond, hence a singleton club, which had already been used, totalling his thirteen cards.

The club J was therefore marked in the East. So the club 8 was sent through, the 5 being played under it, after which the rest of the tricks went to the club K, heart Q to the K, heart J, club A to fell the J and the established club 9. So not even the spade A took a trick as he gathered them all in.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A 9 8 2 ♥ J 10 9 ♦ K 10 5 ♣ K 5 3
♠ 6 ♥ 8 3 2 ♦ A J 6 4 ♣ A J 10 9 6	N W E S	♠ J 10 7 3 ♥ A 7 5 4 ♦ Q 9 8 7 2 ♣ None
	♠ K Q 5 4 ♥ K Q 6 ♦ 3 ♣ Q 8 7 4 2

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

What is the soundest defense against West's 3-Diamonds, doubled by North, after normal bidding which began with South's 1-Club?

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pvt. Eugene E. Deffinbaugh, who died in France, August 5th, 1944.

Down a road that's calm and peaceful
Guided by God's loving hand,
He has gone upon a journey
To a distant, brighter land.
And although our hearts are heavy,
With the sorrow we must bear,
It helps to bring us comfort
Knowing he is happy there.

Sadly missed by
FATHER, MOTHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Mary E. Figids. We especially wish to thank Rev. S. R. Neel, those who sent flowers, the pallbearers and all who donated cars for the funeral.

Melvin, Ervin and Evelyn

We wish to sincerely thank all our friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy during the illness and following the death of our husband and father, R. Price Barncord, Sr., Westernport. We deeply appreciate all the kindnesses, flowers and transportation offered us.

Mrs. R. Price Barncord
and Children

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pvt. Eugene E. Deffinbaugh, who died in France, August 5th, 1944.

Down a road that's calm and peaceful
Guided by God's loving hand,
He has gone upon a journey
To a distant, brighter land.
And although our hearts are heavy,
With the sorrow we must bear,
It helps to bring us comfort
Knowing he is happy there.

Sadly missed by
FATHER, MOTHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Mary E. Figids. We especially wish to thank Rev. S. R. Neel, those who sent flowers, the pallbearers and all who donated cars for the funeral.

Melvin, Ervin and Evelyn

We wish to sincerely thank all our friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy during the illness and following the death of our husband and father, R. Price Barncord, Sr., Westernport. We deeply appreciate all the kindnesses, flowers and transportation offered us.

Mrs. R. Price Barncord
and Children

WHY PAY RENT?

Situated at 10 Boone St. is this well built 2 story frame dwelling having 6 rooms, bath, pantry, 3 porches, small basement, 2-car garage. Price only $6500. Easy terms.

Along the Winchester Road just west of the drive-in theatre, is this practically new, well built and well planned 1½ story frame and asbestos shingle fully insulated dwelling, having 6 large rooms, modern bath, extra large closets, hardwood floors, full basement, warm air furnace heat, lot 100 x 540. Immediate possession. Price reduced to $9300 for short time only.

DWELLING—PLUS INCOME

Due to owner leaving the City soon, I am offering a well built brick West Side dwelling which readily shows signs of much time and attention given to making a sturdy, tidy and desirable residence, even down to a lovely rear yard.

Owners occupy the 4 room and bath first floor and have a $150 monthly income from 2nd and 3rd floor apartments.

Purchased in 1948 the work and expense of renovating and modernizing has been considerable AND all of this is a gift to you at the $9850 sale price. To one who feels it difficult to acquire and finally pay-out on a home, take this and let it pay for itself. Must be seen to fully appreciate.

Located 109 S. Smallwood St.

Market Stages Vigorous Rally After Sharp Selloff

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP) — The Stock Market weathered an extremely sharp selloff today, rebounding to a steady position by the close.

The tremendous activity generated by a prolonged selling wave and an equally vigorous recovery pushed volume to 3,620,000 shares from 2,970,000 yesterday. It was the most active session since Jan. 17,1951, when volume totaled 3,860,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 20 cents from its highest level since 1929 to $134.20. But this decline was actually caused by several stocks which traded ex-dividend today.

The market started as if to continue its week-long advance with aircrafts and railroads finding ready buyers. Then shortly before noon, selling orders began to pour into brokerage houses and the high speed ticker tape fell behind the stepped up volume as much as four minutes.

Stocks hardest hit during the shakeout were the aircrafts, carriers, steels and copper mining companies. Declines extended to 5⅜ points (Youngstown Sheet) but were mostly around two points.

Here are some key closing quotations: Youngstown Sheet 60¾ off 2¾, General Motors 81⅛ up ¾, Chrysler 65½ up 1½, Goodyear 74½ off ½, Boeing 59⅛ up 1⅝, Douglas 89 up 1, Chance Vought 35 up 4½, Radio Copr. 33¼ off ⅜, General Dynamics 69⅛ off 1¼, Vanadium 71¾ up 2, General Electric 46⅛ up ⅝, American Telephone 173⅜ up ⅜, Texas Co. 72¼ off 1¼, Union Pacific 135½ off 1¼ and Twentieth-Century Fox 23⅛ up 1.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany Co., Md., No. 23,697 Equity, William L. Lindner and Margaret Lindner, his wife, and Josephine Rice widow, Vs. Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, of Bedford, Penna., and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, of Bedford, Penna.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell the real estate located in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by William L. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Catherine G. Shuck and Gretchen L. Fletcher; all of the respondents hereto being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Bill states that by deed dated August 29, 1933, and recorded in Liber 170, folio 13, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, Charles G. Watson and William A. Gunter, Trustees, conveyed to William L. Lindner, Mary A. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Gretchen L. Fletcher and Catherine G. Shuck two parcels of real estate located near Cumberland on the Northern side of the Baltimore Turnpike Road leading from Cumberland to Baltimore.

That the said Mary A. Lindner died seized and possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest therein, intestate, on December 11, 1944, and that some of the heirs at law of the said Mary A. Lindner, deceased, namely, Claude W. Lindner, Hilda M. Townsend, Joeadd T. Lindner and Leona Thielen, children of her deceased brother, Thomas Lindner, conveyed their undivided interest in said properties to William L. Lindner by deed dated November 21, 1945, and recorded in Liber 210, folio 678, one of the Land Records aforesaid. Certified copies of both of the aforesaid deeds being filed with the Bill of Complaint as part thereof.

The Bill further states that the interests of the different parties to this suit in said parcels of real estate are by virtue of the aforegoing deeds as follows: William L. Lindner—7/25; Josephine Rice—6/25; Catherine G. Shuck—6/25; and Gertrude L. Fletcher—6/25.

The Bill further states that the properties are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein; and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate and a division of the proceeds among those entitled thereto.

It is thereupon this 14th day of July, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, all non-residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 16th day of August, 1954, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 2nd day of September, 1954, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

DWELLING—PLUS INCOME

Due to owner leaving the City soon, I am offering a well built brick West Side dwelling which readily shows signs of much time and attention given to making a sturdy, tidy and desirable residence, even down to a lovely rear yard.

Owners occupy the 4 room and bath first floor and have a $150 monthly income from 2nd and 3rd floor apartments.

Purchased in 1948 the work and expense of renovating and modernizing has been considerable AND all of this is a gift to you at the $9850 sale price. To one who feels it difficult to acquire and finally pay-out on a home, take this and let it pay for itself. Must be seen to fully appreciate.

Market Stages Vigorous Rally After Sharp Selloff

The tremendous activity generated by a prolonged selling wave and an equally vigorous recovery pushed volume to 3,620,000 shares from 2,970,000 yesterday. It was the most active session since Jan. 17,1951, when volume totaled 3,860,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 20 cents from its highest level since 1929 to $134.20. But this decline was actually caused by several stocks which traded ex-dividend today.

The market started as if to continue its week-long advance with aircrafts and railroads finding ready buyers. Then shortly before noon, selling orders began to pour into brokerage houses and the high speed ticker tape fell behind the stepped up volume as much as four minutes.

Stocks hardest hit during the shakeout were the aircrafts, carriers, steels and copper mining companies. Declines extended to 5⅜ points (Youngstown Sheet) but were mostly around two points.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany Co., Md., No. 23,697 Equity. William L. Lindner and Margaret Lindner, his wife, and Josephine Rice widow, Vs. Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, of Bedford, Penna., and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, of Bedford, Penna.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell the real estate located in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by William L. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Catherine G. Shuck and Gretchen L. Fletcher; all of the respondents hereto being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Bill states that by deed dated August 29, 1933, and recorded in Liber 170, folio 13, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, Charles G. Watson and William A. Gunter, Trustees, conveyed to William L. Lindner, Mary A. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Gretchen L. Fletcher and Catherine G. Shuck two parcels of real estate located near Cumberland on the Northern side of the Baltimore Turnpike Road leading from Cumberland to Baltimore.

That the said Mary A. Lindner died seized and possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest therein, intestate, on December 11, 1944, and that some of the heirs at law of the said Mary A. Lindner, deceased, namely, Claude W. Lindner, Hilda M. Townsend, Joeadd T. Lindner and Leona Thielen, children of her deceased brother, Thomas Lindner, conveyed their undivided interest in said properties to William L. Lindner by deed dated November 21, 1945, and recorded in Liber 210, folio 678, one of the Land Records aforesaid. Certified copies of both of the aforesaid deeds being filed with the Bill of Complaint as part thereof.

The Bill further states that the interests of the different parties to this suit in said parcels of real estate are by virtue of the aforegoing deeds as follows: William L. Lindner—7/25; Josephine Rice—6/25; Catherine G. Shuck—6/25; and Gertrude L. Fletcher—6/25.

The Bill further states that the properties are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein; and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate and a division of the proceeds among those entitled thereto.

It is thereupon this 14th day of July, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, all non-residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 16th day of August, 1954, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 2nd day of September, 1954, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

Richmond Firm Low Bidder On School Project

Work Scheduled At Carver, Flintstone

The Flowers School Equipment Company of Richmond, Va., submitted a low bid for home economics laboratory equipment at Carver High School when three other sealed bids were opened yesterday afternoon at the Board of Education office.

The Richmond firm submitted a base bid of $6,015.60 and an alternate bid of $4,912.30, which does not provide one kitchen unit. Delivery date was set for October 15 by the firm.

The other three bids include Jesse J. Hamp Company, Baltimore, $6,500 base bid, $5,550 alternate bid, with a delivery date in November; Southern Desk Company, Hickory, N.C., $7,285.45 base bid, $6,052.55 alternate bid with delivery in December; District Equipment Company, Richmond, Va., $7,316.22 base bid, $6,075.26 alternate bid with delivery date 60 days after contract is awarded.

The District Equipment Company submitted a low bid of $6,329.75 for home economics laboratory equipment at Flintstone High School with a delivery date 60 days after contract is awarded.

Other bids include Jesse J. Hamp Company, $7,552 with delivery date in November; Southern Desk Company, $7,906.50 with delivery in December and Flowers School Equipment Company, $7,966.74 with a delivery date of October 15.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county schools, who opened the bids in the absence of Ralph R. Webster, superintendent, said the bids for the projects will not be awarded until action has been taken by the Board.

SRC Asks Bids On Third Job Near Swanton

The State Roads Commission yesterday asked for bids on the rebuilding of a 1.6-mile section of Maryland Route 135 at Swanton in Garrett County.

The bids will be opened by the SRC in Baltimore on August 24.

The road to be reconstructed runs from the top of the mountain above Swanton toward the B&O Railroad crossing.

The contract will be one of three on the route. Two other contracts comprising about five miles of road were let to the Cumberland Contracting Company.

The first, according to G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, was awarded last year and is to be completed next week. Good progress is being made on the second project, let this spring. Chaires said the work is expected to be completed before winter halts road construction in the area.

Work on the superstructure of the new Potomac River bridge at Riverside Park is to get under way early next month.

The contract was awarded to the American Bridge Company. Part of the steel has been fabricated for the bridge and is expected to begin arriving here this month.

Four To Attend Youth Institute

Four Cumberland youths will attend the Territorial Youth Institute of the Salvation Army, which will be held August 7 to 18 in Jasper, Ga.

They are William Whitacre, Jacqueline Langley, Shirley Capel and Ruby Barnes, all representing the Salvation Army Citadel here.

The institute will be a summer camp for Salvation Army youths from the Southern states and will include training in the Bible and in personal devotion, according to Lt. James Pappas, assistant officer of the North Cumberland corps.

The youths will leave this afternoon for Baltimore, spend the night there and then drive to the TYI camp on Friday.

Registration for September surplus foods is underway at the Citadel. Registrations will be made Monday through Friday, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. through August 10. None will be signed up on Saturdays, due to lack of personnel.

Boy Is Injured In Bus Accident

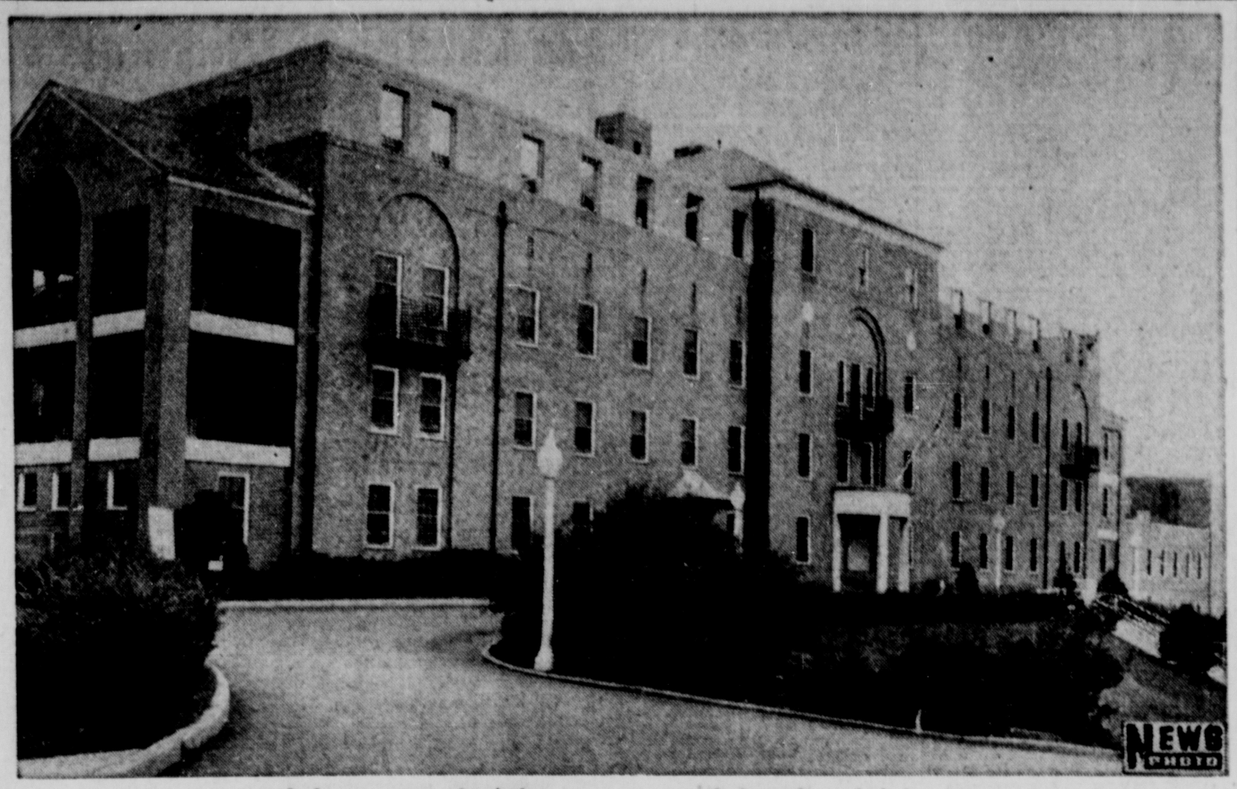
A seven-year-old Bowman's Addition boy was struck by a Cumberland Transit Bus yesterday evening near his home and was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted for X-rays and observation.

The boy was identified by attaches as Paul Spenser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Spenser. He was playing near his home when the mishap occurred at about 6:15 p. m. The boy suffered lacerations of the right side of his head.

Moose Picnic Set

Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 271 will hold its annual family picnic Sunday at the Cumberland Fairgrounds, beginning at noon and continuing until 8 p. m.

There will be refreshments and games will be held for the children. Paid-up club dues will serve as admission to the picnic.



Hospital Alteration Under Way

Construction work is now under way on the fourth floor of Memorial Hospital to provide space to accommodate additional patients at the local hospital. Upon completion of the project, the fourth floor will provide space for four 4-bed wards, accommodating 16 patients; 10 semi-private rooms, 20 patients; and two private rooms, as well as provide a waiting room, utility rooms and toilet facilities for patients. The work is being done by the John I. Vandegrift Construction Company.

Piedmont, Westernport Are Targets Of Mock Air Raid

Piedmont and Westernport were the targets of a surprise mock air raid last night as eight volunteer fire companies went into action.

David E. Kirk, coordinator of the fire branch of the County Civil Defense program for the Barton-Keyser area, said the raid was a complete surprise to everyone, including the telephone operators who play a major role in notifying the various companies.

Volunteers of Piedmont pulled outside their station and stood by while Keyser firemen traveled to the elementary school in Piedmont.

Bloomington volunteers went to the West Virgina side of the interstate bridge between Piedmont and Luke; Westernport reported to the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company office on Ashfield Street, Piedmont, and Barton went to the outskirts of Westernport at Jake's Service Station.

Luke company went to the Odd Fellows Hall in Westernport, McCoole stood by in that community and was on call for emergencies in Keyser, and Beryl firemen went to the crossroads near Bloomington.

About 40 men participated in the alert, which began at 7:27 p. m. and lasted for 33 minutes. Kirk checked the various companies and reported the alert was effective.

Car Ransackers Given Suspended Terms, Paroled

Two Cumberland brothers, aged 10 and 12, who admitted ransacking a number of parked automobiles, received suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who heard the case, also paroled the youths into custody of their parents. The provisions of the two-year probations are that the boys attend church each Sunday, be of good general behavior, and remain off the streets at night unless accompanied by their parents.

The boys' parents, who were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, also received suspended sentences of six months. The father's sentence was to the House of Correction and the mother's, to the Maryland Reformatory for Women.

The trial had originally been set for Friday, but Mason deferred sentence until yesterday.

The Weather

Cumberland experienced a mild summer day yesterday. The high official temperature, as recorded at the Constitution Park weather station, was 84 and the low reading was 56. Today is expected to be rather cloudy, with scattered thundershowers and the high between 85 and 90.

Water Income Decreases As Result Of Ban

A drop of almost $19,000 in net proceeds from the sale of water during the fiscal year ending June 30 is attributed to a ban imposed on non-essential uses of water in the Cumberland area.

A statement on the income and expenditures of the Water Department for the 1953-54 fiscal year, released yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, showed that the department had a net income of $411,605.95 from the sale of water.

During the previous year, the sale of water provided $430,456.57 after discounts for prompt payment were deducted.

Income from meter installations, taps and incidentals brought total income for the 1953-54 fiscal year to $422,013.49. The department's budget had been set up to anticipate an income of $436,800 from water rents.

Expenditures for the year totaled $453,416.15, and included capital outlays of $22,665.85 on the transmission system, water works and city distribution system. Gibson said the capital outlay budget was set up to allow for improvements totaling $21,400.

Major expenditures included $238,267.57 for debt service, including $150,925 for interest on the bonded debt, $45,097.57 for the sinking fund and $30,000 for serial bonds retired.

Expenses at the water works property in nearby Pennsylvania totaled $84,248.87, and expenses in the city were $108,233.86.

Playgrounds Select Themes For Floats In City Parade

Fifteen playgrounds have selected themes for the floats they will enter in the intra-city playground parade on August 13, according to Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor.

Children are busy at all of the play centers, making scenes and flowers which will be used to decorate the floats.

The themes, generally from well-known nursery rhymes, are:

Centre Street Playground, "The Farmer in the Dell."

Columbia Street, "Sleeping Beauty."

East Side, "Little Black Sambo."

Gephart Playground, various comic strip characters.

Johnson Heights, "Ten Little Indians."

Lamont Street, "Greatest Fight of the Century."

Mapleside, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Mt. Royal Playground, "Mother Goose Land."

North End Playground, "Tom Sawyer."

Pennsylvania Avenue, "Mistress Mary."

Pine Avenue Playground, "Howdy Doody."

Ridgedale, "Alice in Wonderland."

Thomas Post, "Casey Jones."

Virginia Avenue Playground, "Tom Thumb Wedding."

West Side Playground, "Peter Pan."

Carver Playground, "Old Woman in a Shoe."

Man Hitches Train Ride, Lands In Jail

Harold R. Harshman, Washington, Pa., charged with trespassing on Baltimore and Ohio Railroad property, was taken to the County Jail yesterday pending an FBI investigation. The action stemmed from a case heard in Trial Magistrate's Court by Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

B&O officials said Harshman decided to return to Washington via fast freight, and crawled under the slope of a hopper on a loaded freight train which was standing in the B&O yards here. He perched on a narrow beam and apparently went to sleep.

Train crewmen, in making an inspection of the train before starting their run, noticed the man lying there and thought he was dead.

It was necessary for the crewmen to notify railroad police before removing the man from the train. Lt. Robert Shrout, this city, was called to the scene and arrested Harshman on trespassing charges. The train then started on its journey, nearly an hour behind schedule.

Officials surmised that, had the train started out with Harshman in that position, he would have rolled off and possibly fallen between the wheels of the train.

Dick deferred sentence on the trespassing charge pending the outcome of the investigation.

Paul Haberlein Awarded $192 In Civil Suit

Paul Haberlein, of Frostburg, yesterday was awarded $192 in a civil suit in which he sued the administratrix of the estate of Clarence Muir, who was killed last Christmas Eve when the car he was driving collided with a People's Transit Lines bus, at the coal tipple near Pekin.

Haberlein, the driver of the bus, asked for that amount as a result of a loss of three week's wages. In any fatal accident, the operator's licenses of the drivers involved are suspended by the State Police until an investigation can be completed.

Since he had no license for that period of time, Haberlein was unable to drive the bus.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, in rendering the decision in favor of the plaintiff, said that the opinion of the court was that the accident was the "proximate cause" of the damages.

W. Earle Cobey represented the plaintiff, while the Muir estate had William Geppert as counsel.

The case was originally heard on July 22 and a decision was deferred until yesterday.

Police Boys Club Members To Leave For Camp Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning 25 members of the Cumberland Police Boys Club will climb aboard a truck at Constitution Park and will leave the city for a week of camping at Camp Royal, Belle Grove, along Sideling Hill Creek.

Officer Harry A. Iser, who is in charge of the club, said the group will leave at 10 a.m. Tents and meals will be provided at the camp.

On the program will be swimming, boating, fishing, and other outdoor activities. Officer Iser thanks all residents who gave contributions toward the camping trip for the boys.

Church To Meet

St. Philip's Episcopal Chapel will hold a congregational meeting today at 8:30 p. m. at the church, according to Rev. David C. Streett, vicar.

GE Low Bidder For Civil Defense Radio Equipment

Volunteer Firemen Will Participate

General Electric Company submitted a low bid of $8,401.60 yesterday morning for supplying 20 mobile transmitter and receiver sets for use by area volunteer fire companies in Civil Defense work.

Two other bids were opened in the office of William G. Barger at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. Barger, who is county CD director, said RCA submitted a bid of $8,440, and Motorola, a bid of $8,844.

In another bid for two fixed-station transmitters and receivers, Motorola submitted a low bid of $1,925; General Electric, $1,974, and RCA, $2,305.

Final decision on the awarding of the bids has not been reached, Barger said, and he will make a recommendation to the Allegany County Commissioners following a meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at LaVale Fire Hall when he will meet with representatives from all volunteer companies who wish to participate in the CD setup.

During the meeting the fire companies will get definite information on the cost to the individual companies. At that time definite commitments are expected.

According to present plans, four of the 20 sets will be installed in trucks of Cumberland's Fire department, Barger added, while the others will be placed in area volunteer companies trucks.

Approval for the radio equipment has been received from the federal government. Fifty per cent of the money needed will come from the federal Government's CD fund, 25 per cent from the state, and the balance from the county.

The county's share will be borne in part by the volunteer fire companies desiring to participate in the radio hookup, Barger added.

Present when the bids were opened were representatives of Motorola and General Electric, as well as LaVale, Cresaptown and Baltimore Pike fire companies.

Frostburg Woman Sues For $3,000

Mary Elizabeth Jackson, RFD 1, Frostburg, for her own use and for use of the Firemen's Insurance Company, has filed a $3,000 damage suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Charles H. Deist and Pearl Mary Deist, partners, trading as Quality Dry Cleaners, Meyersdale, Pa.

The plaintiff, through Attorneys William H. Geppert and W. Earle Cobey, contended that Leo C. Deist, agent and employe of the defendants, was driving their station wagon in a reckless manner at the intersection of Grant and McCulloh streets in Frostburg. The station wagon collided with her automobile, causing her serious injury and virtually ruining her automobile, she declared.

The Firemen's Insurance Company paid the plaintiff $1,010.84, the cost of repairing the automobile, the suit declared.

Husband Slain In Battle With W. Va. Policemen

Had Threatened To Kill Wife, Son

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—Gardner Allen (Pete) Darlington, 42-year-old laborer laid off last week at a factory here, was slain early today as five policemen tried to arrest him on a warrant sworn out by his wife.

State Police Cpl. W. F. Bowley said four of the officers apparently fired when Darlington pointed his gun at Douglas Dennison, Charles Town city policeman.

Either three or four shots hit Darlington. He died on the spot of a chest wound.

Bowley said he did not know who fired the fatal shot or if Darlington had fired his double barreled shotgun.

The shooting was about 1:10 a.m. in front of the Darlington house.

Several hours earlier Mrs. Darlington had sworn out a warrant charging her husband with drunk and disorderly conduct. She told Justice of the Peace J. F. Ramey her husband had abused her and threatened to kill both her and their 19-year-old son, Allen.

The warrant was turned over to city police and they asked Bowley and State Trooper Jack E. Durst to help make the arrest.

Bowley said he went to the front door and Darlington appeared with his shotgun. Bowley had Dennison plead with him to put down the gun. Bowley went in the back door of the house, hoping he could disarm Darlington.

When that failed, the officers retreated to behind their cars. Dennison was crouched behind one, Bowley said, when Darlington came around one end of it and pointed his gun toward Dennison. Dennison shouted and shots rang out.

Darlington worked until last Friday at the Victor Products Co., manufacturer of refrigerator and electrical appliances. He had been convicted several times in police court for drunkeness. Survivors include another son 5 years old and his parents.

(Cpl. Bowley, who was stationed at Keyser for a number of years and is well known in Cumberland-land, was transferred to Charles Town a few months ago.)

Sewer Repairs Under Way On Frederick St.

Major repairs on a 15-inch sewer line on Frederick Street at City Hall will be completed in four or five days, William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property, announced yesterday.

He said the line sagged and finally broke recently as a result of damage during the installation of a nearby flood control conduit.

The commissioner said it is believed the fill beneath the line was not tamped sufficiently during the flood job and that the ground settled, allowing the line to bow and finally break.

He said the job has been an inconvenience to the public, since it was necessary to erect barricades at Centre and Liberty streets.

Street crews are now oiling the streets around Jane Frazier Village, he said.

The oiling project is about two-thirds completed, Buchholtz said, adding areas in the South End, West Side and part of North End are still to be completed.

The commissioner said citizens still insist on spoiling the work by removing barricades before the oiled surfaces are stabilized.

Buchholtz personally supervised a Street Department crew which helped put the Cumberland Ice and Cold Storage Company back into service after a near-disastrous blaze on Frederick Street Tuesday morning.

The crews moved away up to 30 loads of brick, he said, to open the street and allow the firm to get its trucks to loading platforms.

Large Rattlesnake Killed By Youth

James Alt, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Gilbert Alt, Bowmans Addition, yesterday killed a large rattlesnake while berry-picking on Wills Mountain. The youth used a rock to subdue the large reptile.

The rattler was 38 inches long, approximately four inches in circumference, and had 12 rattles and a button.

MISS RUTH H. HIACK

Three Teaching Positions Filled In Allegany Co.

Miss Hiack Assigned To Oldtown School

Three more teaching positions in Allegany County Schools have been filled according to Ralph T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools.

Miss Ruth Helen Hiack, 211 West North Street, Butler, Pa., has been assigned to teach English at Oldtown High School this fall and will replace William Turner, this city, who has resigned to accept a teaching position in a school near Washington.

A graduate of Butler High School, Miss Hiack also graduated from Grove City College this past June, majoring in English and speech. While attending college she was editor-in-chief of the "Collegian."

She was also president of Alpha Theta Mu, senior women's honorary sorority.

In the other two assignments, Miss JoAnn Stangel, 521 Cumberland Street, has been named teacher of English at Beall High School, Frostburg, and will replace Miss Ina K. Spitznas, of Frostburg, who retired last June.

Miss Stangel graduated from Allegany High School in 1950, completed two years of study at Potomac State College, Keyser, and this past June graduated from West Virginia University, Morgantown, with a degree of bachelor of science, majoring in English and speech.

During this summer, she also did graduate work at the university.

Mrs. Elinor (Kiser) Heath, of Klosterman's Addition, LaVale, has been appointed to teach mathematics at Flintstone High School and will replace George Conway, RD 3, city, who has been transferred to Allegany High School.

Mrs. Heath graduated from Keyser High School in 1945, from Potomac State College in 1947 and received a degree of bachelor of science in education at West Virginia University in 1949. She majored in mathematics.

Her teaching experience included one year at Petersburg, (W. Va.) High School and semester at Glen Burnie Junior High School.

In commenting on the need for teachers in Allegany County schools, Rizer said there are several positions open in special fields, including music, industrial arts, and art.

Marilyn Kreider Places In National VFW Essay Contest

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (AP) — Sherrie Woodall of Neihart, Mont., today was named winner of the national essay contest conducted by the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting here.

An honorable mention prize of $10 went to John Ray Sleeman, Belle, W. Va.

A prize of $5 went to Jane Elizabeth Runk, Virginia Beach, Va. and Marilyn Kreider, Cumberland, Md.

Station Operators Purchase Property

Meril A. Phillips and John P. Kopper Jr., partners, trading as the P&K Service Station in Frostburg, have purchased property there for about $11,000, according to a deed filed for record Tuesday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property was purchased from George H. Plummer, David H. Plummer, Vera M. Plummer and Ausbee Plummer. It was described as Lot No. 9 of Eckhart Flat Addition No. 3 to Frostburg.

Rec Department Will Award 170 Prizes At Intra-City Playground Picnic Tomorrow

The City Recreation Department will award 170 prizes tomorrow during the intra-city playground picnic to be held at Constitution Park.

Up to 1,500 children are expected to attend the event, which will open at 10 a. m. and continue until 4 p. m.

Sixty prizes are on hand for events slated during the morning while three all-star softball games are in progress.

Pool To Be Open

The prizes will be awarded for varied events, including balloon races, spoon and marble races, elephant walks, measuring worm races and crooked walks.

Competition will be in three age groups, six to nine, 10 to 12, and 13 to 16.

There are 44 prizes for events scheduled at the park swimming pool, which will be opened free for all who attend the picnic. Similar contests are planned at Pine Avenue pool for children from Pine and Carver playgrounds.

For those who cannot swim, there will be races at the pool for sunken treasure, walking races and breath holding contests. Beginner swimmers may compete in 20 yard dashes, underwater races and breath holding contests. Experienced swimmers will try for prizes in 25 yard free style events, underwater swimming for distance, diving and balloon races.

Plan Treasure Hunt

During the swimming events, games, including checkers and Chinese checkers will be played in the park casino. Sixty prizes have been set aside for the winners of these games.

One of the big events will be the treasure hunt, scheduled at noon. Six prizes will be awarded in the hunt.

Surplus Food Distribution Begins Monday

Schedule Released By Commissioners

The August distribution of surplus food commodities in Allegany County will begin on Monday at Westernport.

Barton, August 10; Lonaconing, August 11; Midland, August 12; Frostburg, August 13; Eckhart, August 16; Mt. Savage, August 17; Cresaptown, August 18; and Cumberland, August 19 and 20.

The hours of distribution at the various communities, according to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor who is in charge of the program, will be from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. each day.

Some 2,492 families benefited by the food distribution during last month, Chapman pointed out, and the figure compares with a total of 2,240 families receiving food during June.

In July some 11,776 pounds of butter were distributed, as well as 8,970 pounds of cheese; 7,560 pounds of milk, 22,185 pounds of beef and gravy and 7,020 pounds of shortening.

Meanwhile, 175 have signed up to receive surplus food in September, the Salvation Army Citadel announced yesterday. Registrations are being taken at the Citadel Monday through Friday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., until August 10.

Rev. D. C. Streett Named Vicar At Holy Cross

The Reverend David C. Streett II, who recently assumed the duty of vicar of St. Philip's Episcopal Chapel, will assume the additional duty of vicar of Holy Cross Episcopal Chapel, beginning with the Office of Morning Prayer on Sunday.

Rev. Streett was appointed by the Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, D.D., Bishop of Maryland.

Rev. Streett is the son of Dr. Corbin Streett, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, and the late Mrs. Ferebe Westcott Streett, of Chestertown and Baltimore. He received his secondary education in Baltimore.

Following graduation from preparatory school he held a position with the Equitable Trust Company of Baltimore for several years. During World War II he served with the United States Navy aboard heavy cruisers of the Pacific Fleet from Guadalcanal to Okinawa, and also did top secret work in the Headquarters of the Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet. In addition to eight campaign ribbons, he received seven battle stars.

After his discharge from the armed forces Rev. Streett attended St. John's College in Annapolis where he took the Classics Course in the Great Books and Ideas of the Western World. Following college, he did graduate work at Nashotah House in Wisconsin, the School of Theology of the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee, and the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Va., where he graduated in June.

Rev. Streett also received special training at the Southern Rural Church Institute in Valle Crucis, N. C., and at St. Elizabeth's Mental Hospital in Washington. He was ordained to the Sacred Order of Deacons by the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Maryland on June 24 at Old St. Paul's, Baltimore.

In 1947 Rev. Streett married the former Hildegard Charlotte Volkmann, of Boston. They have two daughters, Gretchen Gabrielle and Aleta Ferebe. The Streetts are making their home in Cumberland at 517 Williams Street.

Rev. Streett stated that the new hour for services at Holy Cross Episcopal Chapel will be 9:30 a. m. Sunday, The service is planned at this time as a family service so that fathers and mothers of young children will be able to attend church together by bringing their children with them. Mr. Streett also stated that the services at St. Philip's Episcopal Chapel will continue to be at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Beglin Released From County Jail

J. Norman Beglin, 246 North Centre Street, who was arrested early Tuesday morning following a complaint that he had molested two minor girls who were living at his home, was released yesterday from the County Jail.

The oldest girl, who is 13, was given a lie detector test by Detective Grayson Winfield of the Hagerstown Police Department. The Allegany County Health Department also gave the two girls thorough physical examinations.

The State's Attorney's office here reported that both examinations established that the children were not in any way molested.

The children returned to the home of their parents in Hyndman.

Heads Laborers Union

James Somerville, Fulton Street, has been elected president of Local 616, Laborers Union (AFL), according to Kenneth Grimes, business agent.

Richmond Firm Low Bidder On School Project

Work Scheduled At Carver, Flintstone

The Flowers School Equipment Company of Richmond, Va., submitted a low bid for home economics laboratory equipment at Carver High School when three other sealed bids were opened yesterday afternoon at the Board of Education office.

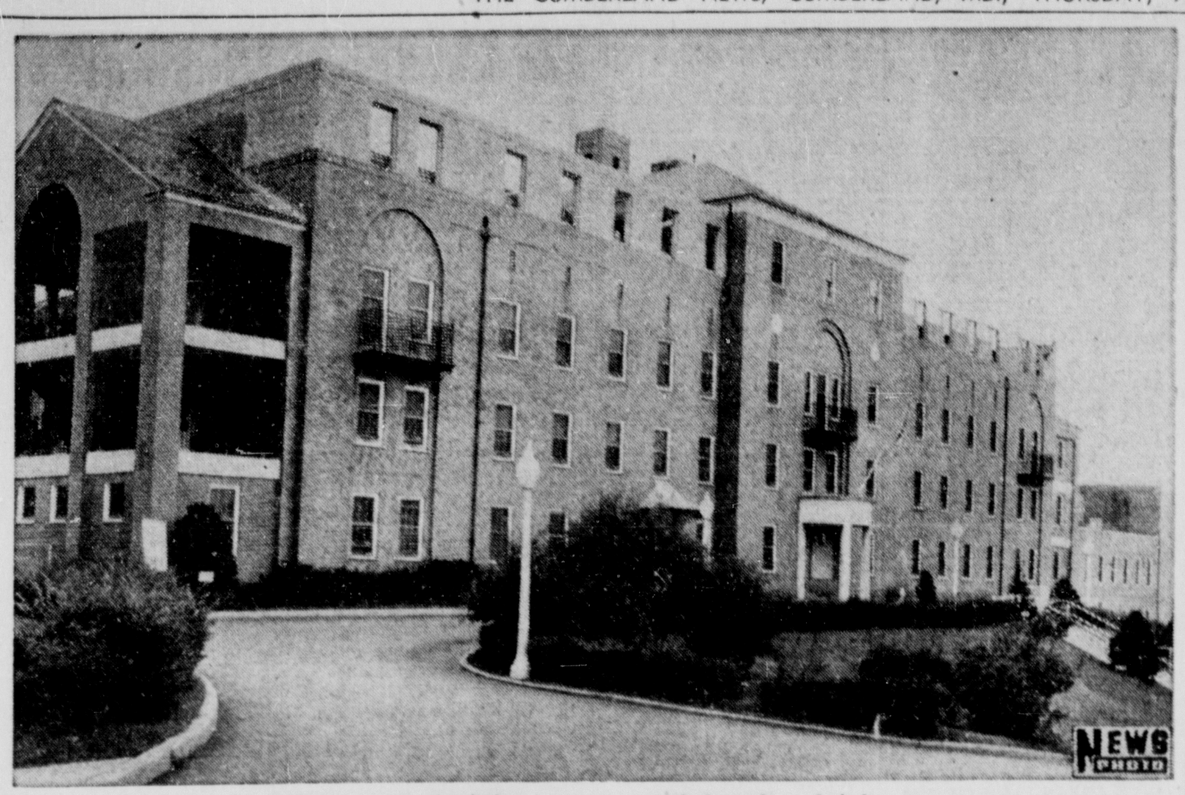
The Richmond firm submitted a base bid of $6,015.60 and an alternate bid of $4,912.30, which does not provide one kitchen unit. Delivery date was set for October 15 by the firm.

The other three bids include Jesse J. Hamp Company, Baltimore, $6,500 base bid, $5,550 alternate bid, with a delivery date in November; Southern Desk Company, Hickory, N.C., $7,289.45 base bid, $6,052.55 alternate bid with delivery in December; District Equipment Company, Richmond, Va., $7,316.22 base bid, $6,075.26 alternate bid with delivery date 60 days after contract is awarded.

The District Equipment Company submitted a low bid of $6,329.75 for home economics laboratory equipment at Flintstone High School with a delivery date 60 days after contract is awarded.

Other bids include Jesse J. Hamp Company, $7,552 with delivery date in November; Southern Desk Company, $7,906.50 with delivery in December and Flowers School Equipment Company, $7,966.74 with a delivery date of October 15.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county schools, who opened the bids in the absence of Ralph R. Webster, superintendent, said the bids for the projects will not be awarded until action has been taken by the Board.



Hospital Alteration Under Way

Construction work is now under way on the fourth floor of Memorial Hospital to provide space to accommodate additional patients at the local hospital. Upon completion of the project, the fourth floor will provide space for four 4-bed wards, accommodating 16 patients; 10 semi-private rooms, 20 patients; and two private rooms, as well as provide a waiting room, utility rooms and toilet facilities for patients. The work is being done by the John I. Vandegrift Construction Company.

SRC Asks Bids On Third Job Near Swanton

The State Roads Commission yesterday asked for bids on the rebuilding of a 1.6-mile section of Maryland Route 135 at Swanton in Garrett County.

The bids will be opened by the SRC in Baltimore on August 24.

The road to be reconstructed runs from the top of the mountain above Swanton toward the B&O Railroad crossing.

The contract will be one of three on the route. Two other contracts comprising about five miles of road were let to the Cumberland Contracting Company.

The first, according to G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, was awarded last year and is to be completed next week. Good progress is being made on the second project, let this spring. Chaires said the work is expected to be completed before winter halts road construction in the area.

Work on the superstructure of the new Potomac River bridge at Riverside Park is to get under way early next month.

The contract was awarded to the American Bridge Company. Part of the steel has been fabricated for the bridge and is expected to begin arriving here this month.

Four To Attend Youth Institute

Four Cumberland youths will attend the Territorial Youth Institute of the Salvation Army, which will be held August 7 to 18 in Jasper, Ga.

They are William Whitacre, Jacqueline Langley, Shirley Capel and Ruby Barnes, all representing the Salvation Army Citadel here.

The institute will be a summer camp for Salvation Army youths from the Southern states and will include training in the Bible and in personal devotion, according to Lt. James Pappas, assistant officer of the North Cumberland corps.

The youths will leave this afternoon for Baltimore, spend the night there and then drive to the TYI camp on Friday.

Registration for September surplus foods is underway at the Citadel. Registrations will be made Monday through Friday, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. through August 10. None will be signed up on Saturdays, due to lack of personnel.

Boy Is Injured In Bus Accident

A seven-year-old Bowman's Addition boy was struck by a Cumberland Transit Bus yesterday evening near his home and was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted for X-rays and observation.

The boy was identified by attaches as Paul Spenser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Spenser. He was playing near his home when the mishap occurred at about 6:15 p. m. The boy suffered lacerations of the right side of his head.

Moose Picnic Set

Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 271 will hold its annual family picnic Sunday at the Cumberland Fairgrounds, beginning at noon and continuing until 8 p. m.

There will be refreshments and games will be held for the children. Paid-up club dues will serve as admission to the picnic.

Piedmont, Westernport Are Targets Of Mock Air Raid

Piedmont and Westernport were the targets of a surprise mock air raid last night as eight volunteer fire companies went into action.

David E. Kirk, coordinator of the fire branch of the County Civil Defense program for the Barton-Keyser area, said the raid was a complete surprise to everyone, including the telephone operators who play a major role in notifying the various companies.

Volunteers of Piedmont pulled outside their station and stood by while Keyser firemen traveled to the elementary school in Piedmont.

Bloomington volunteers went to the West Virgina side of the interstate bridge between Piedmont and Luke; Westernport reported to the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company office on Ashfield Street, Piedmont, and Barton went to the outskirts of Westernport at Jake's Service Station.

Luke company went to the Odd Fellows Hall in Westernport, McCoole stood by in that community and was on call for emergencies in Keyser, and Beryl firemen went to the crossroads near Bloomington.

About 40 men participated in the alert, which began at 7:27 p. m. and lasted for 33 minutes. Kirk checked the various companies and reported the alert was effective.

Car Ransackers Given Suspended Terms, Paroled

Two Cumberland brothers, aged 10 and 12, who admitted ransacking a number of parked automobiles, received suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday in Juvenile Court.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, who heard the case, also paroled the youths into custody of their parents. The provisions of the two-year probations are that the boys attend church each Sunday, be of good general behavior, and remain off the streets at night unless accompanied by their parents.

The boys' parents, who were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, also received suspended sentences of six months. The father's sentence was to the House of Correction and the mother's, to the Maryland Reformatory for Women.

The trial had originally been set for Friday, but Mason deferred sentence until yesterday.

The Weather

Cumberland experienced a mild summer day yesterday. The high official temperature, as recorded at the Constitution Park weather station, was 84 and the low reading was 56. Today is expected to be rather cloudy, with scattered thundershowers and the high between 85 and 90.

Water Income Decreases As Result Of Ban

A drop of almost $19,000 in net proceeds from the sale of water during the fiscal year ending June 30 is attributed to a ban imposed on non-essential uses of water in the Cumberland area.

A statement on the income and expenditures of the Water Department for the 1953-54 fiscal year, released yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, showed that the department had a net income of $411,605.95 from the sale of water.

During the previous year, the sale of water provided $430,456.57 after discounts for prompt payment were deducted.

Income from meter installations, taps and incidentals brought total income for the 1953-54 fiscal year to $422,013.49. The department's budget had been set up to anticipate an income of $436,800 from water rents.

Expenditures for the year totaled $453,416.15, and included capital outlays of $22,665.85 on the transmission system, water works and city distribution system. Gibson said the capital outlay budget was set up to allow for improvements totaling $21,400.

Major expenditures included $238,267.57 for debt service, including $150,925 for interest on the bonded debt, $45,097.57 for the sinking fund and $30,000 for serial bonds retired.

Expenses at the water works property in nearby Pennsylvania totaled $84,248.87, and expenses in the city were $108,233.86.

Playgrounds Select Themes For Floats In City Parade

Fifteen playgrounds have selected themes for the floats they will enter in the intra-city playground parade on August 13, according to Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor.

Children are busy at all of the play centers, making scenes and flowers which will be used to decorate the floats.

The themes, generally from well-known nursery rhymes, are:

Centre Street Playground, "The Farmer in the Dell."

Columbia Street, "Sleeping Beauty."

East Side, "Little Black Sambo."

Gephart Playground, various comic strip characters.

Johnson Heights, "Ten Little Indians."

Lamont Street, "Greatest Fight of the Century."

Mapleside, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Mt. Royal Playground, "Mother Goose Land."

North End Playground, "Tom Sawyer."

Pennsylvania Avenue, "Mistress Mary."

Pine Avenue Playground, "Howdy Doody."

Thomas Post, "Casey Jones."

Virginia Avenue Playground, "Tom Thumb Wedding."

West Side Playground, "Peter Pan."

Carver Playground, "Old Woman in a Shoe."

Man Hitches Train Ride, Lands In Jail

Harold R. Harshman, Washington, Pa., charged with trespassing on Baltimore and Ohio Railroad property, was taken to the County Jail yesterday pending an FBI investigation. The action stemmed from a case heard in Trial Magistrate's Court by Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

B&O officials said Harshman decided to return to Washington via fast freight, and crawled under the slope of a hopper on a loaded freight train which was standing in the B&O yards here. He perched on a narrow beam and apparently went to sleep.

Train crewmen, in making an inspection of the train before starting their run, noticed the man lying there and thought he was dead.

It was necessary for the crewmen to notify railroad police before removing the man from the train. Lt. Robert Shrout, this city, was called to the scene and arrested Harshman on trespassing charges. The train then started on its journey, nearly an hour behind schedule.

Officials surmised that, had the train started out with Harshman in that position, he would have rolled off and possibly fallen between the wheels of the train.

Dick deferred sentence on the trespassing charge pending the outcome of the investigation.

Paul Haberlein Awarded $192 In Civil Suit

Paul Haberlein, of Frostburg, yesterday was awarded $192 in a civil suit in which he sued the administratrix of the estate of Clarence Muir, who was killed last Christmas Eve when the car he was driving collided with a People's Transit Lines bus, at the coal tipple near Pekin.

Haberlein, the driver of the bus, asked for that amount as a result of a loss of three week's wages. In any fatal accident, the operator's licenses of the drivers involved are suspended by the State Police until an investigation can be completed.

Since he had no license for that period of time, Haberlein was unable to drive the bus.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason, in rendering the decision in favor of the plaintiff, said that the opinion of the court was that the accident was the "proximate cause" of the damages.

W. Earle Cobey represented the plaintiff, while the Muir estate had William Geppert as counsel.

The case was originally heard on July 22 and a decision was deferred until yesterday.

Police Boys Club Members To Leave For Camp Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning 25 members of the Cumberland Police Boys Club will climb aboard a truck at Constitution Park and will leave the city for a week of camping at Camp Royal, Belle Grove, along Sideling Hill Creek.

Officer Harry A. Iser, who is in charge of the club, said the group will leave at 10 a.m. Tents and meals will be provided at the camp.

On the program will be swimming, boating, fishing, and other outdoor activities. Officer Iser thanks all residents who gave contributions toward the camping trip for the boys.

Church To Meet

St. Philip's Episcopal Chapel will hold a congregational meeting today at 8:30 p. m. at the church, according to Rev. David C. Streett, vicar.

GE Low Bidder For Civil Defense Radio Equipment

Volunteer Firemen Will Participate

General Electric Company submitted a low bid of $8,401.60 yesterday morning for supplying 20 mobile transmitter and receiver sets for use by area volunteer fire companies in Civil Defense work.

Two other bids were opened in the office of William G. Barger at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. Barger, who is county CD director, said RCA submitted a bid of $8,440, and Motorola, a bid of $8,844.

In another bid for two fixed-station transmitters and receivers, Motorola submitted a low bid of $1,925; General Electric, $1,974, and RCA, $2,305.

Final decision on the awarding of the bids has not been reached, Barger said, and he will make a recommendation to the Allegany County Commissioners following a meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at LaVale Fire Hall when he will meet with representatives from all volunteer companies who wish to participate in the CD setup.

During the meeting the fire companies will get definite information on the cost to the individual companies. At that time definite commitments are expected.

According to present plans, four of the 20 sets will be installed in trucks of Cumberland's Fire department, Barger added, while the others will be placed in area volunteer companies trucks.

Approval for the radio equipment has been received from the federal government. Fifty per cent of the money needed will come from the federal Government's CD fund, 25 per cent from the state, and the balance from the county.

The county's share will be borne in part by the volunteer fire companies desiring to participate in the radio hookup, Barger added.

Present when the bids were opened were representatives of Motorola and General Electric, as well as LaVale, Cresaptown and Baltimore Pike fire companies.

Frostburg Woman Sues For $3,000

Mary Elizabeth Jackson, RFD 1, Frostburg, for her own use and for use of the Firemen's Insurance Company, has filed a $3,000 damage suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Charles H. Deist and Pearl Mary Deist, partners, trading as Quality Dry Cleaners, Meyersdale, Pa.

The plaintiff, through Attorneys William H. Geppert and W. Earle Cobey, contended that Leo C. Deist, agent and employe of the defendants, was driving their station wagon in a reckless manner at the intersection of Grant and McCulloh streets in Frostburg. The station wagon collided with her automobile, causing her serious injury and virtually ruining her automobile, she declared.

The Firemen's Insurance Company paid the plaintiff $1,010.84, the cost of repairing the automobile, the suit declared.

Husband Slain In Battle With W. Va. Policemen

Had Threatened To Kill Wife, Son

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—Gardner Allen (Pete) Darlington, 42-year-old laborer laid off last week at a factory here, was slain early today as five policemen tried to arrest him on a warrant sworn out by his wife.

State Police Cpl. W. F. Bowley said four of the officers apparently fired when Darlington pointed his gun at Douglas Dennison, Charles Town city policeman.

Either three or four shots hit Darlington. He died on the spot of a chest wound.

Bowley said he did not know who fired the fatal shot or if Darlington had fired his double barreled shotgun.

The shooting was about 1:10 a.m. in front of the Darlington house.

Several hours earlier Mrs. Darlington had sworn out a warrant charging her husband with drunk and disorderly conduct. She told Justice of the Peace J. F. Ramey her husband had abused her and threatened to kill both her and their 19-year-old son, Allen.

The warrant was turned over to city police and they asked Bowley and State Trooper Jack E. Durst to help make the arrest.

Bowley said he went to the front door and Darlington appeared with his shotgun. Bowley had Dennison plead with him to put down the gun. Bowley went in the back door of the house, hoping he could disarm Darlington.

When that failed, the officers retreated to behind their cars. Dennison was crouched behind one, Bowley said, when Darlington came around one end of it and pointed his gun toward Dennison. Dennison shouted and shots rang out.

Darlington worked until last Friday at the Victor Products Co., manufacturer of refrigerator and electrical appliances. He had been convicted several times in police court for drunkeness. Survivors include another son 5 years old and his parents.

(Cpl. Bowley, who was stationed at Keyser for a number of years and is well known in Cumberland, was transferred to Charles Town a few months ago.)

Sewer Repairs Under Way On Frederick St.

Major repairs on a 15-inch sewer line on Frederick Street at City Hall will be completed in four or five days, William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property, announced yesterday.

He said the line sagged and finally broke recently as a result of damage during the installation of a nearby flood control conduit.

The commissioner said it is believed the fill beneath the line was not tamped sufficiently during the flood job and that the ground settled, allowing the line to bow and finally break.

He said the job has been an inconvenience to the public, since it was necessary to erect barricades at Centre and Liberty streets.

Street crews are now oiling the streets around Jane Frazier Village, he said.

The oiling project is about two-thirds completed, Buchholtz said, adding areas in the South End, West Side and part of North End are still to be completed.

The commissioner said citizens still insist on spoiling the work by removing barricades before the oiled surfaces are stabilized.

Buchholtz personally supervised a Street Department crew which helped put the Cumberland Ice and Cold Storage Company back into service after a near-disastrous blaze on Frederick Street Tuesday morning.

The crews moved away up to 30 loads of brick, he said, to open the street and allow the firm to get its trucks to loading platforms.

Large Rattlesnake Killed By Youth

James Alt, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Gilbert Alt, Bowmans Addition, yesterday killed a large rattlesnake while berry-picking on Wills Mountain. The youth used a rock to subdue the large reptile.

The rattler was 38 inches long, approximately four inches in circumference, and had 12 rattles and a button.

MISS RUTH H. HIACK

Three Teaching Positions Filled In Allegany Co.

Miss Hiack Assigned To Oldtown School

Three more teaching positions in Allegany County Schools have been filled according to Ralph T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools.

Miss Ruth Helen Hiack, 211 West North Street, Butler, Pa., has been assigned to teach English at Oldtown High School this fall and will replace William Turner, this city, who has resigned to accept a teaching position in a school near Washington.

A graduate of Butler High School, Miss Hiack also graduated from Grove City College this past June, majoring in English and speech. While attending college she was editor-in-chief of the "Collegian."

She was also president of Alpha Theta Mu, senior women's honorary sorority.

In the other two assignments, Miss JoAnn Stangel, 521 Cumberland Street, has been named teacher of English at Beall High School, Frostburg, and will replace Miss Ina K. Spitznas, of Frostburg, who retired last June.

Miss Stangel graduated from Allegany High School in 1950, completed two years of study at Potomac State College, Keyser, and this past June graduated from West Virginia University, Morgantown, with a degree of bachelor of science, majoring in English and speech.

During this summer, she also did graduate work at the university.

Mrs. Elinor (Kiser) Heath, of Klosterman's Addition, LaVale, has been appointed to teach mathematics at Flintstone High School and will replace George Conway, RD 3, city, who has been transferred to Allegany High School.

Mrs. Heath graduated from Keyser High School in 1945, from Potomac State College in 1947 and received a degree of bachelor of science in education at West Virginia University in 1949. She majored in mathematics.

Her teaching experience included one year at Petersburg, (W. Va.) High School and semester at Glen Burnie Junior High School.

In commenting on the need for teachers in Allegany County schools, Rizer said there are several positions open in special fields, including music, industrial arts, and art.

Marilyn Kreider Places In National VFW Essay Contest

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4 (AP) — Sherrie Woodall of Neihart, Mont., today was named winner of the national essay contest conducted by the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting here.

An honorable mention prize of $10 went to John Ray Sleeman, Belle, W. Va.

Station Operators Purchase Property

Meril A. Phillips and John P. Kopper Jr., partners, trading as the P&K Service Station in Frostburg, have purchased property there for about $11,000, according to a deed filed for record Tuesday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property was purchased from George H. Plummer, David H. Plummer, Vera M. Plummer and Ausbee Plummer. It was described as Lot No. 9 of Eckhart Flat Addition No. 3 to Frostburg.

Surplus Food Distribution Begins Monday

Schedule Released By Commissioners

The August distribution of surplus food commodities in Allegany County will begin on Monday at Westernport.

Barton, August 10; Lonaconing, August 11; Midland, August 12; Frostburg, August 13; Eckhart, August 16; Mt. Savage, August 17; Cresaptown, August 18; and Cumberland, August 19 and 20.

The hours of distribution at the various communities, according to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor who is in charge of the program, will be from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. each day.

Some 2,492 families benefited by the food distribution during last month, Chapman pointed out, and the figure compares with a total of 2,240 families receiving food during June.

In July some 11,776 pounds of butter were distributed, as well as 8,970 pounds of cheese; 7,560 pounds of milk, 22,185 pounds of beef and gravy and 7,020 pounds of shortening.

Meanwhile, 175 have signed up to receive surplus food in September, the Salvation Army Citadel announced yesterday. Registrations are being taken at the Citadel Monday through Friday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., until August 10.

Rev. D. C. Streett Named Vicar At Holy Cross

The Reverend David C. Streett II, who recently assumed the duty of vicar of St. Philip's Episcopal Chapel, will assume the additional duty of vicar of Holy Cross Episcopal Chapel, beginning with the Office of Morning Prayer on Sunday.

Rev. Streett was appointed by the Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, D.D., Bishop of Maryland.

Rev. Streett is the son of Dr. Corbin Streett, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, and the late Mrs. Ferebe Westcott Streett, of Chestertown and Baltimore. He received his secondary education in Baltimore.

Following graduation from preparatory school he held a position with the Equitable Trust Company of Baltimore for several years. During World War II he served with the United States Navy aboard heavy cruisers of the Pacific Fleet from Guadalcanal to Okinawa, and also did top secret work in the Headquarters of the Commander-in-Chief of the United States Fleet. In addition to eight campaign ribbons, he received seven battle stars.

After his discharge from the armed forces Rev. Streett attended St. John's College in Annapolis where he took the Classics Course in the Great Books and Ideas of the Western World. Following college, he did graduate work at Nashotah House in Wisconsin, the School of Theology of the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee, and the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Va., where he graduated in June.

Rev. Streett also received special training at the Southern Rural Church Institute in Valle Crucis, N. C., and at St. Elizabeth's Mental Hospital in Washington. He was ordained to the Sacred Order of Deacons by the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Maryland on June 24 at Old St. Paul's, Baltimore.

In 1947 Rev. Streett married the former Hildegard Charlotte Volkmann, of Boston. They have two daughters, Gretchen Gabrielle and Aleta Ferebe. The Streetts are making their home in Cumberland at 517 Williams Street.

Rev. Streett stated that the new hour for services at Holy Cross Episcopal Chapel will be 9:30 a. m. Sunday, The service is planned at this time as a family service so that fathers and mothers of young children will be able to attend church together by bringing their children with them. Mr. Streett also stated that the services at St. Philip's Episcopal Chapel will continue to be at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Beglin Released From County Jail

J. Norman Beglin, 246 North Centre Street, who was arrested early Tuesday morning following a complaint that he had molested two minor girls who were living at his home, was released yesterday from the County Jail.

The oldest girl, who is 13, was given a lie detector test by Detective Grayson Winfield of the Hagerstown Police Department. The Allegany County Health Department also gave the two girls thorough physical examinations.

The State's Attorney's office here reported that both examinations established that the children were not in any way molested.

The children returned to the home of their parents in Hyndman.
